

Lewandowski Resigns; Board Seeks Director

Ed. Note: Altho The Daily Nebraskan realizes that the following story is not new, it is felt that its importance is such that students of the university may wish to read complete details themselves.

A. J. Lewandowski, athletic director and business manager of the university, resigned as athletic director during the Christmas vacation, altho he retained his post as business manager of the athletic department.

Announced by Board.

The announcement came following a meeting of the university athletic board which also announced that a new director of athletics is being sought who will be given full power to choose an athletic staff, including a football coach. Roy Green, chairman of the board, made this announcement following a four and one-half hour session behind closed doors.

"The Athletic Board of Intercollegiate Athletics is seeking a director of athletics, to be granted full power to select his staff. This is done at the recommendation of A. J. Lewandowski, who asked some time ago to be relieved of the directorship in order to devote full time to the position of business manager," the statement said.

The rest of the statement given by the board is as follows: "The Board has been in communication with men nationally respected in the field of intercollegiate athletics, such as Dana X. Bible, athletic director of the University of Texas, and Colonel L. McC. 'Biff' Jones, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, for guidance and information.

"It will require time to accomplish the board's objectives. The press and radio have been of invaluable help by disregarding the many rumors which generate in situations such as this.

"We want to keep the people of Nebraska informed at all times and we intend to do so just as quickly as possible when official announcements can be justified."

Board members told newsmen that no further meeting was planned, but that the public would be informed of any new developments.

"We do not expect a meeting until at least another week or ten days, and it might be longer than that, depending upon developments," Chairman Green said.

As yet, no definite action has been announced, and the new policy still has not been enacted. The future status of Heach Coach Bernie Masterson and his staff will be left to the discretion of the new director who will have full power to act.

No Successor Named to Fill Seaton's Post

No successor has been named to fill the post of operating superintendent and purchasing agent of the University, vacated recently by the death of L. F. Seaton.

Mr. Seaton, a University employee for nearly thirty years, died Friday of a heart ailment at a local hospital. He had been nationally regarded as one of the pioneers in institutional air conditioning. During his tenure of office, innumerable improvements were brought about on the campus, including the Love Library, Coliseum, the Athletic Field House, the Student Union, Andrews Hall, Morrill Hall, and especially, the University power plant. He also supervised construction of dormitories and the Husker-ville project.

Chancellor Gustavson paid tribute to Seaton as "a fine American" and a man of "great loyalty." The chancellor and board of regents are expected to name a successor for the post in a few days.

Attention Graduates!

The University Graduate club will hold a dinner party January 13, at 6:30 p. m., in parlors XYZ in the Union.

Tickets are on sale in each department and at the Union office. All graduate students, members and non-members, are urged to attend.

Courtesy Lincoln Journal. A. J. LEWANDOWSKI.

Essay Contest Winners to Get Trips Abroad

A free trip to Scandinavia will be awarded to the six top winners of an essay contest sponsored by the Swedish American Line, in commemoration of the Swedish Pioneer Centennial in 1948.

Winners will board a liner of the Swedish American White Viking Fleet for a six-to-eight week trip this summer, with all expenses paid. Twelve additional prizes will be offered including government bonds and a $200 trip to the Swedish Centennial Celebration in the middle west next year.

The subject of the essays, which are limited to 2,500 words, is: "The Influence of Swedish Settlers on a Community or Region." They will be judged by a board of 14 prominent educators.

Entries should be addressed to the Contest Editor, Swedish American Line, 636 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y., and must be received before April 1, 1948.

Rev. R. W. Nutt Directs Wesley UN Foundation

The Rev. Richard W. Nutt, formerly pastor of Grace Methodist church, Waterbury, Conn., has been assigned as director of the Wesley Foundation of Nebraska. Rev. Nutt succeeds Rev. Robert Drew who resigned last fall to go to an eastern church.

Nutt is a graduate of Bucknell university, Lewisburg, Pa., and also the Yale Divinity school at New Haven, Conn., where he received his bachelor of divinity degree in 1945.

He has been a member of the New York east conference of the Methodist church. He was an associate member of a Wesley foundation while in school and also served as director of religious education and youth work at Whiteville, Conn.

Nutt and his family will make their home at the Methodist Student House, 1417 R, where his office is already set up.

$35 Scholarships Offered to Coeds

Delta Omicron, music sorority, will offer three $35 scholarships to freshman, sophomore, and junior women majoring in music who have a 78 scholastic rating and intend to remain in the school of music during the next term.

Delta Omicron has a national rotating scholarship of $100 which this year was sent to Theta chapter at this university. The scholarship was divided into three parts so that more might benefit.

Anyone applying for the scholarship will tryout at the school of music Jan. 9.

Cyclones Hand Nebraska Severe 55-44 Jolt at Ames

Husker Cagers Unable To Stop Late IS Rally

BY CUB CLEM.

Nebraska's hopes for a Big Seven title shot suffered a big setback Tuesday night when the Iowa State Cyclones pulled away at the end of the conference game to win 55-44. The Cornhuskers led only once in the game, just before the half when they had a 21-20 margin.

Pacing the Ames attack was Don Paulsen who sunk 11 points and played a good rebounding game. The rangy center led both teams in scoring and, teamed with the famed Wehde twins, led his team to victory.

For Nebraska, the scoring was pretty well divided, with three men, Rod Cox, Dick Schleiger and Neal Mosser, taking honors with seven points each. Claude Retherford, the French Lick, Ind., hot-shot, swished a mere six, but played a standout game nevertheless.

Quick Lead.

Iowa State got off to a quick lead which they held most of the first half, but a torrid Cornhusker rally put them ahead 21-20 with four minutes left. The Cyclones came right back and pulled ahead 31-26 by halftime.

After the intermission, the game continued at a rapid pace, with Nebraska keeping near enough to the Ames squad to be dangerous. However, with about six minutes left, the Cyclone attack was accelerated and they won going away.

Kansas State Loses.

In upsetting the Huskers, Iowa State got off on the right foot in the Big Seven race. At the same time, Kansas was edging Oklahoma 39-38, placing the Jayhawkers in the challenger's role behind Kansas State, who dropped their first tilt of the season last night to Long Island university in Madison Square Garden.

Nebraska's won-lost record now stands at 5-7. They have beaten South Dakota, Missouri, Colorado Aggies, Stanford and Colorado State, while losing to Minnesota, Purdue, Kansas, Oklahoma Ag-

See GAME, Page 3

Harvard Prof To Give Lecture Series at UN

Dr. Carl J. Friedrich, professor of government at Harvard University and authority on European politics, has been selected as the first Montgomery Lecturer at the University of Nebraska.

He will deliver a series of lectures on the campus Monday through Friday, Jan. 12-16, Dr. Carl E. Georgi, chairman of the Montgomery Lectureship committee, announced.

The Montgomery Lectureship on Contemporary Civilization was established in 1946 from the income of the James Henry Montgomery Memorial, and endowment provided in 1941 by the Ora Clair Montgomery Estate.

The lectureship brings to the University eminent authorities such as Dr. Friedrich who discuss topics of current interest to the faculty, the students and the public. The purpose of the lectures, Dr. Georgi said, is to generate constructive thought on contemporary problems.

UN Starts Research On Retail Sales

In co-operation with the U.S. Census Bureau, the University of Nebraska Research department will start collecting monthly complete information on retail sales in the state, Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer, department director, reported Tuesday.

The census sample of retail sales, which once fairly well covered the state, has shrunk until it now includes only two counties, Dr. Palmer said. He explained that the sampling method is more scientific for obtaining correct national figures, but it is almost useless for state estimates.

With the new co-operative arrangement a much better coverage for the state and the individual cities and regions will be obtained, Dr. Palmer said.

Pub Board To Appoint 'Daily' Staff

Appointments of The Daily Nebraskan staff members for second semester will be made at the meeting of the Publications Board, January 17, 9 a. m., according to Dr. William F. Swindler, chairman of the Board.

Positions to be filled are Editor, two Managing Editors, five News Editors, Ag News Editor, Special Features Editor and Society Editor. Positions on the business staff are Business Manager, three Assistant Business Managers, Circulation Manager.

All staff positions filled by Pub Board appointment are paid positions. Reporters for The Daily Nebraskan are paid monthly on a basis of inches of copy appearing in the paper.

Faculty members on the Board include Dr. John Alden of the History dept., Prof. Kenneth Forward, English dept., and Prof. H. E. Bradford, chairman of the Vocational Education dept.

Student members are senior Henry Anderson, junior Clay Kennedy and sophomore Jack Solomon.

An announcement regarding applications, qualifications and eligibility will appear in the Friday edition of The Daily Nebraskan.

Mills to Play For Ag Dance Friday Night

Ag social activities for the new year will start off with a step in the right direction Friday night when the union activities board will present the rhythms of Bobby Mills and his orchestra in the College Activitise building.

The dance will inaugurate a program designed to bring entertainment out to ag campus, according to Jack DeWulf, chairman of the dance committee. DeWulf expressed hope that ag students would support the affair to such an extent that more dances could be scheduled for the future.

Tickets for the dance are now on sale in the ag union office and are priced at $1.50 per couple. Dancing will be from 8 to 11:30.

Other members of the dance committee include: Connie Crosbie, Jim Harmon, Robert Kahrs, Howard Skelton and Keith Arterburn. Virgene Kovarik is sponsor.

Piano Students To Play in Duo Recital Today

A program of duo-piano music will be presented as the weekly school of fine arts recital Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Temple when Roma Johnson and Houghton Furr perform a program of predominantly modern music.

A sophomore in the school of music, Miss Johnson is violist with the University and Lincoln Symphony orchestras, as well as a student of piano. Furr is Law Librarian and instructor in law. A graduate of the university, he won the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra auditions in 1945, performing the Liszt piano concerto. He is also a well-known Lincoln organist.

From the classical repertory, the program Wednesday will present numbers by Handel and Schumann only, with contemporary numbers by the American Aaron Copland, the Czech Petjrek, Englishman Bax and Spaniard Cassado. Arnold Bax holds the office of "Master of the Kings Music," and as a musical poet laureate composed special music for the recent royal wedding.

Andante, from Organ Concerto No. 4, Handel.
Toccata and Fuge, Petjrek.
Andante and Variations, Schumann.
Hardanger, Bax.
Moy Mell, Bax.
Requiem, Cassado.
Danson Cubano, Copland.

Ten-Week Study Aids' Lab Formed

Reading and study aids laboratory, sponsored by the Junior division and conducted by Prof. K. F. McCormick, guidance consultant, will enroll students on a voluntary basis for a ten week training program during the second semester.

Each laboratory section formed will number not more than 20 students and will meet for one two-hour period each week—from 3 to 5 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday. Topics to be covered in laboratory meetings will include: Reading, skills, work-study skills, examination skills, skills in attack and concentration, classroom skills, and library skills.

Those students who wish to participate in the training program are requested to clear their enrollment in the program with Prof. McCormick before the second semester gets under way. Those who are enrolled will be expected to attend regularly and to complete the training program successfully.

The program is designed to help the student help himself become more effective. Therefore, according to McCormick, students at all levels of scholastic ability may expect to benefit from participating in it.

Union Activities Easy on Budget This Week-end

A week-end program designed to be both entertaining and easy on the budget is being planned by the Union activities committee. The plans include all Nebraska students who are invited to spend this week-end at the Union.

This Friday, from 8 to 12, a big orchestra dance will be held for all. It's a campus "Unionizer," with Jean Moyer's band on hand to furnish the music. The admission price is only 44c, including tax, for an entire evening of dancing.

Sunday afternoon, the Union coffee hour will be resumed. Everyone is asked to share the free brownies and coffee. The coffee hour will be from 5 to 6, during which Bonnie Compton will provide organ music.

The movie favorite, "Stanley and Livingstone," starring Spencer Tracy, will be shown Sunday night at 7:30.

The Union is ready to bust its seams this week-end with students eager for a memorable evening. Jan. 9 to 11, the Union offers a special invitation. Join in the fun!

Graduate Student In Geology Gets Shell Fellowship

A $1,200 fellowship has been awarded to Charles M. Hauptman, a graduate student in geology at this university. Prof. E. F. Schramm, head of the geology department, announced today that the Shell Oil Company and subsidiaries awarded the fellowship to Hauptman.

A stipend for equipment amounting to $300 is included in the Shell Fellowship. Hauptman, a World War II veteran, will use the funds to carry out research work concerned with Nebraska's oil-bearing Hunton formation in Richardson county.