Six Coeds Win UN Beauty Title

Six new Beauty Queens reign over the Nebraska campus. Introduced Friday at the Student Foundation Valentine Tea Dance, the Cornhusker "fairest" are Kay Menke, Sherry Swanson, Ellie Lykke, Joan McMahon, Priscilla Knudsen, and Joan Patton.

The girls were presented by Foundation President Lorraine Landeryou and escorted by the Eligible Bachelors.

At their presentation, a song was sung for each girl, and a Bachelor called at the door of a large heart for his "date" for the evening.

Irving Dana called for Kay Menke, while Pat Nordin sang "Be Careful, It's My Heart." Kay, a Delta Gamma, wore an aqua crepe date dress.

To the tune of "How Many Hearts Have You Broken?" sung by Pat, LeBaron Goodwin sought Sherry Swanson. A Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sherry wore a dress of American Beauty brocade taffeta.

"Candy" was sung for Miss Ellie Lykke, who is in California, and thus unable to attend the presentation. Ellie is an Alpha Phi.

Al Potter called for Miss Joan McMahon while Kay Worchester sang "I Love You." Joan is a Pi Phi member, and she wore navy blue taffeta.

"Beautiful Lady" greeted Priscilla Knudsen. Jet Strain sang while Jim Swanson called for his "date." This Kappa Kappa Gamma appeared in her cinnamon lace dress.

Joan Patton, escorted by Byron Hooper, wore a black suit. She appeared after Miss Strain sang "I'll See You in My Dreams." By answered, "You bet, for I've got a date with Miss Joan Patton." Joan is a Delta Gamma.

Each girl was given a bouquet of red and white carnations. These were presented by Bachelors Dugan Doyle and John Ayres. The eighth Eligible Bachelor, Bob Wenke, stood at the door of the heart to help each Queen at her entrance.

The girls were selected from twelve finalists by John Robert Powers, famed model agency head, from photographs of the candidates. Copies of the photos adorned the ballroom.

Peg Lawrie New Foundation Editor

Peggy Lawrie has been named editor of the 1948-49 student directory. Audrey Flood will act as business manager of the annual student-faculty publication.

These announcements were made today by Gene Mitchell, newly elected president of the student Foundation, which publishes the book.

Recent changes in the Foundation constitution created board positions for the editor and business manager of the directory. These specified that the posts

Faculty Women Offer 2 Senior Scholarships

University Faculty Women's club offered two senior scholarships of $100 each last week. Each is granted in recognition of meritorious efforts in school life, and scholastic attainment.

Any girl attending the university with enough hours to graduate in June or August, 1949, is eligible for one of these scholarships under the following conditions:

- (1) She must be wholly or partially self-supporting;
- (2) She must have an average of not less than 5.5.

Applications may be secured at the office of the Registrar, the Dean of Women, or Miss Margaret Fedde. Each candidate must mail an application to Mrs. C. C. Wiggans, 1220 North 37th street, on or before March 13.

Before sending applications to the scholarship committee, candidates are requested to give the registrar's office written permission to send their grades to the scholarship committee.

Applicants are requested to meet for personal interviews with the scholarship committee in Ellen Smith Hall, between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. Friday, March 19. Any applicant unable to meet the committee at that time may arrange a special appointment with Mrs. C. C. Wiggans, telephone 6-3891.

The scholarship awards will be announced at the Honors Convo-should be separate from other Foundation positions. Last year Barbara Turk was directory editor and a district chairman, business managers Gene Mitchell and Greg Kallos were Foundation officers.

Chairman.

Miss Mitchell also announced today that Sally Holmes will serve as the chairman of Foundation district 6. She was appointed from recommendations of the senior board members, and will fill the post vacated by Miss Lawrie.

Miss Lawrie is a junior in teachers college, and is treasurer of the AUF. She is also a Coed Counselor, and has worked this semester on district 5. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

A freshman in Arts and Sciences college, Miss Flood is an Alpha Xi Delta pledge. She is a "Cornshucks" worker, and a member of the YWCA. She worked this semester on district 2.

Also an Arts and Sciences freshman, the new business manager is also a pledge of Kappa Alpha Theta. She has been working on the Cornhusker staff and the AUF. She was a member of district 4.

These girls, and all previously announced Foundation board members, will be installed Tuesday, Feb. 17, in the Union ballroom. Lorraine Landeryou, outgoing president, will preside at the meeting, to which the public is invited.

J. Seacrest Award Applications Open

Applications for the J. C. Seacrest journalism scholarship must be made in University Hall 104 by March 15. Dr. W. F. Swindler, director of the school of journalism announced today.

Seniors in the school of journalism are eligible for this $500 scholarship for advanced study in journalism. Dr. Swindler stated that one or two awards would be available this year.

Last year's scholarships went to Marcela Slajchert and to Neale Copple. Miss Slajchert is now studying in Prague, and Copple is studying journalism at Northwestern University.

AOPi Wins First; AXO, Second In Penny Carnival Competition

The gold cup at the annual Penny Carnival was won by Alpha Omicron Pi while Alpha Chi Omega and Towne Club placed second and third.

A steady stream of carnival goers entered the mouth of the huge gold fish which made up the AOPi booth to fish for wishes. Seated inside in a cellophane aquarium backed by rushes and deep sea life, mermaid Marilyn Nelson smilingly represented the "Catch of the Season" and placed sea shells and sponges on the waiting hooks. Sailors Nancy Jensen, Ann Fiddock, Andy Tilly, Sharon Murphy and Joan Rhodes sang sea songs to lure onlookers into the booth.

In theme with their slogan, "Pick Your Sweet and Get Your Sweetie," the Alpha Chi's presented Ye Olde Candy Shoppe and furnished the people's choice of candy and girls.

The Towne Club's "Fac'n Facts" booth was a take-off on the carnival caricature booth. The Club's Twenty-two TNC finalists will appear in the annual campus style show. Presentation of the Typical Nebraska Co-ed, whose identity is a secret, will highlight the show.

As usual, male attendance is forbidden at "all-girl" production.

artists drew "poor-traits" for all those entering.

Sponsored by the Coed Counselors, Penny Carnival was held at Grant Memorial from 2:30 to 4 p. m., Saturday. Miss Mary Mielenz, W. E. Hall, and L. D. Teal judged the booths.

Nebraska Show Of Modern Art Opens Feb. 29

Modern contemporary art will be the theme of the 58th annual exhibition of the Nebraska Art Association which opens in Morrill Hall, Sunday, Feb. 29.

A spokesman for the Nebraska Art Association, describing the popular reluctance to accept modern art said that although the classics still have their place, few people listen only to Mozart or read only Shakespeare. Yet when it comes to painting, there are those who think that nothing is worth looking at unless it was painted at least a hundred years ago.

The exhibition will include about 190 art works, with over 100 oil paintings, about 40 water-colors and drawings, and 16 pieces of sculpture. Work by several Nebraskans, Roger Holt, Sidnee Livingston, Charles Rain and Lloyd Wulf, will be shown. Doris Lee will be represented with a Mexican scene along with the work of David Fredenthal, Yasuo Kuniyoshi and Abraham Rattner.

Speaking of the varied subject matter of the pictures to be shown, Dwight Kirsh, director of the university galleries, said, "It is the emotional expression of the work that counts, not the subject matter. This, as a rule, characterizes the modern artists."

After the initial day, open to Association members only, gallery talks will be given on the following Sundays until the exhibit closes.

Lincoln Physician Speaks To Pre-Medical Students

Following a dinner at the Student Union, Wednesday evening Dr. Sidney O. Reese, Lincoln physician and surgeon, spoke to a group of Pre-Med students from both the University of Nebraska and Wesleyan.

Allison Gives Main Forum Talk Feb. 16

John Moore Allison, expert on foreign affairs, will address the Lincoln Alumni club at their annual Charter Day dinner in the Union Sunday.

The club will be celebrating, along with other Alumni clubs over the nation, the 79th anniversary of the University.

Nebraska Graduate.

Allison graduated from Nebraska in 1927 and spent 19 years with the state department. He lived in the far east during most of his diplomatic service. Since his return he has been regarded as an expert on far eastern affairs.

The former Nebraskan will speak before three student gatherings Monday. Allison will appear in Professor J. P. Senning's public relations class at 9 a. m., and in Professor Norman Hill's international relations class at 10 a. m.

Forum in Library.

His last appearance on the campus will be in Love Memorial Library where he will lead a forum on foreign affairs at 3 p. m.

Allison's last assignment was to England. He was sent abroad shortly before the end of the war to help formulate economic war plans.

Artists to Hold Nightmare Ball

"Nightmare" is the theme of the annual Beaux Arts Ball, to be held on Friday, Feb. 20, at 8 p. m., in the second floor galleries of Morrill Hall, Bob Hanson, president of Delta Phi Delta, art honorary, announced today.

Lee Hancock's band will play for the ball with the intermissions devoted to the program. Costumes, which are optional and do not have to be fancy or expensive, Hanson said, will be judged during one of the intermissions.

Guests may be "psycho-analyzed" up in the galleries. Paintings, made especially for the theme of "Nightmare," will be raffled during the evening. The Cosmopolitan Club, a group of foreign and American students, will provide a part of the evening entertainment.

Tickets, which will be sold during the next week in booths set up in the Union, are 60 cents per person and $1.20 a couple.
