

Huskerville Convo Tonight Has Hutchins as Speaker

Packard to Address YM-YW at Meeting In Home Ec Parlors, 7:30 P. M. Tuesday

The Religion In Life Week convocation for students at Huskerville will be held tonight at 7:30 and will feature Dr. William J. Hutchins, president of Danforth Foundation, Inc.

The joint Ag YM-YW convocation will hear Miss Ruth Packard, regional director of the national student YWCA, at their convocation tonight.

Beyond his affiliations with the Danforth Foundation, Dr. Hutchins is ex-president of Berea and holds degrees from Oberlin College, Yale University, Oberlin Theological Seminary, and the University of Chicago. Dr. Hutchins is the father of Robert M. Hutchins, president of Chicago University. Hutchins will be the featured speaker at the Faculty Luncheon at noon today and will also participate in the Radio Forum of the Air at 3:00 this afternoon. The topic of the panel discussion will be "Has Religion a Solution for the World's Problems?" Other members of the panel are Dr. Julian Hartt, professor of theology and philosophy of Religion at Yale University, Dr. John O'Brien, professor of philosophy at Notre Dame University, and Dr. Abraham Cronbach, professor of philosophy at the Hebrew Seminary, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Moderator of the Forum will be the Rev. Gordon L. Lippett, executive advisor of Religion in Life Week.

DR. HUTCHINS.

Miss Packard received her masters degree at the University of Chicago after graduating from Morningside College and has spent the last five travelling in China. She did graduate work at Columbia University and the New York School of Social Work and has made a special study of the Chinese Student Movement.

In connection with her duties as regional director of the student YWCA, Miss Packard was present at the YM-YW Regional conference held at Camp Brewster earlier this fall.

The Ag convocation will begin at 7:30 and be held in the parlor of the Home Economics building.

Denominational group meetings will also be held tonight as in conjunction with Religion In Life Week.

The noon discussion group held in the lounge of the YMCA will have Dr. Julian Hartt as speaker. All students are invited and should bring their lunches or sign up for lunch in the YM office before 10:30 a. m. The opening convocation Sunday evening proved Hartt to be a provocative speaker and he was enthusiastically received by those in attendance.

Personal conferences with any of the speakers can be arranged either by making an appointment on the appointment sheet in the Union or by seeing your student pastor. As interest in the seminars grows questions will arise and since "the idea of this week is not pack religious living into three days but rather to learn, just as we learn in class lectures, information that will be of use to us later in our major fields of intellectual interest each student is urged to take advantage of talking to some of the outstanding religious leaders of our time. Conferences can be arranged any time between 1:30 and 3:30.

DR. CRONBACH.

Seminars are held from 4:00 to 5:00. Schedules of these seminars can be obtained at Ellen Smith, the YM office in the Teemple building, or at the scheduling table in the Union. Students are also urged to take advantage of the book display on the second floor of the Union. Much of the material suggested by the leaders can be found there.

Faulkner to Talk At Charm School

First in a series of Coed Counselor sponsored Charm School programs will be held tonight at Ellen Smith Hall from 7 to 8:00.

Mrs. E. J. Faulkner will be program speaker and will talk on "Attributes of a Charming Personality." Charm school is held every Tuesday alternating with a book review series which is also sponsored by the Coed Counselors.

Jeanne Branch is charm school chairman and Nancy Gish has charge of the book review section.

1947-48 PEP QUEEN Phyl Harris rides west on O street during the Homecoming parade Saturday morning. Miss Harris' float is preceded by the UN band, which also performed at the rally Friday night and the big game Saturday afternoon.

Band Contest First Clues Told Today

Contest Winners Get Tux, Formal

First two clues in the ROTC-sponsored contest to guess the name of the band that will play at the Military Ball Dec. 5 were released by Cadet Captain Tom Brownlee, Military Ball publicity chairman.

Clew 1. The band leader was born in New England. Key slogan: Remember the 5th of December.

Clew 2. His band used to be famous for jive and swing numbers, but now conforming to the popular trend, he specializes in ballads and love songs. Key slogan: All Nebraska will be there.

Contestants must guess the name of the famous band that will play for the Military Ball, and work out a slogan for the Ball. All information will be hidden in the clues that will be published every day this week by The Daily Nebraskan, by The Lincoln Newspapers and broadcast over local radio stations.

Object of the slogan contest is to pick the one key word in each of the five daily slogans, so that on Friday a new five-word slogan, advertising the Military Ball, is formed.

Prizes to the couple with the first correct guess of both the band and the Military Ball slogan will be a brand new tux from Magee's and a new formal evening gown from Hovland-Swanson's. Entries should be mailed to the "Guess The Band Contest, Military Department, University of Nebraska."

Following is a list of times and stations when daily clues contest will be broadcast:

- Tuesday—2:45 p. m., U in Review—KOLN.
- Wednesday—2:45 p. m., Hints to Homemakers—KOLN.
- Thursday—2:45 p. m., Mid-Country—KOLN.
- Thursday—9:30 p. m., Authors of the Ages—KFOR.
- Friday—2:45 p. m., Husker Highlights—KOLN.

Contest rules as released by the cadet officers:

1. Contest is open to all students of the university except members and families of the Cadet Officers association, and the staff of the military department.
2. Entries must be postmarked on or before midnight Sunday, Nov. 16. Earliest correct entry will win.
3. Only one entry may be submitted by each couple.
4. Judges' decision will be final.

KK Announces House Nominees

Students to Pick Prince Kosmet, UN Sweetheart

Names of nominees for Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet were announced Monday afternoon by Dick Lahr, president of Kosmet Klub, university dramatic society.

Each organized house on the campus was eligible to pick a candidate for one of the two positions. From the two groups, six finalists will be picked to be voted on by the student body at the Kosmet Klub Fall Revue, to be held this year Friday evening, Nov. 21.

Six Finalists

Innocents society will select the six coed finalists at a special gathering at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house, 1433 R, at 5 p. m. this evening. All nominees will meet there in "date dresses," and the six will be picked then. The Mortar Boards will name the six male finalists at a meeting later at a date and place unspecified. In both cases, the finalists will not be announced until the day of the review.

Nominees

The nominees: PRINCE KOSMET; Glen Blinde, Curly Elward, Ted Gunderson, Lee Harris, Jack Hill, Bob Keller, John McDermott, Bill Mickle, Bill Moomey, Bill Rolfmeyer, Bob Schleiger, Jack Selzer, Duke Shumow, Ed Trumble, Bill Tyson, and Hoyt Wells. NEBRASKA SWEETHEART; Donna Alfrey, Jaet Bohl, Marge Cherny, Elva Cobb, Joan Fankhauser, John Farrar, Jackie Gordon, Jean Jensen, Beryl Lostpeich, Nancy Mines, Harriet Quinn, Torchy Rediger, Jo Srb, Ardis Stava, Mims Weeth, Jody Wolcott, and Lorraine Zahn.

Last year's winners were Bob Martes, ATO, and Lois Swanson.

Swift Awards Chicago Trip To Bob Meade

A sophomore at the Ag college, Robert Meade of Tecumseh was named Saturday as the winner in the 1947 Swift and Company essay contest. Carl Schmadeke, Albion junior, received the second place award.

The subject of Meade's prize winning essay was "Specialization in Industry," and he discussed the broad expansion of the meat packing industry throughout its history.

Essays for competition must discuss methods employed by the meat-packing industry in the marketing of meats, eggs, butter and cheese.

The Swift contest is an annual affair, open to all students enrolled in state agricultural colleges. The winner in each state is awarded an all-expense trip to the International Livestock Exposition held in Chicago the first week of December.

While in Chicago, Meade will attend a four-day market study outlined by Swift and Company, in addition to the program offered by the Exposition.

YW Schedules French Movie

"Heart of Paris," a French film, will be shown Friday, November 14, as the second foreign film of the season to be presented by the university YMCA. The movie will be held in the Temple Theatre at 8 p. m.

This film stars Raimu and Michele Morgan, well known to American audiences. Raimu plays the part of a bicycle shopkeeper who, while serving on a jury, takes pity on the lovely defendant on trial, wins her acquittal and then gives her a home.

Tickets, which sell for fifty cents, may be secured from YM members, at the YM office and Ellen Smith hall, or at the box office the night of the performance.

Explorer Will Give All-Uni Convo Speech

Viljalmur Stefansson, outstanding Arctic explorer and expert on the importance of the Arctic in world affairs today, has been selected as the next speaker in the convocation series. Stefansson will address an all-university convocation in the Union ballroom Friday afternoon at 2.

Provocatively titled "Not By Bread Alone," the explorer's talk will be an exposition of the active, and often unsuspected, role of the Arctic in our modern world, according to Professor Karl Arndt, chairman of the convocation committee.

An outstanding scientist, writer and lecturer, Stefansson is an authority on the Polar regions, having been dubbed "the great interpreter of the North." Recognition from his fellow scientists can be demonstrated by the fact that he is the only explorer twice elected president of the Explorer's Club.

Stefansson possesses the world's most comprehensive privately-owned library of polar material. For his explorations, articles and eighteen published books, he has received medals from seven geographical societies of the world and honorary doctorates from seven universities.

Five Speak At Separate Convocations

Five of the guest speakers on campus for "Religion in Life Week" will speak at special convocations in their own churches Tuesday night. This night has been set aside for the visitors to become acquainted with their respective groups in Lincoln.

Dr. J. O. Nelson, director of Christian Education of the Nebraska Baptist State convention will speak at the Baptist Student center at the dinner program which will begin at 6:00 tonight.

The Christian Student fellowship will hold their fellowship meeting at 7:30 at the Cotner House, 1237 R street. Dr. Paul Becker will speak on "The History and Origin of the Disciples of Christ." There will be no "Friendly" this Wednesday in order not to interfere with Religion In Life week seminars.

The Hillel group will feature an all denominational meeting tonight at 7:30 in room 315 of the Union. Dr. Abraham Cronbach, professor of Social studies at Hebrew Union College will make the address.

Dr. Ruth Wick, associate executive, Student Service commission of the National Lutheran council will be the speaker at the L.S.A. banquet to be held tonight in parlors ABC of the Union. James Hansen will act as toastmaster.

The Presbyterian denominational banquet will be held tonight at the Second Presbyterian Church, 2601 P street and will begin at 6:15. The featured speaker will be Dr. John Patton, director of Westminster Foundation at the University of Kansas. His topic will be "New Life for Presbyterians." Tickets are available at the Presbyterian Student house.

Can 1,700 Students Be Wrong?