Fijis Take KK Review Cup

Gunderson, Joan Farrar Win Titles

A take-off on Cleopatra and her suitors, Mark Anthony and Julius Caesar, won first place for the Phi Gamma Deltas in Friday night's annual Kosmet Klub Fall Review, held in the Coliseum. Delta Upsilon's comedy version of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" took second, and Beta Theta Pi's "Goldilocks and the Four College Men" won third place.

Prior to the announcement of the skit winners, the presentation of Miss Joan Farrar as Nebraska Sweetheart and Ted Gunderson as Prince Kosmet was made when the elected couple stepped through three huge, spot-lighted hearts which parted as the couple walked to the front of the stage. A bouquet of red and white roses was presented to Miss Farrar by Kosmet Klub President Richard Lahr. Av Bondarin, K Klub business manager, presented Gunderson with a special gift.

John Carson, master of ceremonies, eliminated lags between skits with a rapid-fire narrative, magic tricks, a ventriloquist act and several impersonations. Also entertaining between acts was the Lee Knight vocal combo which rendered several close harmony numbers for audience pleasure.

Johnny Cox's band furnished music before the show and played during the presentation of Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet.

Skit masters for the winning skits were Jerry Johnston, Phi Gamma Delta; Skip Stahl, Delta Upsilon, and Doug Peters, Beta Theta Pi.

Judges for the show were Duane Lake, Union director; J. Dayton Smith, school of music voice instructor, and Max Whittaker, speech instructor.

THE KOSMET KLUB presents Joan Farrar and Ted Gunderson as this year's Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet after completion of the skits Friday night in the Coliseum.

Theta Sigma Phi Holds Initiation for Eight Pledges

Eight women were initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, journalism professional, by president Phee Mortlock this week.

Initiates were Nadine Anderson, Phiscilla Bailey, Marian Crook, Jean Jensen, Jeanne Kerrigan, Barbara Rowland, Susan Storz, and Betty Weible.

The group was pledged to Theta Sigma Phi on Ivy Day last spring. To be eligible for membership, a coed must be a journalism major, have sufficient scholastic standing and be approved by the chapter, advisors and director of the school of journalism.

Students Support Council's Stand on Discrimination

Students generally favor the Student Council resolution opposing racial discrimination in the Big Six according to two separate Daily Nebraskan surveys.

Ballots were returned by 1,106 students. This is nearly 11.4% of the enrollment of the two Lincoln campuses. Even question II, advocating Nebraska's withdrawal from the Big Six, was favored by 58.4% of those voting.

Results of the poll follow, question by question:

I. Should the University of Nebraska advocate allowing Negro students to participate in any Big Six competition?

	Yes	No
Organized houses	755	48
Percentage of Lincoln enrollment	10.87%	00.54%
Individuals and other groups	289	4
Total	1044	52

II. Should the University of Nebraska withdraw from the Big Six if the discriminatory regulations are not eliminated?

	Yes	No
Organized houses	354	394
Individuals and other groups	226	46
Total	620	440
Percentage of Lincoln enrollment	06.38%	04.53%

III. Should schools favoring elimination of the discriminatory regulations, if a majority, reform the conference excluding the dissenting schools?

	Yes	No
Organized houses	522	258
Individuals and other groups	269	29
Total	791	287
Percentage of Lincoln enrollment	08.15%	02.96%

It is of interest to note that 205 of the individual ballots were yes on all three questions. The organized houses, representing the largest category of returns, were very slightly opposed to question II, withdrawing from the Big Six.

It is evident that two main groups returned the ballots, those interested in pushing the proposal, and the organized houses including fraternities, sororities, co-operatives, and the smaller women's residence halls.

Pending final returns in the Daily Nebraskan vote on Big Six racial discrimination, a personal opinion survey was conducted on the campus Thursday afternoon.

Two hundred and two students were interviewed by reporters using the questions on the poll. See OPINION POLL, page 2.

Fischer Steals Pass, Scores

BY LEE HARRIS.

The University of Nebraska Cornhuskers displaying their best brand of football of the season dropped a heart-breaking 14-13 decision to Oklahoma Sooners in Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon. The Huskers playing inspired football throughout the contest fought the Sooners on even terms as they showed their best offense of the season against a team that had just last week rocked a strong Missouri Tiger squad.

Fischer Scores.

After a scoreless first period the Huskers' Cletus Fischer brought cheering Nebraska rooters to their feet with a sixty-two yard pass interception that shot the Scarlet and Cream into a 6-0 lead. Fischer grabbed a pass thrown by Darrell Royal, Sooner halfback, on his own 38, raced up the East sidelines, shook off four or five tacklers and with aid of a timely block by End Jack Pesek, raced over for the score. The vital kick for the extra point went wide. Until the interception the Sooners had shown lots of power but the Huskers had managed to hold their own, forcing the punting toe of Darrell Royal into action. Royal's first boot went out of bounds on the Nebraska 13 but was nullified by a backfield in motion penalty on the Sooners. His second attempt was blocked by Charlie Toogood, burley Husker tackle and the Huskers took over on the Oklahoma 36. After Adams gained thru through the center big John Rapacz intercepted a pass by Dick Thompson on the visitors 36 to end the threat.

After the first Husker score the Oklahomans came right back down the field on a 73-yard march to tie. With George Brewer, Charlie Sarratt, Jack Mitchell, and George Thomas in the saddle the Sooners put on the strongest offensive drive of the game which was climaxed by Thomas' four-yard plunge for the touchdown. Sarratt contributed a nifty thirty-yard end run that accounted for a good share of the distance. Dave Wallace's kick for the extra point gave the Sooners a 7-6 advantage which they held until half-time.

Six Schools Accept Bids To UN Meet

Campus leaders from six conference schools have accepted the Student Council invitation to discuss racial discrimination in the Big Six Nov. 29-30 in Lincoln.

Robert E. Byers, president of the Student Government Association at the University of Missouri, wired Friday that his organization was forming a delegation to attend the meeting.

Student Council President Harold Mozer said that Kansas State College was contacted by phone Friday and also would attend. The University of Oklahoma could not be reached.

"Meetings will be held in the Student Union on Saturday and Sunday," Mozer said. Plans include a dinner as guests of the Lincoln Urban League.

Final arrangements for rooms and football tickets for visiting delegates for the Oregon State game will be made as soon as the number coming is known, Mozer announced.

Union Activities Group Hunts Hidden Talents

A talent bureau for UN students is being established by the Union Activities committee so that all available talent on the campus may be recognized and used.

Students are requested to list their names and talents in the Union office immediately. Auditions will be given and selected acts will be featured at the variety show to be held in the Union the evening of Dec. 14 instead of the weekly movie. The Debonnaires and Don Rice Combo will appear with the show.

It is planned to have different students exhibit their talents on a radio program to be introduced in connection with a bi-monthly variety matinee to begin Dec. 5. The matinees will be free to the student body and will be held in the Union ballroom at 4 p. m. on alternate Fridays. In addition to the student talent, music by the Debonnaires and Don Rice Combo will be a regular feature. Radio students will develop the script.

Arrangements are under the direction of the general entertainment committee with Donna Alfrey as sponsor and Bob Easter as chairman.

Delta Theta Phi Hears Witt Speak On State Patrol

Lt. O. H. Witt of the Nebraska Safety Patrol was guest speaker at the November 20 luncheon meeting of Delta Theta Phi.

His topic for the talk was "How the State Patrol May Help You."

Lt. Witt is chairman of the safety education and training division of the state safety patrol. Delta Theta Phi is an honorary law fraternity on the campus. The members meet twice each month for luncheon meetings.

Fall initiation for new members has been set for Dec. 12, the palce to be announced at a later date, according to Dean Ralph Nelson, Holdrege.

Daily Nebraskan Staff Members Married Saturday

Miss Toddie Fiddock and Ralph Stewart were married Saturday morning at 9:30 in a ceremony performed by Fr. George Shuster at St. Mary's Catholic cathedral.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are sports editor and news editor respectively on the Daily Nebraskan staff.

Following the double ring ceremony, a reception was held for about 200 guests in the faculty lounge of the Union. The couple were attended by Anne Fiddock as maid of honor and John Stewart as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are both seniors in the college of arts and sciences and are journalism majors. Tottie is affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi and Ralph with Phi Gamma Delta.

Over 200 Attend Dental Reunion

Dr. Carl W. Waldron, national authority on oral surgery from the University of Minnesota, was the principal speaker at the Friday afternoon meeting at the annual two-day College of Dentistry reunion.

Saturday morning, clinics and demonstrations on all phases of dentistry were held in the dental college.

Between 200 and 250 dentists from over the nation gathered on the campus for the yearly gathering.

Dr. Donald T. Wagoner as president heads the list of the new elected officers of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, honorary dental fraternity.

Dr. Ray H. Stejneger is vice president while Dr. Howard F. Aarstad will handle the duties of secretary-treasurer. All are faculty members of the College of Dentistry.

CLEOPATRA RECEIVES a suitor, in the person of Julius Caesar who has chased Mark Antony off the stage. This skit, presented by Phi Gamma Delta, took first place in the contest.
