MB Ball Will Feature Sam Donahue Music

Tickets on Sale Now To Annual Turnabout Dance December 12

With a sax-playing leader who has had extensive experience as an arranger, the Sam Donahue band will furnish dance music for the Mortar Board Ball in the Coliseum, December 12.

Currently popular are his recordings of "The Whistler" and "Put That Kiss Back Where You

SAM DONAHUE.

Found It." His arrangement of "The Whistler" was the sixth most played record on the air last week, according to Billboard, entertainment magazine, and is rated fifth by the disc jockeys in their record pickings.

Both of these records have been popular playings on the Union Corn Crib jukebox during the past month.

Leaving his own Michigan band to gain experience with some of the nation's big bands, Donahue signed up with Gene Krupa in 1938 and arranged for him until 1940 when he accepted an offer from Harry James. Later on, he became the outstanding tenor-man with the Benny Goodman band. In 1941 he started on his own and continued up to date, with the only break coming while he served in the U.S. Navy—leading a band.

Tickets for the Mortar Board Ball will go on sale today. Members of Mortar Board and Tassels will sell them.

Dean Borgmann Corrects Mistake On Wage Increase

To correct a misunderstanding about wage increases for non-academic employees of the University, the administration wishes to point out that the increase does not apply to all non-academic employees.

This pertains particularly to secretarial employees, some of whom will not receive increases since they are now earning maximum compensation allowed under

Rag Refutes Journal Story

On the first page of the sports section of the Sunday Lincoln Journal is an article stating that "fifty-eight percent of the University of Nebraska students participating in a poll have backed the Student Council protests against what the Council termed 'racial prejudice' in Big Six conference athletics."

The statement fails to tell accurately the trend of university thought. According to the poll which was conducted jointly by the Student Council and The Daily Nebraskan, 90 per cent of 1,100 students polled favor the proposal to let negroes play in all Big Six contests, regardless of which state the game is played.

The second question, advocating withdrawal from the conference in the event that Missouri and Oklahoma do not allow Negroes to play, was approved by 58 per cent of the students. The third question, on forming a new conference exclusive of the dissenting schools, was approved by 60 per cent of the students polled.

Cornshucks Takes Bow

"CENSORED!" in bold, black letters is the first word of copy to greet buyers of the November issue of "Cornshucks," campus magazine which bears the promulgation, "For and about students at Nebraska U." "Censored" and the picture beneath are strictly for laughs.

Featured in this month's edition are a sports write-up satire by Al and Don Amsden, "Jurkovitch, Go in at third oboe!" a Party Page, pictures of the "most luscious legs . . . on the Nebraska campus" and laugh-inducing cartoons by Haugseth, Wolcott and Hayes.

Copies of "Cornshucks" will be on sale today in the Union from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 3 to 6 p.m. Subscribers not living in organized houses may pick up their copies at the Union stand. Editor Jo Fankhauser urges all subscribers to submit ballots in the "Cornshucks" leg contest. Printed ballots will be found in the Nov. issue and should be turned in to the "Cornshucks" office in the Union.

This is substantially the information given at a meeting of secretarial employees by Dean C. W. Borgmann. The misunderstanding arose from a misinterpretation of articles appearing in a previous issue of the Faculty Bulletin Board, and the Daily Nebraskan.

administers to the needs of the individuals who constitute the state."

The book stated that "Guidance is based on the assumption that the world has a place for everybody, at least that our democratic America has. . . Guidance seeks to help the individual discover his own talents . . . opportunities . . . and prepare himself for a well balanced life and to contribute to the welfare of his fellow man."

"Guiding Youth in the Secondary School," when reviewed by a committee representing the American Library association and the National Education association, was adjudged one of the "sixty best books" of 1945. Published two years ago, the book is at present being used as a basic text in teacher training in many universities and colleges, including the Universities of Pennsylvania, Michigan, Nebraska, Kansas, Mississippi, Texas, California, Washington and Northwestern University.

Rosenlof Explains Registry

Second-semester registration will open Dec. 15 and close Jan. 21, G. W. Rosenlof, registrar, announced Monday.

Appointment cards with the assignment committee will be distributed during the week of Dec. 8, at Love Memorial library, in this order:

Dec. 8: Seniors.
Dec. 9: Juniors.
Dec. 10: Sophomores and freshmen whose names begin with A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, or I.
Dec. 11: Sophomores and freshmen whose names begin with J, K, L, M, N, O, P, or Q.
Dec. 12: Sophomore and freshmen whose names begin with R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, or Z.

In order to give an even break to sophomores and freshmen who are scheduled to obtain their registration tickets on Dec. 11 and 12, tickets will be dealt out one at a time into three piles. The first pile will be set aside for Dec. 10, the second for Dec. 11, and the third for Dec. 12.

See Advisers.

Students are to make appointments with their advisers as soon after Dec. 8 as possible. Rosenlof emphasized. Failure to do so will "almost certainly mean that the student will have difficulty in getting his program worked out," he said.

Students may confer with their advisers far in advance of the time they meet with the assignment committee, he added.

After a student's program has been worked out and approved by his adviser and dean, he will report to the assignment committee at the time indicated on his registration ticket. The Daily Nebraskan will print the times for assignment committee appointments as they come up. Announcements will also be posted in Love library by the assignment committee.

Procedure of registration with the assignment committee will be similar to that of last spring, Rosenlof said.

Anthropologists Meet Here Friday

Over forty prominent anthropologists will attend the fifth Plains conference for archeology to be held in the university's laboratory of anthropology Friday and Saturday, Nov. 28 and 29.

Discussion of four general topics concerning the history of man in the central great plains will take place during the two day meeting, Dr. John L. Champe, laboratory head and chairman of the conference, state. They are: Recent explorations of historic and prehistoric peoples in the great plains area; the problem of classifying the early inhabitants of great plains through the kind of pottery and other everyday articles which they made; the place of great plains Indian culture in relations to North America as a whole; and latest evidence of paleo-Indians in the central plains, including the recent discovery near Cambridge, Nebraska.

Film Encourages Exchanging Ideas

"Does It Matter What You Think?" a provocative film on the freedom-of-expression theme, will be shown during the Tuesday meeting of the university AVC chapter, according to Chairman Paul Rogers.

The film shows why people should meet, consider issues and implement their citizenship through political parties, unions, discussion forums and other community groups.

University veterans have been invited by AVC to attend the meeting which will begin at 7:15 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 25, in room X of the Union.

Missouri Supports Stand of Council

Action Expected to Supersede Long-Standing Big Six Policy Barring Negroes From Sports

The University of Missouri's Student Government Association has adopted a resolution ending any discriminatory practices in connection with athletics at Columbia, Missouri, Harold Mozer, council president announced today.

The resolution reads, "Any student in good standing of a college or university which is a member of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association shall be allowed to participate in competitive athletic events at the University of Missouri."

It is believed that this resolution may help to supersede the "gentleman's agreement" adopted at a faculty meeting of Big Six representatives and end, at least in the case of the University of Missouri, any discriminatory practices there.

In a letter to Mozer, the governing body also informed him that it would be unable to send a delegation to attend the conference in Lincoln during the Thanksgiving holidays. However, Mozer said that the letter empowered the conference delegates to use the Missouri resolution as a vote and as an indicator of student opinion at Columbia.

Outstate alumni opinion on the highly inflammatory question of racial discrimination was shown in copies of two letters sent to Chancellor R. G. Gustavson. One alumni summed up his position on the subject by asking, "Would it not be much better to abandon our ties with the Big Six than to uphold discrimination of our colored brother?" The letter, to the chancellor continued, "May I urge you to use your influence to bring about the needed reforms in policy of the Big Six."

Another letter to the Chancellor said, "This form of discrimination has long been a big blotch on the Big Six record."

The university student council president told The Daily Nebraskan that he has received letters of commendation from widely scattered points. Joseph Ballou of Tucson, Arizona paraphrased the Big Six problem with that of the Border Conference and said, "The withdrawal of Missouri and Oklahoma from the Big Six would be a real loss, but elimination of racial discrimination would be a bigger gain."

Omaha Urban League also added a voice of approval with the statement that the council action was "a positive attempt to make democracy work which refuses to be satisfied with lip service."

Mozer announced that final wires had been sent to all conference schools and that the conference would begin at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 30.

KK Rules Out EX, Phi Delt

Two fraternities, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi, have been declared ineligible to compete in the 1948 Kosmet Klub Fall Review because of rules infractions in the 1947 Review, Kosmet Klub announced Monday.

Spokesmen for the club stated that the skirts were changed following dress rehearsal after they had been approved by active members and by the group's advisor, Professor E. S. Schramm. The changes in routines surpassed the "bounds of common decency" according to one Kosmet Klub member and could not be considered in good taste.

An annual affair, the Kosmet Klub's Fall Review has always tried to maintain the highest moral standards, KK president Dick Lahr stated to The Daily Nebraskan.

Notification of this disqualification has been sent to the two fraternities, their alumni advisory boards and to the faculty senate, Lahr said.

W. H. Werkmeister Speaks at Denver

Speaking on the subject, "The Status—Past, Present and Future—of Philosophy at the University of Nebraska," Dr. William H. Werkmeister, chairman of the department of philosophy, addressed a meeting of philosophers of the mountain and plains area held in Denver, Colo., Saturday, Nov. 22.

The gathering was called to organize a division of the American Philosophical association, to be known probably as the mountain-plains division, extending from Utah on the west to Missouri on the east.

Other news of Dr. Werkmeister concerns his literary work. Recently, he received notice from his publishers, Harper and Bros., that two books on philosophy he has written will be published in January. They are, "Basis and Structure of Knowledge," a volume of 500 pages, and "Critical Thinking," a volume of 730 pages. The publishers also announced that Dr. Werkmeister's "Philosophy of Science" will be reprinted.

UN Professor's Book To Be Used in Germany

Dr. Leslie L. Chisholf of the University of Nebraska Teachers college, author of "Guiding Youth in the Secondary School," learned last week that his book is to be reprinted by German and Austrian publishers for use in their educational systems.

In a statement made last week, Dr. Chisholf stated that public school education in parts of Germany and Austria has apparently shifted rapidly from totalitarian to democratic ideas.

In his book, Dr. Chisholf continually emphasizes the value of democracy, repeatedly stressing the role of the individual. He maintains that "The political philosophy of the totalitarian state assumes that the individual has no worth except as he contributes to the aims of the political state as those aims are conceived by the individuals in power. The way of life we call democracy reverses the process by assuming that the state has value only so far as it
