

Huskérs Get Initial Loop Test

Good's Charges Collide Scrappy Cyclone Quint

Coach Harry Good's University of Nebraska cage quintet will open the 1948 Big Six basketball race Tuesday night when it clashes with the Iowa State Cyclones on the Ames court. The Huskers go into the loop opener with a 5-6 record, while the Cyclones have won six and lost two.

Although the early season ratings by the experts overlooked the Huskers and the Cyclones, both clubs have caused enough fireworks in recent contests to draw a near record crowd in the Iowa State gym tonight. On the basis of the pre-season Big Six tournament results, Nebraska will be a slight favorite.

Both quintets finished the tournament with identical records. Nebraska dropped Missouri and then bowed to Oklahoma A. & M. and Kansas. Iowa State defeated Colorado and lost to the Aggies and Missouri. The Oklahoma A. & M. edge over Nebraska was one point, while the Aggies defeated the Cyclones by 11 points. The Huskers clipped Missouri, 46-44, and the Tigers dropped Iowa State by an eight-point margin.

Huskérs Have Height.

Nebraska's starting five will hold a slight height advantage over the Cyclone starters. The Huskers will average approximately 6 feet 2 inches, and the Cyclones will average about 6 feet 1/2 inch.

Iowa State will start four men who were regular players on last season's squad. Roy and Ray Wehde will start at the forward posts with Don Paulsen at center and Ron Norman at guard. The fifth starter will be 5 foot 8 inch Bob Petersen. Petersen is considered one of the fastest cagers ever to wear a Cyclone uniform. He was an all-conference guard in 1946.

Iowa State gained the spotlight during Christmas vacation when the Cyclones downed highly-rated Michigan of the Big Nine in two games. The I-Staters' most recent victory came at the hands of Drake university.

Allen Replaces Cerv.

Coach Harry Good named Bob Allen to replace injured Bob Cerv on the traveling squad. Cerv received a back injury in the Nevada game last Tuesday and will be unable to go against the Cyclones. However, he will be ready for the home contest with Missouri on Jan. 12.

The 12-man Husker squad includes Joe Brown, Henry Cech, Rod Cox, Bill Denker, Anton Lawry, Neal Mosser, Claude Retherford, Dick Schleiger, Paul Shields, Dick Srb, Milton Whitehead, and Allen.

Probable starting lineups:
Nebraska: Retherford, Cerv, Lawry, Mosser, Shields.
Iowa State: Brown, Cech, Cox, Denker, Norman, Paulsen, Petersen.
Officials: Ted O'Sullivan (Missouri); Corby Collin (Creighton).

Lewandowski is a member of the NCAA baseball committee and the committee on committees. Patterson is chairman of both the NCAA and Olympic wrestling committees and Miller is a member of the NCAA gymnastic group.

Intramural activities are off to a full-scale start after the Christmas holidays.

First Jack Best competition slated is the indoor track meet which is to be held Jan. 13, 15 and 19. The meet will be run off on the Huskers' indoor track in the east stadium and will start each night at 5:10. All competitors should, however, report earlier for their necessary warmup preparations.

Jan. 12 Deadline.

Deadline for filing entries at the intramural office in the coliseum is noon Jan. 12. The meet is open to all university students except track lettermen and present members of the NU varsity track, swimming, wrestling and basketball squads.

Eight separate events are scheduled. The pole vault, shot put and two-lap run finals will be run off the first day while the finals in the high jump and one-lap run will be completed on the second day of competition. The final day will see the finals in the 50 and 60-yard dash and the four-lap relay.

Contestants may not use track shoes.

Interfraternity Keglers Form Handicap Loop

Bowlers from 12 organized houses will open competition the week of Jan. 13 in the Interfraternity Handicap League which will run for 12 weeks.

Teams will complete every Tuesday at 4 p. m. at the Lincoln Bowling alleys.

Those sets entered are Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Tau Delta, Theta Xi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Zeta Beta Tau, Beta Sigma Psi.

Though the new league is interfrat competition it will not offer points in the Jack Best race. To the winners will go two trophies, one from the Lincoln Bowling Alleys, the other from the league.

President of the league is Bill Campbell, Sigma Nu.

Teams should remind their members that action will not start until next week. All houses will be notified through the mails in case of any immediate changes.

Individual Bowling Crown to Higgins

Malcolm Higgins of Clayton was declared the winner of the second annual University of Nebraska individual bowling tournament which was completed prior to the Christmas holidays.

Higgins posted a five game score of 992 in winning the first place award. Vic Yoden, Omaha, placed second with an 867 total, while William Anderson, Lincoln, grabbed third place with an 850 score. Fourth place was won by Bill Campbell of Omaha, with 822. Dave Knapp of Lincoln rolled 814 for fifth place and John Bartlett of Beatrice tallied an 802 for sixth place.

A total of 56 men competed in the individual tourney.

MISSES IOWA STATE TILT—Bob Cerv, scrappy Nebraska guard, will miss the Huskers' initial Big Six conference test Tuesday night. Coach Harry Good was forced to drop Cerv from the traveling squad to give the bruising back court performer a chance to let injuries sustained in the Nevada game Dec. 30 heal. Cerv will, however, be ready for the Huskers' next home performance against the Missouri Tigers Jan. 12.

Rifle Shooting Teams Must Submit Entries

Entry deadline for the rifle shooting competition is Tuesday afternoon at 5 p. m. Entries are to be filed by telephone (3180) or in person at 207 Coliseum.

Matches will begin at 4:15 at the rifle range in the basement of Andrews Hall. Competition is open to fraternity and independent groups and only teams may enter. The individual tourney will start early in February.

Shooting will be done from four positions: Prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. Teams must be composed of five members. Organizations may enter any number of teams but only one may be designated for the Jack Best points.

Shooters may purchase ammunition, at one cent per shell, at the range or they may furnish their own. Rifles will be furnished by the ROTC if the contestant does not have one to conform to specifications. Rifles used will be regular .22 guns with a trigger pull of not less than three pounds.

Some guys have all the breaks. If a girl doesn't have a crush on Dougie Doyle, it's on Norrie Anderson.
