Nebraska Grabs Second; Scofield Breaks Record

BY GEORGE MILLER.

There was a distinct golden tinge to the nineteenth annual Big Six track and field championships at Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon, for the Missouri Tigers, heavy premeet favorites, did what was expected and piled up 158 1/6 points to replace Kansas University on the conference throne.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers had some uneasy moments, but finally pulled out in second place ahead of the defending champion Jayhawks.

It was a Jayhawker who stole the show despite the top-heavy Missouri scoring total. Crew-cropped Tom Scofield blasted the

The springy Kansan cleared the bar at 6 feet 7 3/4 inches, the best leap of his career, to leave other contenders far behind. As a reward for his performance, Scofield See MISSOURI WINS, page 3.

Men's Dorm Applicants To Learn Status Soon

Men who applied for admittance to the newly-constructed residence halls will learn by mail late this week whether or not their applications have been accepted.

Over 200 sophomores, juniors and seniors applied for rooms in the new dorm, which will house 180 upperclassmen. All applications were then pooled and a drawing was held Friday.

Names of the 180 men drawn are not as yet available for publication, Assistant Dean W. C. Harper announced Saturday.

Men selected will have until June 7 to sign contracts for space at the dean's office.

28 Students Get Johnson Scholarships

Twenty-eight Franklin E. and Orinda M. Johnson scholarships for the 1947-48 school years have been awarded university juniors and seniors with exceptional scholastic ability. The awards are worth $100 each.

Uni Orchestra, Singers to Give Final Concert

The last musical event of the year will be presented today at 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom when the University orchestra and the University Singers are heard in a program of conventional concert music. Emanuel Wishnow will conduct the orchestra, and Arthur Westbrook and David Foltz will direct the Singers.

The men and women of University Singers will sing separately except for one selection, Percy Grainger's "Australian Up-County Folk Song" sung without words. A group of traditional British numbers, arranged by Fred Waring, including an English sea chanty, an old Scotch love melody, and an English ballad, will be sung by the women.

The men's three numbers include Rachmaninoff's fast-moving "Floods of Spring," Ernest Charles' setting of the lyric poem, "My Lady Walks in Loveliness," and Sigmund Romberg's well-known "serenade" from "The Student Prince," arranged for double-quartet and choral background.

In contrast to the modern numbers which it performed at its recent all-American concert, the orchestra will play numbers from the standard concert repertoire.

Posts on Summer Nebraskan Open

A call for reporters, news editor and assistant business managers to staff the Summer Nebraskan has been issued by George Abbott, summer editor.

Interested students should leave their names and phone numbers where they can be reached this summer in the Daily Nebraskan mail box in the Union basement.

The Summer Nebraskan will be published twice weekly. First issue will be printed June 16.

Huff, Coslor Receive Best Acting Prize

For turning in the best performances of the year in University Theatre productions, Margaret Ann Huff and Rex Coslor were awarded with individual "oscar" at the annual Nebraska Masquers banquet, held Friday night in the Lincoln hotel.

Judges

The winners were judged by a faculty board comprised by a majority of speech department instructors on a basis of one or more performances. Miss Huff's award was for her performance in "Pygmalion." Coslor received the recognition for "Angel Street" and "Pygmalion." Miss Jackson won the award on her performances in "My Sister Eileen," "Macbeth" and "Pygmalion." Hall's award was granted on the basis of his performances in "Macbeth" and "Pygmalion."

Presentation

Presented by Charles Zoeckler, theatre technical director, the Nebraska Masquers special service awards went to June Gast and Dean Graunke for their outstanding services to the theatre.

In a masking ceremony conducted by Av Bondarin, and assisted by Arlis Swanson, Max Whittaker, and Dallas Williams, four Nebraska Masquers were given the highest recognition in theatre work when they were brought into the Order of the

"Daily" Reviews Campus Activities

BY TOTTIE FIDDOCK.

What a year! The old university shifted from last year's normal running speed into high gear with an activities boom and the return of the practically extinct male animal.

First event of the year was a hectic sorority rush week which ended with 284 girls wearing shiny new ribbons and an expression of relief. . . . Fraternities did all right, too, pledging 523 men during their open season.

A record enrollment of 9,500 started things off with a bang. . . . New Chancellor R. G. Gustavson postponed the beginning of classes for two days until the capacity registration was over.

Groans and Mimi Ann.

Coeds groaned over the new point system released by AWS president Mimi Ann Johnson. . . . activity tickets went on sale. . . . the Pub Board named Merrill Shutt Grant Cornhusker editor, Phyl Teagarden Rag Grand High Mogul and George Shestak guiding light of the Awgwan.

U. N. gridmen suffered a 33-6 defeat at the hands of Minnesota's Gophers. . . . "Have You Had Your X-Ray?" became the campus password. . . . Huskerville turned out to be a boom town. . . . and the schol of journalism welcomed Dr. W. F. Swindler as its new director.

Nebraska trampled Iowa State in the first home game to the tune of 31-0. . . . Dake Novotny and Don Chapin were elected Junior and Senior class presidents, respectively. . . . the crib curtailed its dwindling chocolate supply.

Fatal Fall.

After the first issue, and many threats, the Awgwan changed hands, and fell into the lap of Walt Simon. . . . the AUF opened its fall drive aiming at a goal of $2,200. . . . and the Huskers lost again, this time to the Iowa Hawkeyes, 21-7.

Coeds cheered when the AWS announced that all Saturdays would be one o'clock nights. . . . hordes of Nebraskans migrated to Lawrence to "K.O.—K.U." and brought home a 16-14 decision for the Huskers. . . . Betty French was crowned queen at the Farmers' Formal.

The Beta Sigs and the AOPi's, using a pig and a goat for props walked off with honors in the "Who's Yer Hoosier?" contest at a rally just before Indiana pulled down a 27-7 victory over Nebraska. . . . and 16 gorgeous gals were selected as beauty queen semi-finalists.

All Was Merry.

Homecoming highlighted November. . . . Phyl Harris was presented as Pep Queen. . . . Elliott Lawrence furnished the music. . . . and all was merry in spite of the Mizzou win, 21-20. . . . Rosa Bouton Hall and the Sig

Chi's took house decoration wins with the Pi Phi's and Sig Eps winning laurels for their floats in the parade.

The Daily Nebraskan acquired an Ag Editor. . . . Nebraska beat Iowa State 33-0. . . . then lost a chance for a Big Six tie when they dropped a 27-6 decision to Oklahoma in the last game of the season.

The Kosmet Fall Revue revealed Lois Jean Swanson as Nebraska Sweetheart and Bob Martens as Prince Kosmet. . . . the ATO skit was chosen best of the eight presented.

Coeds' Delight.

Blue Car Benny became the subject of "Rag" editorials. . . . the new Ag Union had its grand opening and the TB seal campaign began. . . . Sigma Delta Chi was reorganized. . . . and basketball games were a must.

Ann Doudna took command as Honorary Colonel at the Military Ball where a capacity crowd of 5,000 danced to the music of Chuck Foster. . . . the formal season continued with the Mortar Board shindig a week later and another name band, Charlie Spivak. . . . eight eligible bachelors, Bruce Allen, Robert Keller, Jack Hill, Kenny Younger, Dwight Johnson, George Miller, Gerald Moore and Gerald Gardiner were elected by U. N. coeds and presented.

Theatre.

The University Theatre gave six productions during the year, including "My Sister Eileen" and "Angel Street." . . . Convocation speakers marked Paul Engle, T. Z. Koo and Ben Kuroki. . . . and Marian Anderson, Kehudi and Patricia Munsel were featured concert artists.

Registration for second semester was hardly over when Christmas vacation rolled around for the 10,000 enrolled for the next term. . . . Dr. Samuel I. Fuenning was appointed new student health director. . . . the Pub Board named Shirley Jenkins Rag Chief and discontinued the famous Awgwan.

Exams and black coffee became the order of the day. . . . Future Mortar Boards got into the act. . . . Shan Schnittker and Mary Esther Dunkin were elected to top offices in the YW. . . . Pris Flagg and Marianne Srb copped the presidency and vice presidency of the Home Ec Club. . . . Bernice Young was named Ag YW head.

More Queens.

Ted Sorensen became YM prexy. . . . chosen by Jon Whitcomb, the Beauty Queens, Shirley Lierk, Barbara Busch, Sheila Curran, Kay Hamm, Betty Chipman, Mini Loomis, Louise Meisbach and Pat Felger were presented at a Valentine Tea Dance.

The Interfraternity Ball was a big success. . . . coeds went all hog on the Penny Carnival and the Alpha Chi's rolled into first place with the slogan "Fortunes Here for a Bright New Year" . . . another fraternity, TKE, returned to the campus. . . . and the faculty sent a letter of affirmation urging the appointment of Lilienthal.

AWS sponsored Coed (for women only) Follies heralded the presentation of Jeanne Branch as the 1947 Typical Nebraska Coed. . . . The Alpha Phi's and Pi Phi's were acclaimed for the best skit and curtain act, with the Thetas, AOPi's and Tri Deltis taking secondary honors.

Big Deal.

Lorraine Landeryou was elected Student Foundation prexy. . . . high schools invaded the crib during the annual NHSPA convention. . . . the school of music presented the opera "Fag-gliacci."

The Red Cross aimed for $1800 as the annual drive opened. . . . women's elections revealed more future Mortar Boards when Tibby Curley took over the AWS, Mary Dye, Coed Counselors and Mary Ann Campbell the BABW. . . . a flu epidemic nearly closed school for two days. . . . and the See 'DAILY' REVIEWS, page 2.
