

Faculty Senate Defers Ball Plan

Numbers 2100 to 2600 Register Till 12 Saturday

Students holding registration numbers 2100 through 2600 will be taken by the assignment committee today for second semester registration. The assignment committee reported Thursday that registration had slowed down somewhat because of the necessity of making adjustments with the closed sections.

The committee asked that students check their appointment numbers and watch the number list posted in the library and published in The Daily Nebraskan to make sure of reporting on the right day.

The assignment committee will be open in the library until Saturday noon at which time the registration process will cease until the termination of Christmas vacation. Registration will begin again at 8 a. m., Monday, Jan. 5. No students will be registered during the holidays.

Again students are urged to secure from their advisors the names of three alternative courses which can be used in case of closed sections. If each student has three alternative courses, it will rarely be necessary for him to return to his advisor if he has trouble making out a suitable schedule.

The list of closed classes up until 2:30 Thursday includes the following:

- Econ 204.
- Econ 103, Section I.
- Econ 115, Section I. II: Labs B, C and D.

Cornshucks Late, Will Go On Sale In Union Today

The December issue of "Cornshucks," campus humor magazine, was delayed through printing difficulties and did not appear Thursday morning as previously announced.

It was delivered late Thursday evening to all organized houses, and will be on sale in the Union booth Friday and Saturday at 20c per copy. Subscribers who live out in Lincoln may also pick up their copies in the booth, following the procedure outlined for the first issue.

The December issue of the magazine contains, among other features, the winner of "The Most Beautiful Legs On Campus" contest.

Music Majors Enjoy Yule Party

Music majors gathered around a gaily decorated Christmas tree at the School of Music Wednesday afternoon for their annual Christmas party. The informal Christmas singfests are sponsored each year by Dr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Westbrook.

As students and teachers filled the hall benches, and crowded on the floor and along the stairway to the second floor of the music building, a string ensemble played "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing." This quartette, composed of first violin, Ted Brunson, second violin, Aleta Snell, viola, James Price, and cello, Lester Harris, then accompanied the group singing lead by Morris Hayes.

Sigma Alpha Iota, music sorority, vocal ensemble of twelve, lead by Annette Jacobs, performed four numbers: "This New Christmas Carol," by Malin, "A Star Shines Bright O'er Bethlehem," by Banks, Hagle's "Long, Long Ago," and an old English carol, "The Holly and the Ivy." Arlene Kostal accompanied the ensemble.

Counselor Tea Honors 18 Girls For Fall Work

Mary Dye, coed counselor president, named 18 coed counselors as outstanding in recognition of their work through the first semester during the group's annual Christmas tea at Ellen Smith hall Thursday afternoon.

The girls named were Elaine Arenson, Jean Blaha, Dorothy Brown, Margy Cherny, Marjorie Clark, Pat Guhin, Esther Horst, Peggie Lawrie, Mary Helen Malory, Lee Mastalir, Marguerite Nootz, Janet Nutzmann, Peggy O'Donnell, Katy Rapp, Pat Rolfsmier, Jeanette Sieloff, Ruth Troxell and Marianna Ward.

Counselors named for the honor were selected on the basis of points under the organization's system, and for general cooperation and ability.

Shirley Sabin, member of the coed counselor board was in charge of the arrangements for the tea.

'48 Cornhusker 'Coming Along In Fine Style'

Attention students! "Huskerman" reports that the 1948 Nebraska "Cornhusker" is coming along in fine style. He predicts that this year's issue will be one of the finest ever published.

"Huskerman," the little character who will be seen throughout the pages of the year-book, has been having a busy time keeping up with activities on the campus and seeing that the "Cornhusker" staff covers all those events that will make up the annual publication.

All pictures for class and fraternity sections will be completed this week. Many of the write-ups have been handed in and a great deal of the engraving is finished. The section for the various colleges of the university is also ready to go to press. This year's cover has been chosen and it promises to be attractive and different from other issues. Since photographs will be taken until April, the campus scenes section is not yet complete, but the "Cornhusker" photographers are

Chancellor's Greeting

To All Members of the University Family:
May we take this opportunity to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. The past year has been a year filled with much satisfaction because students, faculty, staff, and their wives have worked together as a team. For this fine spirit we express our deep appreciation. That the holidays may be rich in all of the good things of life is the sincere wish of Reuben and Edna Gustavson.

'Persians' Will Appeal To Senate

Ben Wall, president of Persians, proposed campus organization, declared in a special statement to The Daily Nebraskan Thursday afternoon that the council's decision not to accept the constitution will be appealed to the Faculty Senate early in January. "We have spent the last 18 hours trying to revise our constitution to meet with the approval of the council," Wall stated, "but we find that any of these changes would reverse the entire nature of our organization." The decision to appeal followed the unsuccessful attempt at revision.

Bob Wenke, law college representative and chairman of the constitutions committee of the council, declared in his report to the council Wednesday that the proposed organization is a "secret political fraternity."

Wall, in his statement, attacked this charge by declaring that "Persians is neither a secret organization nor a fraternity. It is political," he admitted, "but we aim only to see that the best qualified candidates are placed in office, and do not intend to limit these candidates to our own members."

Further attacking Wenke's stand, Wall, arts and science freshman from Arcadia, stated that "Mr. Wenke resorted to name-calling in order to prevent the acceptance of our constitution."

busy carrying out their picture schedule.

The business staff has been selling ads and keeping the finances in order. More than 200 workers making up the large "Cornhusker" staff are hurrying to meet the deadline within the next few weeks.

Almost every issue of the 1948 "Cornhusker" has been sold. The books will be in the hands of the students before the end of the school year.

Cornhusker Pictures.

Today and tomorrow are the last days individuals may have pictures taken for the 1948 CORNHUSKER.

Senior Week Proposal Also Sent to Committee

BY WALLY BECKER.

Action on the Student Council's tentative plan for a Senior Week and the proposal for an all-University open house was postponed by the University Faculty Senate which voted late Thursday to refer both proposals to special committees for study.

Dale Ball presented the Student Council proposal for an all-University open house, which would, among other things, split the traditional Ivy Day ceremonies into three parts, to be held Friday, April 30, and Saturday and Sunday, May 1 and 2.

Nebraska Upsets Missouri, 46-44

Nebraska's surprising cage crew came up with the top surprise of the current campaign Thursday afternoon by upsetting a favored Missouri Tiger five 46-44 at Kansas City. Center Dick Schleiger potted the winning two points for Nebraska in the final 40 seconds.

Kansas State handed Oklahoma a 55-48 whipping in the first game of the pre-conference Big Six tourney.

Miss Beverly Haarmann.

Pershing Rifles Name Sponsor

At a recent meeting of the Pershing Rifles fraternity, Miss Beverly Haarmann of Omaha, was elected company sponsor for 1947-48.

Candidates were nominated by the chapter members of the Pershing Rifles, and Miss Haarmann was selected by the actives and pledges. Other finalists were Sally Swiler, Caroline Roberts, and Marilyn Able.

The new sponsor is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, Coed Counselors, YWCA, and is a sophomore in teachers college. She attended Omaha Central high school. As sponsor, Miss Haarmann will be present for all Pershing Rifle ceremonies.

Ag Union Plan After-Vacation Entertainment

With Christmas vacation a reality at last, the ag union activities board has turned toward "after-vacation" plans, with an eye towards providing more entertainment for ag students.

Jack Dewulf, chairman of the dance committee has announced a dance in student activities building for Friday, January 9. Music will be by Bobby Mills and his orchestra. "This will be the first such dance to be held on ag campus and, with the support of the students, we hope to offer more," remarked Dewulf.

Tickets for the dance will retail at $1.50 per couple and dancing will be from 8:00-11:30. Tickets are on sale now at the ag union office.

The "siesta hour," a feature of the general entertainment committee will be continued after vacation at 12:15 Tuesday in the union lounge. The program will consist of selected short subjects and a cartoon, according to Neil Miller, chairman of the committee.

Prof. N. H. Cromwell's proposal that a special faculty co-ordinating committee work out objections and rough edges of the Ball plan was adopted by the Senate.

The proposal for a Senior week, to be held May 31 to June 7, was presented by Senior class president Glen Blinde. He was immediately besieged by questions and objections by the professors.

Philosopher Asks.

Dr. W. H. Werkmeister, chairman of the philosophy department, asked Blinde how a Senior Week and an examination period could be run concurrently. The proposed Senior week would run from May 31 to June 7; final examinations are scheduled from May 26 to June 5.

Blinde replied that a Senior Week would preclude any final examinations during that period, but suggested that a preliminary period of exams for seniors might be held before the regular exam period if the professor wished.

Strenuous Protest.

Immediate protests to another period of exams was voiced by N. H. Cromwell, of the chemistry department, who said that exams at that time would completely overwhelm the harassed professors. The senate enthusiastically confirmed his objection.

Dean T. J. Thompson protested the seniors being excused from final exams. "Final examinations," he asserted "must be taken." Dr. W. K. Pfeiler supported Thompson's objection. He emphasized that finals were an integral part of the semester's work. Pfeiler was supported by N. H. Cromwell.

Reports Are Not Grades.

At this point Prof. D. A. Worcester rose to clarify a student misunderstanding. Students, he said, commonly think that the preliminary reports made by instructors to the registrar just previous to final examination period contain the final grades for the seniors and that finals for seniors are thus unnecessary. "They do not. They are merely statements of whether or not a senior will pass the course; they do not indicate his semester grade, which is reckoned after the final exams," he said.

Professor Cromwell then moved that the Senate's committee on committees appoint a committee

New Countryman Available Today

A timely Christmas present for all subscribers, the third issue of Cornhusker Countryman, ag student magazine, will be available for distribution today.

Students may pick up their copies in the Countryman office located in the Student Union, according to Phil Raynard, acting editor.

Only student publication on ag campus, the Countryman is enjoying its first full-time year on campus. Marianne Srb is editor, and James Sears and Phil Raynard are managing editors of the magazine.

Exam Schedule, Point Chart, Appear Today

Two features of more than passing interest to students which appear elsewhere in this issue of The Daily Nebraskan are the men's activity point schedule and the schedule for first semester examinations.

The examination schedule on page eight will be repeated in subsequent issues up to the examination period.

The activity point schedule is printed on page four and goes into effect immediately.
