It Says Here

BY PAT NORDIN.

Romance blooms on the Nebraska campus this fall as one couple after another becomes pinned, engaged or hopelessly entangled—alias married.

Many of the latter mentioned are combining marriage and a university career. The Phi Gams seem to monopolize this scholarly group. Tip Tyler and Chuck Petersen stroll the campus while wives, the former Ginny Demel, Alpha Phi, and Marty Rumel, respectively, keep the home fires burning. Bill Deneke and Lois Jarman Deneke, however, are enjoying classes together.

Summer Newlyweds.

More newlyweds of the summer include Alpha Phi Shirley Peterson and Aubrey Pettit, D. U., Betty Stanton, Pi Phi and Charles Searle, Joyce Newman, Pi Phi, and Farm House Wayne Klein.

Soon to join the ranks of "Mr. and Mrs." are Marge Leese, Alpha Phi and Dick Ryman, along about September 27th. Joanie Vingers, DG and Norm Williams, Phi Psi, will take the fatal step November 27th.

The Tri Deltas are hungry for candy and expect to have some soon, now that Shan Schnittcher is wearing Fred Loeffel's Farm House pin and Marilyn Lowe is displaying a diamond from "Boots" Gardner.

Early Pinnings.

Anticipation also reigns at the DG house following the pinnings of Barb Dunn and Squeegie Ehlers, Delt and Mary Frazee and Kappa Sig Howard Purdy.

Tottie Fiddock, AOPi, and Phi Gam Ralph Stewart have also announced their pinning—as of three months ago. Sister Phyl Jones is now the steady girl of Rog Johnson, DU, two of the more conservative types.

It's old grad week at the Pi Phi house. Sally Graham, who is on vacation from Katherine Gibb's school in Chicago, is visiting this weekend, and Sue Ann Cochran will be with her, on her way home from Sun Valley, Idaho.

Bobby Sprow is a member of the Triple Deltas again this year and is renewing all her old acquaintances, especially in the crib.

Lincoln, Nebraska (DUD). A dispatch from the University of Nebraska school of journalism released Wednesday revealed election of the following officers in Sigma Delta Chi: George Miller, Papillion, president; Ralph Stewart, Alliance, vice-president; Sid Bradley, Lincoln, secretary; Bill Foshier, Omaha, treasurer.

SCREEN RETURN.

Several years ago Robert Kent had romantic leads in pictures with Shirley Temple, the Dionne Quints, Jane Withers and others. He's back before the cameras now in a featured role in Paramount's "Jungle Flight," a Pine-Thomas production.

T. Dorsey Returns To Lincoln

That "sentimental gentleman," Tommy Dorsey, who will play for a Nebraska audience in the UN coliseum Saturday night, can well be rated tops on any swing or sweet addict's list of high men on the "toot-em pole."

TD is not only famous for himself and his band, he's acquired no little acclaim for his famous alumni, which include Frank Sinatra, Jo Stafford, Dick Haymes, The Pied Pipers, Gene Krupa, Glenn Miller and Bob Crosby.

TOMMY DORSEY

The dance, sponsored by A. J. Lewandowski, director of university athletics, will be a return engagement in Lincoln for the Dorsey band, which played here early last fall.

Famous for his historic recordings of "Song of India," and "Marie," the greatest Dorsey success, probably, was the number written by a young girl and published by Tommy's own music firm, titled, "I'll Never Smile Again" which swept the country in 1940.

Proof of his popularity and success are the cold facts that he and his orchestra have rated 1-2-3 in every important band poll taken for ten years—a record nobody else can touch in this generation—and that he has made five different recordings which have sold over a million platters each.

All of this is a plenty good reason why UN students will jam the coliseum Saturday night to listen and if possible, to dance to the music they love to hear and Dorsey loves to play.

Errors in Ellie's Essay Exposed by Editorialist

BY BOB GILLAN.

A certain young lady, purporting to be Ellie Swanson, wrote an article yesterday in this hitherto reputable newspaper with the avowed intention of evaluating the new skirts lengths. This so-called Miss Swanson sets herself up, not only as an arbiter of fashions, but as an expert of the male's opinion of same. Now, we never had the reputation of being too bright, having graduated in the lower seventeenth of the class of dear, old Fagen School of Juvenile Delinquency, but the loop-holes in Miss Swanson's tirade stand out like a negative vote in the reichstag.

Take, for example, the second paragraph (if you have a strong stomach). The lady refers to the new styles as a "plague to the pocketbook." Now, we don't know what kind of pinch-penny tight-wads this Swanson person disports herself with, but this writer has seen thousands of figures that he would pay good money to hide in swaddling clothes and a full length toga.

According to the way the apparently myopic Swanson sees it "there are three kinds of figures" . . . according to the way we see it there are 1,064,260,000 kinds of figures, varying in excellence from the "Didn't I meet you in Scranton, Pa., at the Western Union delivery boy's eighth annual convention last July?" to the "Well, I came down here to get an education, I could do worse than going back to the house and hitting the books."

We don't know the attitude of the rest of the males, and we don't claim to speak for a bunch of strangers, unlike a certain other feature writer for this paper. We don't have any opinions about the length of women's skirts, but we do have a few about Miss Swanson.

Lecture Series Opens Oct. 14 At St. Paul's

A series of four Town Hall lectures will open Tuesday, October 14 at St. Paul's Church, it was announced Friday by Mrs. Ralph Ireland, lecture series ticket co-chairman.

Cecil Brown, author, correspondent and commentator will be the first of the four speakers. Mr. Brown will analyze the domestic and political situation in his topic: "Winning the Peace."

Carl Sandburg.

Pulitzer Prize winner, Carl Sandburg, is scheduled for the second lecture, on Monday, December 8.

Virginia Sale, the "One Woman Theatre," will be on hand February 2, for the third of the lectures.

The final lecture will be headed by Robert Friers, who will have with him his motion picture film "Holiday in Mexico." Mr. Friers will appear on March 1 in the auditorium of Irving Junior high school. All the other lectures are to be held at 8:00 p. m. at St. Paul's Church.

"Season tickets for the lectures will soon be available at local ticket agencies, with the proceeds going into Community welfare projects," Mrs. Ireland said.

Launch Big Six Grid Activities

Four Big Six schools will get a chance to test their wares this weekend.

Nebraska and Oklahoma, with openers still a week hence, stand idly by while Ray Evans leads his Kansas Jayhawks against Texas Christian university on Kansas City's neutral field. This should be a decided test of the strength of George Sauer's Big Six favorites.

Kansas State will go against Oklahoma A & M, Iowa State will play host to the Iowa State Teachers while the Missouri Tigers collide with St. Louis university.

How Can A Gal Be So Bored?

New York City salesgirl Edwina Muehlberger said it was shyness, not lack of interest that prompted her to look the other way when she met Frank Sinatra and Van Johnson. Blonde, eighteen-year-old Edwina was in Hollywood for a screen test awarded when she won the Peggy Sage nation-wide Raving Beauty contest. Color authority Peggy Sage searched for a raving beauty to feature her nail polish and lipstick by that name.
