

Huskers Battle Touted Golden Gopher Quintet

Coach Harry Good's Scarlet hoopsters take on another Big Nine foe Saturday night. Nebraska travels to Minnesota to meet Coach Dave MacMillan's highly regarded Gopher quintet.

A 12-man squad will leave Lincoln Friday night at 9:00 and will arrive in Minneapolis at 7:15 Saturday morning. The Huskers will enter the test in the underdog role, but will be set to throw a surprise at the rangy Minnesotans.

Encouraged more than disappointed by their 60-56 loss to Purdue Tuesday night in the season opener, the Huskers are set to hand the Golden Gophers a stern test.

Gopher Spark.

Minnesota, paced by Center Jim McIntyre, has been picked with Indiana and Wisconsin by the experts to battle it out for the Western conference championship. McIntyre was runner-up among Big Nine scorers last year as the Gophers copped fourth place in loop play.

The lanky pivot star, who went wild against the Huskers last winter as the Gophers dropped Nebraska on the Coliseum maples, racked up 183 points in 12 conference tilts and scored a total of 314 through a season of 21 games for an all-time individual Minnesota scoring record.

Seven Vets Back.

Along with McIntyre, Coach MacMillan, in his eighteenth season as head cage mentor at Minnesota, has six veteran performers back from his 1946-47 squad.

The Gophers will be out to increase their streak of 11 successive wins on their home hardwoods started last year.

Good has nominated the following men for the northward hop: Joe Brown, Bob Cerv, Claude Retherford, Dick Schleiger, Neil Mosser, Rod Cox, Paul Shields, Dick Srb, Bus Whitehead, Anton Lawry, Bill Denker and Henry Cech.

The Huskers will leave Minneapolis at 9:00 Sunday morning and are due back in Lincoln Sunday night at 9:15.
