sas' Jayhawks had to turn on all their power Saturday to become co-champions of the Big Six conference. Oklahoma nosed out an inspired Nebraska eleven, 14-13, and Kansas tripped Missouri in the final minute, 20-14. The co-champions played to a tie game this year, and neither team was defeated in loop play.

Huskers Tough.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, aroused by the 60-yard touch-down run of Cletus Fischer in the second period, gave the favored Sconers the toughest kind of opposition before losing the gruelling battle. Terrific line play featured the contest, particularly the work of Nebraska's Tom Novak and Oklahoma's John Rapacz, the rival centers.

Oklahoma came back quickly after Fischer's scoring sprint and marched 74 yards for its first tally. The Sooners' second touchdown was set up when they recovered their own second-half kickoff on the Nebraska 29. The Huskers' final tally came in the third stanza on a 27-yard pass from Dick Thompson to Alex Cochrane.

Nebraska will wind up its sea-son at home next Saturday against Oregon State, and Okla-homa will play host to the Oklahoma Aggies.

Jayhawks Score Late.

The University of Kansas came from behind in the final minute of play Saturday to down Missouri's Tiers, 20-14, and retain their share of the loop title. The lead changed hands five times before the Jayhawks emerged victorious. Ray Evans, Kansas' great back Ray Evans, Kansas great back playing his final home game, and Forrest Griffith, sophomore full-back, were the big guns in the Jayhawk offense. Twice Evans stopped potential touchdown run-ners. He also batted down enemy passes, forward passed for big gains, and carried the ball for 96 yards. And it was Griffith who went over the Tiger right guard for the title winning touchdown.

Kansas Undefeated.

George Sauer, the Jayhawk coach, finished his second loop schedule at Kansas, holding one-half of the championship each year. Sauer's 1947 team holds the distinction of both the distinction distinction of being the only undefeated Kansas team in Big Six conference history. If they can defeat Arizona at Tucson next week, they will be one of the nation's unbeaten elevens.

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

HUSKER SPARKPLUGS-against Oklahoma were Cletus Fischer (left) and Dick Thompson. Fischer intercepted a Sooner pass and ran 62 yards for the first score and Thompson passed to End Alex Cochrane for second touchdown in Nebraska's 14-13 loss Saturday.

Huskers Watch Movies

Nebraska's Cornhuskers Monday, great improvement since the disafternoon watched the movies of last Saturday's Oklahoma game as Coach Bernie Masterson gave his rejuvenated charges a day of rest before heading into the final week of action.

Scarlet Line Rough.

The Scarlet and Cream battlers put up their best game of the sea-son in their Big Six final against the co-champioins, Oklahoma. The Nebraska line looked to be on a fair par with the Sooner forwards, through most of the game. Al-though the statistics gave the visitors a healthy advantage, the Husker line held when the chips were down against some of the most shifty backs in the conference.

Nebraska's backfield can be given a word of praise for an overall improvement in their pass defense. The Sooner passing at-tack was held at bay all through the game as they completed only one pass that hurt the Huskers, that being a 16-yard toss in the first period.

Frosh-Nubbins Tilt Cancelled

The sceduled game between the Nubbins and freshman squads was cancelled Monday night as both teams turned in their uniforms for the season. The battle held between the two units early in the season turned into a scoreless tie as both the spirited Cornhusker squads trotted through a long afternoon of mud and rain.

The Nubbins saw action twice this year against outside competition, both times having the Ft. over the Army 18-0.

astrous Missouri trip, when everything seemed to go wrong for the traveling Huskers, Nebraska came close against Kansas, losing in the last few seconds of play 13-7. They came even closer to victory last Saturday as they rocked the Sooners with bursts of offensive drive that gave heart to the loyal Combuctor sectors drive that gave heart to the loyal Cornhusker rooters. The Huskers showed in the Kansas and Oklahoma games that they have the stuff to win if they put every thing together at the same time. They have one last chance to give Nebraska fans a home victory this Saturday in Memorial Stadium when Lonnie Stiner brings his Oregon State team to meet the Cornhuskers team to meet the Cornhuskers in the final game of the season.

Deadlines Due In IM Sports Wednesday

Deadlines for intramural entries in basketball and wrestling are due in the Intramural office Wednesday, Nov. 25, for any teams expecting to participate in those sports.

At present, numerous wrestlers are working out daily in the basement of the coliseum. Opening competition will start Dec. 1. On Dec. 1, all entrants must report for weigh-ins. The basketball play is scheduled to start Dec. 9, with both organized houses formed in leagues as well as those independent teams who plan to play this year. Last year's fraternity champion was Phi Gamma Delta while the Hufnagle Field team took honors in the Independent leagues.

A call has also been put out for all those individuals who desire to enter the singles handball tourney. Dec. 1 has been the date set for the deadline on these entries.

Orders Plastic Wrestling Mat

Cornhusker wrestlers are due for something different during the 1947-48 season. Instead of a plain canvas mat as in former years, the grapplers will work on a new plastic mat cover.

The 31x36 foot cover, a Good-rich Koroseal plastic product, is now on order, according to Coach Pat Patterson. The product is very durable, with joints butted and electronically sealed. Wrestlers are assured of a clean mat at all matches as the plastic is readily cleaned. cleaned.

Various holds and escapes used by collegiate matmen will be demonstrated during halftime of the Purdue basketball game in the Riley Centaurs as opposition. The coliseum.
