Semi-finalists judges are Lorenzo Donarico, buyer from Brandeis store in Omaha; Jack Bailey, Grand Island photographer; Ben the Hairdresser from Lincoln. to U Lykke; Gam-Uicez Gran

AVC Not to Press Subsistence Action Until January

The American Veterans Committee will continue its efforts to obtain increased subsistence allowances for student veterans, but not until the regular January session of Congress, according to a statement issued Tuesday by Ramon D. Hansen, university AVC student affairs chairman.

Hansen's statement was based on information received from AVC's national chairman, Chat Patterson, who wrote, "In view of the far reaching importance of action during the present special session on the Marshall Plan and on inflation, we shall not press for action for an increase in subsistence allowances until the regular January session, unless rapid action by Congress on the former items makes this feasible."

Dr. C. H. Patterson to Talk At Vesper Service Today

Vespers will be held in the Episcopalian church, 13th and R streets at 5:00 today. Meditation speaker will be Dr. C. H. Patterson, from the department of Philosophy in the university. Deane Hansen will be the student leader.

Vespers are interdenominational and are arranged so that students, faculty members and campus pastors may participate.

Faculty Senate OpentoStudents

Students may attend faculty senate meetings according to a letter to the Student Council from G. W. Rosenlof, secretary of the senate, made public at the council meeting Wednesday.

"The University Senate is not a closed body," the letter stated. Rosenlof added that, while the body would welcome a representative from the council, most matters discussed were of little interest to students.

Dale Ball presented an outline of the proposed spring open house, Engineers' Week, Farmers Fair, Ivy Day and a spring music festival would take place Friday through Sunday of the same week if the plan is adopted. The special student-faculty committee will put the proposal before the University Senate at its next meeting.

Ball announced his campus improvement committee will conduct a survey on student problems during preliminary registration at Love Library.

Filings Open Now For Council Seats

Filings for three Student Council vacancies open Thursday for six days at the student activities office, 209 Administration Building.

One representative is needed for each of the following positions: Junior woman from Arts & Sciences College; Junior man from Dental College; woman from Graduate College.

The following were initiated: Lois Chantry, Osceola; Leslie Guildner, Lincoln; John McCorkle, Lincoln; Donald Patterson, Lincoln; Mrs. Beth Ramey, Lincoln; LaRoy Seaver, Elk City; Elmer Sprague, Geneva; Marilyn Stahl, David City; Norman Sundberg, Aurora; and Clarence Tunberg, Lincoln.

To be eligible for initiation, the students needed a scholastic average of at least 90. Only Arts and Sciences students are eligible for membership.

open Friday afternoon in the Union and will continue through Saturday. The institute is sponsored by the Graduate School of Social work and will probably be attended by more than 70 persons from four states.

In charge of the institute is Dr. Frank Glick, director of the Graduate School of Social work here. Helen Ross of the Institute for Psychoanalysis in Chicago will conduct the instruction.

NOTICE TO VETERANS. Representatives from the Nebraska Regional Office of the Veterans Administration will again be on duty in the front (North) lobby of Love Memorial Library on Wednesday, Dec. 10, from 8:30 to 4:30 for the purpose of assisting any veteran who has not received his subsistence check by that date. Veterans reporting to the Library should have their C numbers in hand. J. P. COLBERT, Director Veterans Consultation Board.

Picture Feature to Put University in Spotlight

"Life" magazine will cover the Military Ball! Photographers from the national weekly will be at the Coliseum Friday evening to take pictures of the annual affair, Col. Howard J. John announced Wednesday.

Telegrams from Life's Chicago offices confirming and completing arrangements were received by the Military Department late yesterday afternoon, and came as a climax of weeks of painstaking detail.

Branch Leaves for Coast

Perry Branch, director of the University Foundation, will leave this Saturday, Dec. 6, on a West coast tour.

He will visit Nebraska University alumni and friends in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Jose and Denver.

Kosmet Revue Costs 2 Frats Social Rights

Social privileges of the Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta fraternities have been restricted by action of the University Senate's committee on student organization and student functions. Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson reported Wednesday.

Neither fraternity will be permitted to hold any down-town parties for the remainder of the academic year, because of their infractions of rules at the Kosmet Klub fall revue Nov. 21.

KK Probation

Concurrently, the committee ruled to place the Kosmet Klub on probation. "In case of another recurrence of this sort next year the committee will have to take serious action against the Kosmet Klub," Dean Thompson said.

"I regretted it very much that the committee had to take this action," Thompson stated, "But in view of the seriousness of the offense action had to be taken."

The Kosmet Klub had previously ruled Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta fraternities ineligible for representation in the Revue for the 1948 season.

Committee

Committee members and the student interests they represent are: Prof. H. P. Davis, ag college; Prof. Curtis Elliott, student council; Miss Mary Meilenz, student council; Miss Mary Guthrie, AWS; Miss Luvicy Hill, Pan-Hell; Prof. E. F. Schramm, Interfraternity Council; Prof. R. V. Schumate, Barb Council; Assistant Dean of Men W. C. Harper, student activities board; A. J. Lewandowski, athletic department; Prof. C. M. Hicks and Prof. W. H. Morton, members at large; Dean of Women Marjorie Johnston, secretary; and Dean T. J. Thompson, chairman.

'Lunch Basket' Forum Presents Varied Program

Students who carry their noon lunch to ag campus for one reason or another have an opportunity to digest knowledge along with their food as a result of the plans of a few men who were tired of listening to each other talk over their meal.

Bob Hamilton, ag junior, reports that a "noon forum" has been organized in which various phases of agriculture are discussed. Professors on the college faculty are co-operating, and one will be present at each meeting to speak on a topic of his own choice.

The meetings are held in the judging pavilion of the animal husbandry building during the noon hour on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Anyone who eats his lunch on campus or just wastes this period is invited to attend the discussions. Speakers to date have been Prof. Schunk of the engineering department who spoke on "Soil Conservation," and Dr. Hixson of the entomology department, whose topic was "Interrelationships in the Fields of Agriculture."

Prof. Mussehl of the poultry department will speak Friday on "Current Legislation Affecting Agriculture." Dr. Wiggins and Prof. Barrager have also been contacted for future meetings.

It is anticipated that pictures of the semi-formal dance will appear in the "Life Goes To A Party" section in the near future. Final instructions to dancers at the Military Ball Friday evening were issued Wednesday by the Military Department.

Doors Open at 7

Coliseum doors will swing open at 7 p. m. so that all dancers may be in their seats in the west balcony before 7:55. At that time the Queen of the Aksarben and her court will make a grand entrance and take their seats in a box overlooking the ballroom floor.

All persons attending, both dancers and spectators, are requested to be in their seats before 8 p. m., the Military Department emphasized, because the program leading up to the presentation of the 1947 Honorary Colonel will commence promptly at 8 p. m.

Dancers in the Stands

There will be no dancers on the ballroom floor at the time of the presentation ceremonies. Immediately after the grand march the dancers will march down to the dancing floor, where dancing will take place until midnight.

Candidates for Honorary Colonel are Jo Ackerman, June Gast, Priscilla Flagg, Marion Campen, Jean Compton, and Shirley Schnittker.

Top university and civic officers who will attend the ball as guests of the Cadet Officers association include Chancellor and Mrs. R. G. Gustavson, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Rosenlof, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Selleck, Dean and Mrs. C. W. Borgmann, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Dean Marjorie Johnson, members of the board of regents, Gen. John J. Pershing, Gov. and Mrs. Peterson, Justice and Mrs. R. G. Simmons, and General and Mrs. Lewis A. Pick.

Parking plans for Friday night as worked out by the cadet officers and the Lincoln police department appear on page 2.

Actors Lab Issues Call For Talent

If you are one of those would-be thespians who want to be an actor but haven't the time for evening rehearsals, then, here is your opportunity:

If you are free from 3 to 5 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, you are urged to come to play tryouts at 3 p.m., Thursday, December 4, in Room 306, Temple building.

Seven men and five women will be cast in three one-act plays to be produced on January 21 as the third program in The Actors' Lab series, announced Dallas S. Williams, director of the University Theatre.

"Each of the three plays is of singular interest," he stated, because each is an original script prepared by students enrolled in the University's course in playwriting. The three shows will be acted, designed and directed by students, under the supervision of Speech Department faculty members.

Rehearsals for the three plays will be limited from three to five on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Student directors pointed out that outside practice periods will be kept to a minimum or eliminated entirely.
