Farm House Skit Awarded Honors at Coll-Agri Fun

By Keith Frederickson

"Pumpkin Bill Grammar School Graduation," a skit presented by the Farm House fraternity, won the sixteenth annual showing of Coll-Agri-Fun at the College activities Building on Ag Campus Saturday night. The Shooting of Dan McGrew, by the Alpha Gamma Rho, was second. Judges, Paul Gogen, Dale Ganz, and Logging, announced the decision shortly after the conclusion of the last number of the program.

In the curtain act division, "The Bridge Club," presented by the YMCA, was judged outstanding over a field of eight entries. Amikitas received second place with their rendition of Hay Seed Rhythm. Competition was extremely keen in this department and several performances vied for top honors.

The winning skit was a takeoff on rural education with the setting in a backwoods grammar school on graduation day. Berl Damkroger acted the part of the matronly school teacher. Several numbers by a quartet of pupils displayed school spirit, and kept the show moving with schoolboy pranks befitting a country school.

Wild and woolly Northwest was the theme of the second place skit, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," by the AGR fraternity. Action centered around a bogus U.N.O. convention held in the north woods. Doug Hemingway portrayed our neighbors, the Russians, very well by vetoing every thing proposed by the conference. Dan McGrew, the villain, turned out to be a five foot character seemingly packed with vitamin pills.

A capacity crowd witnessed the variety of acts and comedy presented for their entertainment. Stan Hayworth, as master of ceremonies kept things moving at a lively pace with his jokes and comments on the individual performances.

Campus gossip over a ladies bridge table featured the YMCA's winning curtain act. The ladies also put on a very interesting demonstration of a chorus line. A

Alaska Ready For Statehood, Gruening Says

Alaska's governor, Ernest Gruening, characterized Alaska as the most misunderstood and consequently the most undeveloped part of the continent when he spoke to a capacity crowd at the first university convocation of the year in the Union ballroom Friday afternoon.

Statehood for Alaska is the only solution to that territory's problems, according to Gruening, who was appointed governor eight years ago by the interior department.

Because Alaska has very few modern roads, most of the inhabitants depend largely on air travel for transportation, the governor said. One of the northern territory's greatest needs is roads, but it has never been able to get a sufficient share of the federal road funds to facilitate this project.

Altho Alaska's normal winter climate is more temperate than that of the northern United States most people think of it as a land of continual ice and snow. Its climate ranges from relative warmth in the coastal area to the very cold northern part which lies in the Arctic circle.

Farm House Joins 100% AUF Ranks

Recently announced as holder of first place in men's houses scholastic standing, Farm House fraternity took another first place among fraternities when they voted to give a 100% support to the All University Fund drive.

The announcement that the Farm House men would each contribute two dollars to the drive came from Clyde Maddocks, fraternity president.

Another women's house to vote 100% for the drive is Alpha Chi Omega, according to Betty Bloss. Miss Bloss reported that Alpha Chi Omega has supported the AUF drives 100% many times before.

The goal of the All University Fund drive to be held from November 3 to 8 is $13,200. The money raised will go to the World Student Service Fund and the Community Chest.

If a minimum of $5,400 is raised, $2,700 will be sent directly to Greece to support Moni Pendeli, a rest camp for Greek women students. This special project was voted on by the AUF planning committee as the one which the University of Nebraska would undertake.

Ag Union Resumes Coffee Hours

Coffee hours have been resumed at the Ag Union, according to Alice Mathauser, director, of the Ag branch. The coffee hours are held from five to six p. m. on Sunday afternoon in the lounge of the Union.

Free coffee and brownies are served, and a pianist has been engaged to play request numbers for the hour. Although arrangements are as yet incomplete, movies will add to the afternoon's entertainment at a later date to parallel the program offered at the main union.

Migration Ticket Sales Continue Until Wednesday

Sale of Missouri migration tickets has been extended to Wednesday, Oct. 29, according to Frank Loeffel, migration committee chairman.

Deadline for sales was originally set for Friday, Oct. 24. Tickets sell for $20 each, which includes rail fare and game ticket.

Traveling to Missouri for the migration will be the university 120 piece ROTC band which will march on the football field there.

The Honorary Colonel will be selected at an all-campus election Tuesday, Oct. 28.

2 Late Scores Stop KS, 14-7

After being held scoreless for the first half, the Cornhuskers came back strong late in the third period to annex their second Big Six victory, 14-7, over Kansas State. The Scarlet crew ruined the Wildcat's homecoming celebration, but were extended to the limit to do it. Only penalties and unfortunate Nebraska fumbles saved the purple clad Kansas State team from being soundly trounced.

Two Husker TD's Called Back.

Two Nebraska touchdowns were called back because of penalties, one a 56 yard punt return by Jim Myers in the second quarter. The officials ruled a tripping penalty against Tom Novak while the punt was still in the air, giving the ball back to the Wildcats on their 35 yard line.

Kansas State's opening kick-off was returned by Dick Hutton to the Husker 19. A penalty nullified a first down for Nebraska, and Pesek had to punt on fourth down. The Wildcats could not do anything with the ball, so they punted right back to the Nebraska 35. Bill Mueller fumbled the ball on the second play from scrimmage, and Kansas State took over, 30 yard from pay dirt.

Partington Intercepts.

Big Mike Zeleznak cracked down to the 20, and Bill Church whipped a pass to the ten for a first down. After Bryan failed again through the line, Church faded to pass again. This time little Joe Partington leaped up and snagged the ball in the end zone for a touchback, and the Huskers took over on their 20.

A fumble by Darwin Sales from on the 22 set up the Aggies, but again they were unequal to the situation. Charlie Toogood recovered a Zeleznak fumble on the twelve.

The game see-sawed the rest of the quarter, with Nebraska backs time and again making desperate tackles to ward off what seemed to be sure big gains for the Kansas team.

Pesek Boots Long One.

A long, low spiraling punt by Jack Pesek that travelled 61 yards set the Wildcats back to their 30, from where they were soon forced to punt. Dick Hutton, the Auburn speedster, returned to the 48 of Nebraska and the Huskers began their first long drive for the goal.

A Dick Thompson-Alex Cochran pass put the ball on Kansas State's 36 for a first and ten. Myers and Dale Adams drove to the seven on three plays with the line opening nice holes for the runners. From there, Thompson bulletted one to Cochran for what looked like a TD, but Nebraska

Chancellor To Discuss AUF Drive

Speaking before a student body convocation for the first time this year, Chancellor R. G. Gustavson will talk in behalf of the World Student Service fund in connection with the current AUF drive at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Union ballroom.

The chancellor will discuss the needs of destitute students in foreign countries wrecked by the war.

No Dismissal.

Although classes are not being dismissed for the convocation, if a majority of students request it, classes will be dismissed, according to AUF director Beth Noerberg.

Purpose of the All University Fund drive is to raise money on the campus for the community chest and the world student service fund. The goal for this year's World Student Relief Fund is $2,000,000 of which $1,000,000 is to be raised in the United States through the WSSF.

Goal.

The AUF planning committee on the Nebraska campus has set the goal of obtaining $2 from every student this year.

Student relief funds not only aid destitute students in foreign countries but give help to professors in the universities by furnishing supplies and providing rest camps.

Lugn Selected Uni Vet Advisor

Professor Alvin L. Lugn has been appointed full time advisor for the Uni Vets to succeed Dr. Ralph C. Bedell.

Dr. Bedell resigned from the position after assuming additional faculty duties.

The veterans' organization has made tentative plans for a rifle team and a bowling team. Members who are interested may obtain information in room 209 of Nebraska Hall.

"Joan of Lorraine" To Open Wednesday

Less than a year ago, Ingrid Bergman made her initial U. S. stage appearance in Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine."

On the same date that the play opens in Washington, D. C., it will begin the University Theatre season at 8 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 29, in the Temple theater.

Anderson's play is centered about a New York stage rehearsal of a drama which tells the life story of Joan of Arc. The real substance of the plot is the controversy between the director and Mary Grey, the actress playing Joan, as to the way her part should be played.

Director, Actress Disagree.

Masters, the director, believes that Joan would have made compromises to achieve her ultimate goal, whereas Mary firmly believes that Joan would make no bargains at the expense of her convictions.

Mrs. Rita Shaw will play the part of Mary Grey, the actress. Don Johannes will be seen as Masters, the director.

The secondary leads of Abbey and Dauphin will be played by Abe Katz and Dewey Ganzel.

Several observers who have been present for rehearsals expressed their belief that "Joan" is one of the finest University Theatre productions to be presented in the past several seasons.

Students who hold season tickets are urged to go to the University Theatre box office Monday afternoon to make seat reservations for the big production. If they wish students may make seat reservations for the entire year.

The box office will be open in the Temple from 12:30 to 5:30 daily this week.
