

Metropolitan Opera Tenor Appears in Recital Wednesday

Ramon Vinay, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera association, will be heard as the fifth attraction of the Lincoln Fine Arts series on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8:30 p. m.

Formerly, these concerts were held in the Lincoln High School auditorium, but because of central location and greater access to the students they will be held in St. Paul Methodist church.

Vinay, born in Chile, made his debut with the National Opera in Mexico. In 1946, he sang "Carmen" with the Metropolitan and later sang in the Hollywood Bowl, Stokowski conducting. Vinay was the first artist from the Western Hemisphere to sing the leading role in an opening performance at the La Scala Opera company in Milan, Italy, where he opened the season this year as "Otello" under Toscanini's baton. Vinay returned Sunday from a concert tour through Florence, Genoa, Turin and Naples.

Critics' Word.

Critic Harriet Johnson of the New York Post said of his "Carmen" performance, "Vinay makes a virile, handsome figure on the stage and his singing was hailed with enthusiasm by the audience, undoubtedly because of the freshness, resonance and lovely quality of his voice."

His program will include French, English and Italian songs and arias by Wagner and Bizet. After his concert tour of Nebraska and Colorado, Vinay will return to New York to sing with the Metropolitan during the last of February and March.

Special student tickets, which are 90 cents, will be on sale at Walt's Music Store and at the door Wednesday night. General admission prices range from $1.20 to $3.60.

The Eyes Have It

By Jeanne Kerrigan

Basketball had it too . . . just for laughs we were leafing thru last year's Daily Nebraskan files and found in the month of January, 1947, a heated controversial discussion on the "deplorable basketball situation" . . . However, the participants were not debating evils of the coach or the team, but whether bad sportsmanship on the part of the fans was the fault of students or "city rowdies." The question was not "Who won the game?" but "Who smashed who in the face first?"

(Just to refresh your memory, there was a near riot on the floor at the KU-Nebraska basketball struggle on Jan. 14, 1947, when an over-excited fan rushed out on the floor to fix somebody or other . . . no one could figure out just who was being pushed around.)

Interesting note in editorial of Jan. 19, 1947, referred to the Omaha World-Herald's "O Street Gang" pains . . . how long do these pains last?

Note to Bob Hunt: Maybe controversy over the identity of Phaedrus, the NSA or the faction will not affect your taxes appreciably and will not settle our relations with Russia or the future of the world, but perhaps they are a part of college activity . . . at least to some of us "youngsters." After all, even if these things do seem insignificant, meeting the "trivial" problems and discussing the "trivial" questions of college affairs might prepare some of the "less experienced individuals to help face the really serious problems later.

Seems the Pershing Rifles are more than getting their share of publicity lately . . . police raided a faculty-chaperoned Rifles party the other night after a tip-off that they would find a university group indulging in . . . horrible thought . . . alcoholic beverage . . . red faced police soon departed after being reassured as to the complete innocence of said party.

When Theta Xi pledges took over the house Monday night and threw out all persons resembling actives, at least one major catastrophe was reported . . . House prexy managed to give himself a black eye when in squirming to free himself from restraining ropes, he fell against a piece of furniture.

No Student Council.

Student council members are reminded that there will be no meeting today, due to the beginning of exam week tomorrow.

Alpha Epsilon Rho.

Alpha Epsilon Rho actives and pledges are urged to attend a regular meeting January 28, at 5:05 in Room 27 Temple.

Postman Thinks 'Lincoln Star' Is 'Daily Nebraskan'

Sir Isaac Newton said that to every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. But, at The Daily Nebraskan, to every action there is an equal and identical reaction.

Tuesday's Daily Nebraskan told how J. E. Lawrence, editor of The Lincoln Star and professor of journalism, got mail at the Daily's office addressed to him as "Managing Editor, The Daily Nebraskan, Lincoln."

Came Tuesday afternoon and the Newtonian reaction. It was a letter, addressed to "Walter W. White, Publisher, The Lincoln Daily Nebraskan, Lincoln."

Walter W. White is publisher of The Lincoln Star.

Was it the power of the press or Sir Isaac's gravitational pull?

Dial Exchanges Replace Manual Campus Phones

Installation of a campus-wide system of hand type, dial telephones has been completed to facilitate efficiency of intra-campus calls.

Special exchange numbers have been assigned each university department and activity office. A telephone directory has been issued by the service department.

The new procedure replaces the intermediate use of a central operator who asks for the number requested and make the connection manually. University exchange numbers have four digits. To dial a six-digit Lincoln exchange number, one first dials "O" and then the regular number. To make a long-distance call, to report phones out-of-order, or to get campus information operator, one dials "9."

A partial list of frequently-used numbers has been culled from the directory by The Daily Nebraskan as a service:

A Thought

There comes to mind the story of the extremely old lady who, when asked the secret of her long and full life, replied that when she worked, she worked hard, when she thought, she thought hard, and when she relaxed, she went to sleep.

To most of us, relaxation is not synonymous with sleep but the basic idea behind the behavior seems quite sound for an old maxim goes thus: "If it's worth going it's worth doing well." This is the basis of working or thinking hard.

According to James Russell Lowell, "the narrowest provincialism is that of Self." In order to achieve success in any field a person must devote himself to some cause of goal which is greater than himself—something in which he can lose his petty, personal feelings and sense of kinship of purpose, working diligently to further this purpose.

Peace for All.

In the heart of each of us there is the hope that in our day the world will be united in an effort to preserve peace for everyone regardless of the national or personal feelings of one nation or person.

Each of us owes it to himself and others to forget himself for the good of ourselves and others.

Each individual has some characteristic which makes him a separate person. It is this individual talent which must be cultivated and dedicated to the cause in which you believe.

The Self.

It is only when you realize how small and insufficient you are as a person that you are able to truly grow, for it is at that time that you need something outside of yourself in which to place your faith and for which you want to serve.

There are great varieties of causes to which one can devote his time and efforts but whether it be passing finals in order to stay in school, working to put honesty in politics, whether campus or national, or furthering the cause of brotherhood thruout the world, you owe it to yourself and your cause to give it your best.

Ohio Veterans May Receive Compensations

Ohio veterans will receive a shot in the arm when the compensation fund authorized by their state reaches them. According to Mr. Fleming of the local Veterans' Administration office, as soon as application forms can be obtained by the local office and all the requirements fulfilled and checked, the bonus will be sent.

The compensation amounts to $10 for each month of domestic service (inside the United States), between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, and $15 for each month of foreign service during the same length of time.

There are two service requirements: each applicant must have completed 90 days of service between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, and must have left the Armed Forces under honorable circumstances.

The residence requirements state that the applicant must have lived in Ohio for one year prior to induction, and must have been an Ohio resident on the first day of his active service.

Those who are eligible should contact the local VA office as soon as the notice in The Daily Nebraskan tells of the arrival of the application forms from Ohio.

Architecture . . .

The last resignation, that of Kenneth Clark, an instructor of design, occurred Friday. Woodrow Hull, a part-time instructor, and Burket Graf, an instructor, submitted resignations after Associate Prof. Benjamin F. Hemphill was asked to leave the faculty Jan. 12.

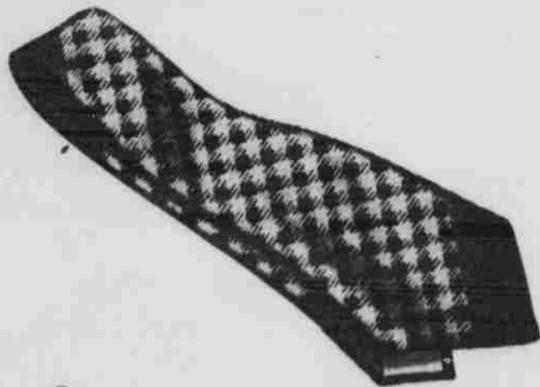

Another instructor, Herma Skaret, resigned just after the first of the year. All resignations, except Hemphill's take effect at the end of the semester.

No action on the resignations has been announced by the board of regents. They last met Jan. 17.

Two things every college man should know!

1. This is a hot trumpet player. When he's in (the groove), he's out (of this world). He plays this infernal machine in a band, provoking dancing, dreaming, and mayhem.

2. This is a "Manhattan" Tie. Designed by our own hep artists. "Manhattan" Ties, too, tend to provoke dancing and dreaming—even mayhem if your roommate tries to borrow 'em. See these handsome, colorful ties at your "Manhattan" dealer's.
