

Board Refutes Council Action

By Pat Jensen
News Editor.

The election of John Soennichsen to the Board of Managers of the Student Union was declared invalid by members of the judiciary committee of the Student Council when they met Thursday afternoon with Miss Mary Mielenz, adviser.

The special meeting was called by Ned Raun, head of the judiciary committee, to render a decision on the validity of Soennichsen's nomination at Wednesday's meeting.

Prior to the committee meeting, Soennichsen had submitted his resignation to Harold Mozer, president of the governing body. This move was unknown to the judiciary officials. Soennichsen declared in submitting his resignation, that, "he felt his nomination was unfair to other candidates and, therefore, wished to withdraw." Donna Alfrey, candidate for the office who received the fourth highest number of votes, will become the third member of the board.

Wenke's Argument.

At Wednesday's meeting Wenke moved that nominations for the Student Union Board be opened to Student Council members. In doing this, his argument was that the by-laws contained no specific clause stating the manner in which they should be amended; therefore, they could be amended by a majority vote of the Council members, which would supercede the standing election procedure of various committee members as prescribed in the Council's by-laws. This motion was passed, and Wenke nominated Soennichsen.

Correct Motion.

Raun pointed out that "although Wenke was constitutionally correct in his motion, the judiciary committee declared his nomination invalid, since Soennichsen's name was not among those submitted by the Student Union Board, and since he had not shown interest in the organization as did other candidates who filed for positions." "In effect," Raun added, "the nomination was declared invalid because of the principle involved and was unfair to candidates who had filed."

Constitution By-Laws.

Section 4 of the constitution by-laws were used as a basis for rendering the "unfair decision." This section which defines the Council's procedure in making appointments to Boards when asked to do so, and which those candidates filing had followed reads:

"The Student Council has the power of appointing delegates to certain boards. The procedure of making such appointment shall be as follows:

a. The right to apply shall be granted to all eligible students. The time and place of filing shall be adequately publicized by the official student newspaper.

b. A committee shall be created to review applicants and to make recommendations on their individual qualifications to the Student Council.

c. The Student Council, acting as a body, shall have final jurisdiction over such appointments.

Basis for Motion.

Wenke used the constitution by-laws as a basis for his motion. There is no provision in the Student Council constitution defining the amending of the by-laws, according to Raun. Robert Rules of Order are followed by the Council when no provisions are made. Raun emphasized that the by-laws may be amended at any meeting without previous notice by a majority vote of Council members.

Measures are to be taken, according to Mozer, for the judiciary committee to insure that adequate filing arrangements are made in all cases where members are to be appointed. The judiciary committee also plans to instigate measures so that each delegate has the same interpretation of the constitution.

Board Criticized.

"The Student Union Board," Raun reported, "was criticized to some extent for not adequately publicizing and stimulating student filings for the Board. However, in future years, interest in the Board will be stimulated by work in committees which will provide a basis for selection."

Members of Raun's judiciary committee are Jean Compton, Sam Warren and Ruth Peters.

Jeanne Kerrigan and Stanford Lerner were appointed to the Board of Managers Wednesday.

Orchestra, Singers Offer Sunday Concert in Union

A program of conventional program music will be offered Sunday 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom when the University orchestra and the University Singers present the final concert of the year, open without charge to the public.

According to Emanuel Wishnow, orchestra conductor, the four selections programmed were chosen for their rich orchestration and use of the full instrumentation.

The Bach "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue" makes use of all instrumental voices, while the "Perpetual Motion" by Bohm provides a solo for the entire violin section.

"The Swan of Tuonela," by the contemporary Finnish composer Jan Sibelius, will feature English Horn passages by Eugene Tedd. The prelude to Richard Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger" is considered the finest specimen in overture literature.

University Singers will perform in divided sections of men's and women's voices. A double quartet will be featured in the men's version of the Serenade from Sigmund Romberg's popular operetta, "The Student Prince."

From the American Legion auxiliary of Nebraska, $150 to support an annual scholarship for a sophomore woman student who is the daughter of a veteran of the armed forces.

Council Passes Motion, Favors Proposed Magazine

Student Council, at a regular meeting Wednesday, passed an unanimous resolution to support a magazine of the same type as the proposed Cornshucks.

The council plans to send letters to all members of the publication board expressing their full support to a magazine which will provide an outlet for creative writing in the form of humorous or serious poems, short stories or essays from university students.

Proposed by Joan Fankhauser and Jerry Johnson the purpose of the Cornshucks is to provide a stimulus for creative writing on the campus which at the present time is not provided for the student body. The plan is for a publication which would represent all campus groups from the ag and city campuses. The magazine would also feature pictorial reviews.

Reservists Can Apply for Duty

ROTC headquarters announced Wednesday that a "limited number" of air reserve officers will be placed on active duty for the 1947 fiscal year.

Officers called to duty will be required to certify that they are not members of the national guard, not drawing pension or disability allowance, compensation or retired pay, but do hold a currently effective appointment in the air reserve.

Interested rated or non-rated Air Reserve officers should see the commanding officers of the Air Training detachment to which they are assigned.

Tennis Courts Ready for Use

Concrete to Replace Clay Grounds by September 1

Campus tennis courts are now ready for play, Louis E. Means, director of student physical welfare, announced today.

"Students are urged to make as much use of our courts as possible," Means said, "for the remaining days of the semester, as a possible relaxation between examinations, and during the coming summer school sessions."

Sixteen Courts.

There are eight clay courts just east of the Coliseum, four courts at the rear of Carrie Belle Raymond hall, and four courts at the Ag college Activities building. Students are requested to wear tennis shoes on all courts.

All eight courts will be torn up at the end of the summer session this July to make way for the construction of concrete, all-weather tennis courts. The concrete courts will be ready by the opening day of school next September.

Hard-Surfacing.

With the hard-surfacing of eight tennis courts there will be available at least a minimum of courts that will be playable throughout most of the school year, Means said. He indicated that a long-time project to develop still more hard-surfaced courts was under consideration.

"Our object is to build enough courts to permit the student body unrestricted opportunity to play this fine recreational activity. More courts will also permit scheduling of many sections of physical education classes for men and women so that more students can be taught the game."

Sacrificed.

Means pointed out that tennis courts on campus have given way to progress, in the form of new classroom buildings and improvements. One by one the courts were torn up in the construction of new buildings, until this spring evacuation for Burnett Hall removed the last of five campus courts.

Range of Songs.

For her program this afternoon, she has chosen songs ranging from a Neapolitan folksong and a Gluck aria to modern numbers. Two of her own compositions are scheduled.
