

NU Students Hold 15 Seats In Symphony

Five Faculty Members Numbered in Group

Fifteen university students and five faculty members will perform with the Lincoln Symphony orchestra when the orchestra makes its first appearance of the season Dec. 16 at the Stuart theater, as the third event of its concert series. Robert Fellner, the association's new conductor, will conduct.

Sectional first chairs are held by four professors and by three students, with second chairs in the sections being the posts of four students and one instructor, according to Robert Inlizer, personnel manager. Professors and instructors included are Emanuel Wishnow, concert master and head of the first violin section; Earnest Harrison, first chair, second violins; Miss Carol Puckett, first cello; Curtis Elliott, first clarinet; and Miss Gretchen Burnham, second cello.

Student members, by section are:

Violins: Tom McManus, Ted Brunson, Aleta Snell and Shirley Compton.

Viola: James Price (first chair) and Roma Johnson.

Cellos: Lester Harris.

String bass: Bonnie Compton.

Flute: John B. Thompson.

Oboe: Eugene Tedd.

Bassoon: Darwin Fredrickson (first chair).

Horns: Don Kelley, Jack Snider (second and third chairs).

Trombones: Robert Slemmons (first chair), and Carroll Brown (second chair).

Musicians Play String Concert

Pupils of Emanuel Wishnow and Miss Carol Pucket, School of Music string instructors, will present an all-string studio recital at 11 a. m., Saturday, Dec. 13, in Room 17 of the Music School. The concert will include string works by composers from the time of Tartini and Bach to the modernist Ravel.

There are 20 violin majors at the university, one of the largest number of string majors at any Midwest institution of comparable size. The University of Illinois, for example, had only eight such majors last year.

The complete program is as follows:

Third Movement—D Major Concerto (Mozart), Shirley Laflin.

Adagio and Allegro from E Major Sonata (Handel), Joan Fredrickson.

Piece Enforme de Habanera (Ravel), Ted Brunson.

Sonata in G Minor (Tartini), Katherine Forbes.

Siciliana and Presto from Unaccompanied Sonata (Bach), Aleta Snell.

Four Cello Duets, Op. 31 (Sebastian Lee), Kathleen Burt and Dorothy Major.

There is no admission charge.

A GIFT MUMMY CASE, one of several zany Christmas presents shipped to wheel chair-ridden columnist Sheridan Whiteside (Gaylor Marr, left) in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is given the once-over by unpredictable movie director Banjo (Richard Proud, center). In the University Theatre production, which today enters its last three performances including a Saturday matinee, the mummy case becomes the last resort for deporting affected actress Lorraine Sheldon (Margaret Ann Huff, right) from a difficult situation in which Whiteside's impulsive and mischievous pranks tangle him during course of the laugh-filled comedy by Kaufman and Hart.

Debaters Plan Labor Meet

A one-day institute on labor problems for Nebraska high school students of social studies and debate will be held Saturday, Dec. 13, under the sponsorship of the department of speech.

The program will open at 9:30 a. m. at the Temple theater, with a discussion of the history of labor disputes and legislation by Dr. Curtis Elliott of the department of economics. Dr. Leroy T. Laase of the speech department will make an analysis of the labor problems question and the morning session will close with a talk on discussion and debate techniques by Donald Olson, director of debate.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a series of discussions by the high school students, the first round dealing with goals and problems in settling labor disputes and the second dealing with solutions to the problem of labor disputes.

The discussions are to be followed by a debate between Kansas and Nebraska university debate teams on the subject of compulsory arbitration of labor disputes.

Music Group Has Founding Banquet

Mrs. Louis E. Hoch, Cuyahoga Falls, O., national president of Delta Omicron music sorority, will be honored by the Lincoln chapter at the organization's annual founders day banquet, 7 p. m., Saturday, Dec. 3, at the University club.

Another honored guest is Mrs. Paul Kolachov of Louisville, Ky., former resident of Lincoln and patroness of the Lincoln chapter of Delta Omicron.

Girls of the active chapter will provide the program. Jeanne Wood will sing Richard Strauss' "Serenade," Helen Anderson accompanying. Wanda Buell will play Mozart's "Sonata in F" for piano, and a trio will sing three numbers: "Far and Wide" by Brahms, "A Bird Flew" by Clokey, and "Balloons in the Sky" by Boyd. Members are Margaret Goldsmith, Mary Lou Sommer and Mary Barton. Accompanist is Virginia Bennington.

Notre Dame Prof Will Speak Tonite To Chem Group

Dr. Milton Burton of the University of Notre Dame will speak before the Nebraska section of the American Chemical Society tonight at 7:30 in Avery laboratory. The speech will follow a dinner of the Chemical Society at the Union.

Burton will speak on "Primary Processes in Photo-chemistry," according to Raymond Borchers, secretary of the Nebraska section. A well known authority in his field, Dr. Burton has been associated with the atomic energy project since 1942. His association was first through the University of Chicago, later through the Monsanto Chemical Company at Oak Ridge and at present as a consultant.

In 1945 he was appointed president of chemistry at the University of Notre Dame.

Navy to Hold Job Interviews

Dr. A. H. Hausrath, of the U.S. Office of Naval Research, will be on campus Monday to interview seniors for prospective jobs, according to word from Dean Thompson of the Placement Bureau.

Dr. Hausrath desires to talk to January, June, and August graduates in the fields of chemistry, physics, engineering, mathematics, and psychology, and to librarians.

In order to facilitate matters the meetings will be segregated as to the various fields. Meetings scheduled include:

- 11:00 Engineers meet in Richards Laboratory, room 206.
- 2:00 Chemists, Physicists, and mathematicians meet in 209 Avery Laboratory.
- 3:00 Psychologists and librarians meet in 218, Social Sciences.
- 5:00 All those unable to make previous meetings will be interviewed in 107b Social Sciences.

The naval representative arranged to visit the campus at the request of the Placement Bureau and all persons interested in work with the navy should attend their respective conference.

Home Companion To Cover Dance

March Issue to Feature Photo Spread of Tonight's MB Ball

Women's Home Companion has sent a photographer, John Pepper, of New York City, to cover the annual Mortar Board vice-versa ball which starts at 8 p. m. in the coliseum tonight.

Pepper, who arrived in Lincoln Thursday, is a free lance photographer who is associated with Pix Incorporated, an agency which supplies photos and photographers to all the leading magazines in the world. His offices are in New York City.

A feature-photo spread about the ball and all the activities leading up to and concerning it will appear in the March issue of the Woman's Home Companion.

Inquiry.

Earlier this year, the magazine sent the UN Mortar Boards an inquiry on the ball as staff members had heard of the unique theme of the ball in requiring the coeds to foot the bills, provide transportation and corsages and, in general, act as escorts for the evening. Pepper will take all the pictures for the March spread and the ball will be written up by a Companion feature writer.

Photographer Pepper, who has done work for Time, Esquire, Harper's Bazaar, American, Fortune, Life, McCall's, was managing editor, in 1945, of the Far East edition of Yank published in Manila.

He will photograph any unusual observances such as outstanding methods of transportation, corsages, items given a girl to carry for her date, or unusual dinner parties.

The Unusual.

If there are any coeds that know of unusual circumstances regarding Mortar Board Ball dates that would make good photographs, they are asked to contact Jean Compton at 2-7875. Pepper will also cover the ball thoroughly taking pictures of the dancers with their corsages, decorations, and eligible bachelor presentation which is scheduled for 10:30. He will be assisted by a UN student photographer.

Tickets for the ball may be secured all day Friday at a booth in the Union and at the door. Spectator tickets, which are fifty cents, may be purchased at the door. Sam Donahue, well-known saxophone player and arranger, will play for the dance from 8-12 tonight.

Barb Story Competition Announced

A short story contest is being sponsored by the active and alumni groups of the Delian-Union literary society. First prize will be $30, second prize, $20, and third prize, $10.

The contest is open only to unaffiliated students, and entries must be submitted before March 1, 1948. Each story is restricted to 5,000 words, must be double-spaced, typed in black typewriter ribbon, and should be original and previously unpublished. Manuscripts should be submitted to the Delian-Union Literary Society, % Clark Gustin, 2233 D St., in Lincoln. Stories will be returned to authors after judging only if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

In addition to the cash prizes, the society will attempt to secure magazine publication for the three winning manuscripts.

Judges include: Jo Ann Cosgrove, Mrs. Franz Radke, and Dr. Kenneth Forward, with Shirley Russel as an alternate.

Last year's prize-winning stories can be seen in the Delian-Union's hall, Room 303, Temple, 12th and R Sts., between 1-5 every afternoon, Monday thru Friday.

Sigma Tau Picks Award Winner

At a regular business meeting on Thursday, Dec. 11, Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, chose the recipient of the Sigma Tau senior scholarship award to be presented next Tuesday, Dec. 16. The meeting was under the chairmanship of President Carl Leonard.

The winner of the scholarship, awarded annually to a student in the upper 10 percent of the senior class on the basis of scholarship, sociability, practicality and need, will be announced at the annual fall initiation banquet, Dec. 16.

Union Lists Variety Show Contestants

Variety Talent Show contestants to perform Sunday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p. m., in the Union ballroom were announced Thursday by Donna Alfrey and Bob Easter, Union general entertainment committee chairmen. The talent show, replacing the weekly movie which is regularly the main feature of the Variety Show, is open to all students.

Students who registered for the first talent bureau ever formed on the campus were auditioned selected for Sunday's show by the Wednesday evening and acts were talent bureau committee.

Musical numbers, the acts ranging from comedy and novelty to classical, include: Violinist, Ted Brunson; blues singer, JoAnn Pokorski; pianist, Beverly Shuman; Latin American dance team doing a tango fantasy, Juan Illueca and Marilyn Mayo; vocalists, Bob Wittstruck, Elaine Carroll and Earl Collum; piano novelties, backwards and boogie woogie, Roma Johnson; accordion novelties, Howard Doerr, and Latin American rhythm number, Juan Illueca. Master of ceremonies is to be Stanley Haworth.

Winners Get Cash.

Cash awards will be given the selected winners by the Talent Bureau Committee—$10.00, first prize; $5.00, second; $2.00, third. Winners will also appear on the Union Christmas open house program Tuesday evening. Judges have not been announced but the three will be appointed from impartial faculty members.

Featured in the show, but not participating in the contest, is Lee Knight's Debonnaires, introduced to the student audience at the first Variety Matinee a week ago.

Talents featured on this show, and others listed with the talent bureau, are available for campus and downtown programs upon inquiry at the Union offices. These students will also perform at the bi-weekly Friday Matinee in the Union ballroom.

Tri-K Initiates 18 Agronomy Men

Eighteen men were initiated into Tri-K, national agronomy club, in ceremonies held Thursday night in Crops Laboratories. New members include:
