

DeBolt's Nubbins Set Ft. Riley Battle Friday

BY LEE HARRIS.

The University of Nebraska's B team will wade into the Ft. Riley Centaurs Friday at Memorial stadium at 3:00 with the hopes of preserving their perfect record held over from last year and the one game played this year.

The Nubbins knocked off the Ft. Riley boys in an earlier contest this year by a 12-7 count in a game played in Kansas.

In their initial game of the season the Husker B squad was led by little Russ Hale, 141 pound quarterback, who ran and passed the Nebraskans to an inspiring win over the big soldier crew.

The centaurs will bring some of Army's outstanding war-time football greats with them when they make their trip to Lincoln this Friday. Leading the list is Hershel 'Ug' Fusion, West Point's 240 pound center for three years, who was picked on the second All-American team in 1945.

Hefty Tackles

Another bright spot in the Centaur line is 198-pound tackle Shelton Biles who has to his credit three years of play at the Point and also an honorable mention on the All-American football selection of 1946.

The Ft. Riley offensive punch comes in the form of William 'Woo' West, 190-pound ex-West Point fullback. West lettered one year at Dartmouth before entering the academy at West Point. He played on the Eastern All-Star eleven in 1947 and was voted the most valuable player on the team. He is the man Coach Ray DeBolt's charges will have to watch out for Friday.

Adding to the Centaur wealth of material is Harold Tavzel, two-year letter man at West Point during the war who now teams with Biles to hold down the regular tackle position for Ft. Riley. Tavzel is another heavyweight scaling in at 203.

As for Ray DeBolt's Nubbins they have been scrimmaging with the freshman team this week and should be ready to roll Friday afternoon.

Leading the Nubbins will be Harry Maginnis who teamed with Raymond Magsamen to spark the Husker ground offense in the lone game played three weeks ago. In that single contest the fullbacking chores of able Dean DaMoude stood out for the Huskers as his line bucking kept the Soldiers constantly on the back tract.

Varsity Crews Scrimmage; Captain Named

Nebraska's Cornhuskers, after a day of rest and a day of light drills, had the practice tempo stepped up slightly Wednesday night as Coach Bernie Masterson assembled two varsity units for a 20-minute scrimmage.

Quarterback Dick Thompson, who saw his first full-time duty of the season Saturday, was named captain for the battle with Oklahoma's Sooners at Memorial stadium, Nov. 22.

Three regulars passed up Wednesday's drills because of injuries sustained in the KU fracas. Ralph Damkroger, DeWitt wingman, is out for the season with a broken thumb. Guard Gerald Jacupke was in suit for limbering up exercises only. He is nursing a twisted knee. Jack Pesek's sprained wrist forced him to watch the short skirmish from the sideline.

Huskers Rest.

A week's rest will help the tired and bruised Huskers while their next Big Six rival, the co-champion Sooners, face a high flying Missouri Tiger aggregation Saturday at Columbia.

While both of End Coach Ray Prochaska's wingmen were out of action Wednesday, Ed Nyden and Alex Cochrane, a pair of veteran performers, worked with the number one unit. Gene Wilkins was back in his regular guard spot ahead of the injured Jacupke.

Same Starters.

The remainder of the first unit was the same group that opened against the Jayhawks Saturday. That includes: Carl Samuelson and Charley Toogood at the tackles, Fred Lorenz at guard and Tom Novak at center.

Dick Thompson guided from the quarterback slot, Cletus Fischer worked at right half while Jis Myers alternated with Dick Hutton at left half. Dale Adams was running from the fullback slot. Joe Partington was called on for defensive chores with the first team backs.

Two-Mile Squad Set Loop Meet

Once more a Nebraska team will play an underdog role in Big Six competition.

Coach Ed Weir's cross country charges will attempt to break into the win column for the first time this season at the conference's annual two-mile meet Saturday at Ames, Iowa.

Nebraska's representatives in the chase will be Don Theil, Harold Kopf, Warren Koenig, Don Morrison, and Stan Martin or Hank Schlueter. Martin has been bothered with a sore foot and it is not certain that he will be a starter. The squad will leave for Ames Friday noon.

Sooners Favorite

Oklahoma is the defending champion and will be a heavy favorite to retain the title. They have been all-victorious the last two years in dual meet competition.

Four of the six top Sooner runners are sophomores. They are R. C. Slocum, Ray Burns, Norval Smith and Kenneth Biggins. Landon Westbrook and John Canaris complete Oklahoma track coach John Jacob's squad.

Karnes Individual Star

Kansas and Kansas State are tabbed as Oklahoma's most serious threats. Bob Karnes, K. U. standout, is favored to cop the individual crown.

Missouri, Iowa State and Nebraska have not shown the team strength that the two Kansas schools and Oklahoma have shown in season dual encounters.
