Pep Squad Asks Student Support

Saturday the 1947 Cornhusker team will take the field for the first time.

The Huskers open against highly-touted, heavily-praised Indiana. But Nebraska teams have never been beaten by discouraging press notices. And they won't be tomorrow! This squad is ready to play football. And they'll play a lot of it before the result goes into the records!

The only question is — how much support will they get from those east stands while they fight? Will these '47 Huskers make their effort for a "fair weather" crowd? Or will they get the sort of inspiring support that made past Husker teams unbeatable on Memorial Stadium soil?

Can Be Done

Will you give them the kind of helping hand that led other Nebraska teams to "impossible" feats and upsets? We think you will! We think Nebraska spirit has never been higher! No one has illusions about the task. But no one will admit it CAN'T be done!

Ordinarily, you get a chance to show your colors at an opening rally. But Friday is All-University Church night. For this reason no football rally can be held before kick-off tomorrow.

But that doesn't mean you'll have no chance to let the team know just where you stand! The rally is, after all, only a preliminary. You don't need that to fan your spirit and enthusiasm! We think it's strong enough to stand alone!

Fight, Huskers!

When the Cornhusker players first come on the field, we think they'll be greeted with a reception that will leave no doubt. We think that famous Cornhusker spirit will roll out of those east stands all afternoon! We think it will be so genuine that every man on the field will feel its contagion!

The stadium will show Nebraska's spirit. Cornhuskers will be out in full color—red sweaters and skirts, red feathers and chrysanthemums. Cornhusker yells will shake those east stands. When the going gets rough, Huskers will dig in with plenty of vocal backing.

Anyone can sit in the stands and cheer touchdowns. It takes that famous Husker spirit to show which side you're on when the going gets tough.

How about it? Are you a Cornhusker?

Vets Committee Hears Berman

"United States press is not presenting European issues accurately," Eugene Berman, who just completed a UNESCO sponsored tour of Europe, told the American veterans committee at a meeting Wednesday.

European university students are ahead of American students in recognizing the importance of world affairs, according to Berman.

He also commented that European G.I.'s participate in politics in existing parties rather than through veteran organizations.

AVC's adopted a resolution commending the University and Lincoln veterans administration offices for their efforts in assisting university veterans during the previous academic year.

New members are Rollin D. Craig, Dexter E. Schleusener, Roman D. Hansen, and Lowell Fredrickson.

Huskers Ready For Indiana '11'

BY RALPH STEWART
(Daily Nebraskan Sports Editor)

When toe meets leather at 2:00 p. m. in Nebraska's Memorial Stadium Saturday, the curtain will be officially opened on the Huskers' 1947 grid campaign.

Coach Bernie Masterson, hopeful of stopping the winning ways of Bo McMillin's Indian Hoosiers, has put his Scarlet and Cream footballers through a gruelling week of practice in preparation for the season's inaugural.

Fearful of injuries prior to the initial test, Masterson has removed contact work from his practice routine this week. Instead the "T" master has drilled his backs on pass defense and his linemen on blocking assignments.

Although the touted Ben Raimondi, who heaved the Hoosiers to a 27-7 decision over the Huskers in Memorial Stadium last year, is not in McMillin's backfield, Nebraska still respects the Indianan's air game. With such pass grabbers as Lou Mihajlovich and Bob Ravensberg on hand, the Nebraska backfield will be covering every corner of the stadium turf to shackle the Hoosier's overhead attack.

Taliaferro Back

But the airways will by no means constitute the only serious Indiana threat. With George Taliaferro, sensational freshman star in 1945, back in the Hoosier camp after a hitch in the service, Nebraska's burly forwards will get a supreme testing.

Masterson and company will be counting on the slippery running of Cletus Fischer and the break-away dashing of Dick Hutton to skip around the Hoosier forward wall. Dale Adams will be counted on to test the strength of the middle of McMillin's line.

Should the Husker's "T" sputter on the ground, Masterson may surprise with a strong aerial attack. Little Del Wiegand has been grooming his right arm all week and may be filling the air with pigskins more than the Hoosiers may like. Joe Partington will also be counted on to toss the leather

Post Game Jamboree Scheduled

A "football jamboree" in the Union immediately after the Indiana grid game will begin a series of juke-box parties which will be held after every home football tussle.

Whether Nebraska wins or loses Friday, the Corn Cobs and Tassels, headed by the Yell King, will lead the student body to the Union for dancing and refreshments. The impromptu parade will proceed down 12th street to R.

These jamborees will be held after every home game except Homecoming. The parties will last from 4:30 p. m. to 7: p. m.

Duane Lake, Union director, also announced a series of dancing classes every Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the ball room. After the first meeting, men and women will be split up into two groups by the instructor, Donna McCandless. A party later this fall will conclude the series.

"Coffee Hour"

Lake said the traditional "coffee hour" will begin Sunday from 5 to 6 p. m. in the lounge. Coffee and brownies will be served free and incidental music will be played.

The weekly variety show Sunday evening will feature a showing of the movie, "Quiet Please, Murder." Starting time is 7:30 p. m.
