

Daily Nebraskan

Vol. 48—No. 4 LINCOLN 8, NEBRASKA Tuesday, September 23, 1947

SOON TO CHANGE—This view of the lounge in the Student Union will be no more when the union beautification program is completed. A new carpet will be put in place and the furniture moved from its present place in the east part of the room.

$9,000 Facelifting in Union; Program Near Completion

An extensive "face-lifting" program totalling nearly nine thousand dollars will be completed this week in the Student Union, according to Duane Lake, union manager.

Final steps in the remodeling will include the installation of carpeting in the main lounge and new booths and tables in the Crib. The carpeting will be in place by this afternoon while the job of installing new Crib furniture will be completed by tomorrow, Lake indicated.

To Brighten Interior.

Completion of the program will brighten considerably the interior of the Union building, Lake said. The new broadloom pile carpeting will be a cheerful dawn grey. Booths for the Crib will be upholstered in bright red duratone plastic. Tables will be cream color with chrome trimmings.

The new Crib furnishings will be installed by sections with as little interruption to regular service as possible. Tables and booths will not be anchored to the floor until Thanksgiving, since this would mean closing the crib.

Other Improvements.

Installing the 473 square yards of carpet and the new furniture is only the final part of the Union's remodeling program, Lake has pointed out. Other improvements already completed this fall include redecorating of Parlors X, Y and Z, the Faculty Lounge and the Nebraskan and Cornhusker offices and reupholstering of furniture in the main lounge. All furniture in the Campusline and the employees' dining-room has been newly repainted. Corridors of the building have also been repainted with a new, washable enamel.

- Cornhusker Co-op

University Named ROTC Specialized Training Center

Along with four other midwest universities, the University of Nebraska has been named a military intelligence training center in the Fifth army area, Col. Howard J. John, ROTC head, announced.

ROTC student training is being introduced at this time as an extra curricular course for the purpose of perfecting peace time training methods, Col. Jones said.

Specialized training will include lectures in types of intelligence and operations, intelligence functional organizations and agencies; demonstrations by intelligence specialist teams, local contact with the FBI, classroom problems and field maneuvers.

Col. John stated that this is the first purely intelligence training to be introduced in the ROTC program. It will be available to selected, qualified volunteers.

Other training centers will be located at the universities of Missouri, Illinois, Wyoming and Michigan State.

YM-YW Plans Mixer Party

"Nebraska Statehood" will be the theme of halftime entertainment by the 125 piece varsity band and the student card section at Saturday's Indiana-Nebraska football game in Memorial stadium.

First of the five acts is the card section spelling out "Bernie plus Bo" while the band marches onto the field. Next the band will form the numeral "1867," the year of Nebraska statehood, while the cards flash a big red "N."

The cards will then display a large football with an "N" in the middle and the band will form "1947." Then, when the card section spells out "Hi Hoosier" and a hand of welcome, the band will make an outline map of Nebraska.

To complete the half-time festivities, band members will place their hats on the ground to form a map of Nebraska while they super impose the Indiana map over it. The accompanying cards will show a running Hoosier.

A Word of Appreciation

The Office of Admissions wishes to take this opportunity to express to all of the students on this campus, its appreciation for the splendid co-operation during the registration period. It was expected that there would be some difficulties experienced by students in connection with their registration procedures. The installation of new International Business Machines meant new procedures. A very large scale experience has shown us that there were some mistakes, or shall I say "bugs". These, I trust will be removed prior to the next registration period.

You as students have been most patient and courteous, and we want you to know that we in the administrative offices deeply appreciate that fact. We also want to express the hope that your years of experience on the campus will be your most happiest and best, and that you will have every reason to continue as loyal friends, students and alumni of your alma mater.

G. W. Rosenlof, Registrar
University Examiner, and Director of Admissions

Countryman Staff Meets

The staff of Cornhusker Countryman, official magazine publication of Ag Campus, will hold its first organizational meeting in the office located in the Ag Student Union on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Marianne Srb, editor of the magazine has requested that all members of the staff be present and also anyone else who might be interested in working on the publication this year.

Various positions are open in the editorial, business and circulation departments.

Cornhusker Countryman was revived last spring after a silence of five years forced upon it by the war. Present staff members include: Editor, Marianne Srb; Managing Editor, James Sears; Circulation Manager, Duane Munter.

Halftime Fun For UN-Hoosier Tilt Announced

A minor party will take the place of the first YM-YW joint meeting for the fall semester. Designed to acquaint new students with the organizations, the party will take place in the College Activities building, starting at 7 p. m. Tuesday night.

An evening of get-acquainted games has been planned according to Virgene Kovarik, who will be in charge of the program. The cabinets of both groups will be introduced and a short worship program with Lillian Locke in charge will conclude activities, after which refreshments will be served.

1947 Band Day Set for Next Fall

Band Day scheduled for the Oklahoma game here November 22 has been cancelled because of a conflict with the date of the annual Nebraska Music Educational convention.

The 1948 Band Day date, at which high school bands are guests, has been set for Nov. 6 when Kansas State comes here.

"The date has been set so that conflict will not prevent this annual gathering of music makers in Memorial Stadium next year," Don Lentz, university band director said.

Frosh Reception Cancelled

The Chancellor's annual reception for Freshmen students has been cancelled. The office announced this morning that due to conflicting activities there will be no opening for the reception at this time.

Farmers Formal Scheduled Oct. 3

Exec Board Plans Rustic Theme for Annual Event

Tentative plans for the annual Farmer's Formal headed the agenda for the first meeting of the Ag Exec Board Friday noon. Neal Baxter and Lillian Locke were named as co-chairmen for this year's party which will be held on Oct. 3.

Traditionally a rustic affair, the country-style ball transforms the student activities building into a scene representing outdoor life.

Change of Class Procedure Told

Tuesday and Wednesday are the last days that a student may apply for change of class or section from the assignment committee, state George W. Rosenlof, director of admissions, Monday.

Procedure should be accomplished in the following order: The student should first see his advisor and secure an add and drop slip if the request is justifiable. He should then go before the assignment committee which is now located at Grant Memorial Hall. The committee will make the final decision on all changes.

Students May Still Register In FA Groups

University Orchestra, ROTC Varsity Band, University Singers, and two sections of the University Chorus are still open to interested students, according to Dr. Arthur Westbrook, director of the School of Fine Arts.

Since the Chorus has always encouraged students from all colleges to enroll, two sections have been reopened. Section one meets at 11 a. m. Tuesday and Thursday under Dr. Westbrook. Section two meets on Tuesday at 5 and Thursday at 7:15 p. m. with Prof. David Foltz.

Students interested in either Chorus or Singers can enroll with Westbrook at his studio, 101 School of Music, any time today or Wednesday. Those interested in band should contact Don Lenz, 201 SM, and those in orchestra, Emanuel Wisnow, 210 SM. Orchestra openings are available particularly in the string, bassoon and oboe sections.

In addition to traditional drill activities at football games, the band will stage several concert performances through the year, as will the orchestra. Singers and Chorus help form the Choral Union which presents a spring oratorio and the "Messiah" at Christmas. The Singers also presents special concerts at Christmas, Palm Sunday and an opera in February.

AVC Activities Begin Wednesday

The university chapter of the American Veterans Committee will begin its 1947-1948 program of activities Wednesday evening, according to Paul Rogers, AVC chapter chairman. Opening meeting will be at 7:15 in room 316 of the Student Union.

Guest speaker will be Eugene Berman, arts and science sophomore. Berman toured Europe last summer under the sponsorship of UNESCO. He will relate his observations of Europe's progress towards social and economic recovery.

All veterans of the university are invited to attend the meeting.

Alpha Phi Omega First Meeting Tuesday

Alpha Phi Omega, national Boy Scout service fraternity, will have its first meeting Tuesday evening, according to Walt Long, president of the organization.

The meeting will take place at 7:30 p. m. in the Methodist Student house, 1417 R street.

Adelphi Tea

The fall introductory tea of Adelphi, an organization on city campus for unaffiliated women, was held Saturday in the union from two to five.

Over fifty girls signed the guest book, and enjoyed spiced tea and cookies while new and old members discussed social plans for this semester.

presenting outdoor life. The rustic mode is also carried out in the costume for the evening, blue jeans and gingham dresses. Last year's affair featured baled hay for seating purposes and corn shocks for atmosphere.

Students of Ag Campus will participate in an election on Tuesday of the dance week to determine the Farmer's Formal queen. All senior girls who have a total of 89 hours or above and an average of 80 or better will be eligible for the honor. Last year's honoree was Betty French of Auburn, Calif.

Tickets will go on sale Thursday for the dance which will feature the music of Morton Wells and his orchestra.

Other committees named for the affair include: presentation and election—Mavis Musgrave, Marianne Srb, and Frank Loeffel; publicity—Ned Raun and Charles Brim; tickets—Bob Hamilton, Duane Munter, and Marjorie Reynolds; decorations—Gwen Menon and John Oster; chaperons—Don Kellogg.

Two Members Leave Student Council Posts

Resignation from the Student Council of Jo Ackerman, senior holdover member and secretary of the council, and Jane McArthur, junior member from the college of arts and science, was announced Monday by Harold Mozer, 1947-48 Council president.

Both former members submitted resignations at the final spring meeting of the council following notice from the AWS Board that they were over-pointed.

Miss Ackerman retains her position as editor of the Cornhusker. Similarly, Miss McArthur is now a managing editor of the Cornhusker and a member of the AWS Board.

Under current regulations of the women's point activity system both women had to give up one of their offices. The AWS Board allows women students the following activity combinations: One A and one C, two B and one C, one B and two C, or three C.

'Daily' Society Filings Open Till Wednesday

All students interested in filling the position of society editor on the Daily Nebraskan are asked to file applications in the office of the school of journalism by Wednesday, Sept. 24, it was announced Monday by Duke Novotny, Daily editor.

Application blanks may be obtained in the school of journalism office. The Publications Board will meet this week to interview applicants for the position, according to Dr. W. E. Swindler, director of the journalism school.

The position was left open when the former society editor, Tattie Eldredge, was appointed to fill the news editorship left vacant by Gene Jensen, who did not return to school.

Novotny has also issued another call for reporters to work on the Nebraskan. Anyone interested should contact Duke Novotny, Editor, or George Miller and Jack Hill, managing editors at the Daily office in the union basement after 1:30 every day.

Regular reporters will be paid monthly on an inch-rate basis.

Yearbook Space

Campus organizations, societies and clubs who want representation in the 1948 Cornhusker should report to Jo Ackerman, yearbook editor, at once, Miss Ackerman said Monday.
