

Huskers See KU Plays in Action

Hoping for a better performance Saturday against the Kansas Jayhawks, Coach Bernie Masterson whipped his Scarlet and Cream charges through brisk drills Tuesday night on the windswept practice confines of Memorial stadium.

Third string varsity members ran from KU formations in a rough-dummy scrimmage against the number one and two elevens as the Huskers prepped to stop Ray Evans & Co.

Husker Backfield Mentor Dougal Russell, who scouted the Jayhawks as they romped over Kansas State, 55-0, warned Scarlet defenders of the prowess of the KU spark. Nebraska holds high respect for the grid talents of the husky Kansas halfback, who led the Big Six conference last year in pass offense and ranked second in individual rushing.

Review Plays.

Play reviews shared top billing on Tuesday's workout docket.

Nebraska spirit behind the urging of Capt. Tom Novak, has maintained a high level in spite of Saturday's losing exhibition to Missouri's Tigers.

Return of Ralph Damkroger to his left wing post has added another spark to the Huskers' hopes for an upset.

Myers, Jacupke Up.

Damkroger teamed with Jack Pesek at the ends, Charlie Toogood and All-Big Six Carl Samuelson ran at the tackles, Fred Lorenz and Gerald Jacupke, elevated to the first team by virtue of his scrappy reserve performances, were at the guards and Novak was at center with the No. 1 line Tuesday.

In the backfield Dick Thompson, still hobbling with a bad leg, was directing from the quarterback slot, Dale Adams was running from his fullback position, Cletus Fischer and Jim Myers, also boosted to a first team spot in recognition of his hard-running tactics in reserve performances, were at the halfback spots.

Dick Hutton and Junior Collopy, who is slated for considerable defensive line-backing duty, were alternating at halfback with the first unit.

The Jayhawkers' passing attack looms a certain threat to the Scarlet defense in Saturday's Homecoming battle at Memorial Stadium.

Jacupke, Myers to N.U. First Team

Jerry Jacupe and Jim Myers were promoted to the Husker first team this week by Head Coach Bernie Masterson in an effort to bolster the fading Nebraska grid-iron hopes. Jacupe replaced Gene Wilkins at right guard and Myers moved into the left half assignment in place of Dick Hutton.

Myers, who has been one of the most consistent ground gainers on the squad also holds a perfect passing record for the year having completed his only pass of the year.
