Lincoln Fine Arts Series Features Seven Performances

The Lincoln Fine Arts series will begin Thursday, Oct. 23, at the Lincoln high auditorium with the S. Hurok presentation of the Don Cossack chorus, conducted by Serge Jaroff. Also included in the series are six performances. Federico Rey

Constitution Amendments Get Hearing

Approval of the revisions in the Student Council constitution submitted to the faculty committee on student organizations after the general elections in the spring has been withheld until further hearings can be held on the proposed change in membership of the council judiciary committee.

In a letter to Ned Raun, council judiciary committee chairman, Dean Marjorie Johnston, secretary of the faculty committee, stated: "At the meeting on July 2, 1947, the revisions were presented for approval.

"After considerable discussion the committee voted to ask the Student Council to give an explanation of these two points: (1) the increase to eight members of the judiciary committee and (2) three inexperienced junior members on the judiciary committee.

Revisions Tabled

Interviewed Monday, Dean Johnston stated that all revisions to the council constitution had been tabled at the July meeting pending the hearing on the revisions to Article VIII changing the organization of the judiciary committee.

Harold Mozer, president of the Student Council, and Ned Raun, chairman of its judiciary committee, in their reply to Dean Johnston Monday stated the council's position:

"The Judiciary Committee was enlarged and reorganized in order to give a broader representation of the Council members on the committee.

"... three junior members were added to give them experience for possible service on next year's Committee."

Harold Mozer, Student Council president, stated that this delay in approval of the revisions to the constitution does not effect the changes in the by-laws moving the fall general election from the third to the ninth Tuesday of the semester.

and Lolita Gomez will give their interpretations of the rhythms of Spain on Saturday, Nov. 15. Guimomar Novaes, "the world's foremost woman pianist," will return to Lincoln Thursday, Dec. 4.

On Tuesday, Dec. 9, Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin feature famous ballets with string orchestra. Ramon Viany, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Co., will appear here Thursday, Jan. 21.

Isaac Stern, who recorded the violin music in "Humoresque," comes to Lincoln on Thursday, Febr. 19, and Norena Greco, soprano from the Metropolitan, will finish the series on Monday, March 29.

All performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. The series will be managed by Philip J. Mullin, new concert manager.

The Eyes Have It

By Jeanne Kerrigan

Book store notes... the thrifty freshman art student who asked for five different colors of paint and then wouldn't buy them because they came in separate bottles... Also, the inquiring soul who entered the Co-op bookstore on the campus and asked the clerk if he sold books there. When reassured, she had to know if the store carried any books connected with the university.

Hour dance observation... fraternity member to his dance partner, "I'd sure like to introduce you to that fellow over there, but I don't know who he is and it might be embarrassing if he turned out to be president of the house or something."

Famous names and people department... Innocents prexy Stan Johnson was overheard rather sheepishly asking a fellow Innocent when their group was scheduled to sell freshman beanies... the latter, being equally puzzled on the matter turned to an energetic RAG reporter who supplied the necessary info.

Campus scene... two of the more industrious students dashing out, unobserved they thought; for the nearest cup of coffee while their class was changing rooms.

Rush week hangover... the little tale about the frat prexy who traveled over to see the head of a neighbor group when that group was entertaining rushees... it seems that a departing guest dashed up to the wrong president, grabbed his hand and fervently exclaimed how much he liked the house, the men in it and how much he would like to come back... controlling his mirth, the W. P. thanked the guest, returned the handshake warmly and ushered him out the door.

Glancing through the University's intramural athletics handbook, we note the startling fact that Sigma Nu won the soft ball championship in 1838... some 31 years before the University of Nebraska was founded... amazing, men, these Sigma Nu's.

Another IM handbook tabulation shows that Jim "Squat" Meyers set a pole vault record of 55 feet, one inch... maybe he was jet-propelled?

Suggestion of the week... that about half the mob of students struggling to enter and leave Sosh by the north door between classes try the entrance on the west side of the building... it works too.

CRIB NOTES

by B. J. Holcomb

And so four days are scratched from the calendar and the campus settles down to a funfull perhaps studyless semester... seen in the Crib are the usual collections of friends seeing friends for the first time since before the war... or the first time since high school, all of three months away... male Cribbers keep noting the long, long apparel covering the feminine anatomies with increased dismay... seems the majority of the male sentiment agrees with University Theatre Director Dallas Williams when he says, "A good speech is like a woman's skirt; long enough to cover the subject but short enough to be interesting."

Cribnoters are also taking note of the Harvey Brothers "Cornhusker Tour" Drawing registration... a great many smart campusmen have already registered for their chance at winning a free tour ticket to the first Notre Dame game since 1925... and it's all so easy and painless... simply walk down to 1230 O Street, the headquarters for the best-dressed men on campus, present your ident card and fill out registration cards... that's what we said, it's so easy and painless... ABSOLUTELY NO PURCHASE IS NECESSARY TO BE ELIGIBLE TO REGISTER! THIS IS NOT A CONTEST! The two lucky winners will have their names drawn at the Tassel-Cob Rally, October 10 and will each receive one round trip tour ticket... REGISTER TODAY! YOU MAY BE THE LUCKY ONE!

"LOVE THAT JOKE" NOTE... comes from Fritz Daly, amiable Alumni Secretary, who tells the joke about an American and Englishman driving down a road in England. Upon seeing the sign, "15 miles to London. For those who cannot read inquire at Blacksmith Shop across the street." the American bursts into laughter. A trifle perplexed, the Englishman finally shouts, "Oh, I get it! What if the blacksmith isn't in?"
