

Two UN Coeds Take Women's Debate Crown

B. J. Holcomb, a Lincoln senior, and Eloise Paustian, sophomore from Omaha, won the championship in the women's division of the debate tournament Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The two men entrants from Nebraska, Leonard Hamms and Jack Solomon, both Omaha sophomores, were eliminated from competition in the quarter final round of the men's division.

Of the 73 teams competing in the tourney, the Nebraska squad placed second in the quarter finals.

Miss Holcomb and Miss Paustian had to pass three elimination rounds to win the championship.

Union Hobby Shop Is Boon To UN Students

BY LEE BEST

The Union Craft Shop's opening with leather projects is proving one of the biggest boons to hit NU campus; for proof, just ask those struggling GI engineering students who hit on the brainstorm of making their own slide rule cases. With great pride they can march among the maze of "Engine Labs" with a bright shiny slide rule case clattering against their high water boots (when the snow melts, that is) and say, "I made it with me own li' hands."

Another suggestion for those of us who've found the snow creeping in around the edges of our tired old saddles, is the moccasin project. Hope mine will be ready for my Easter outfit. They come in red, green and all colors.

If your suspenders are getting frayed, or the stretchiness is getting a little too stretchy, how about making yourself a new belt. Belt and buckle sets come at 85c each, for those of means, of course.

And if you have so many means that you need places to put them, why not tool yourself a new billfold? Patterns are available, or you can originate your own design. Ready-made inserts for billfolds sell for 75c, and leather for the covers are 50c.

phony concert, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow, 4 p.m., Student Union Ballroom, with orchestra works by Auber, Handel, Pugno, Mendelssohn and Tchaikowski. There is no charge for this concert.

UN Wool Expert To Attend Meets In K.C., Scottsbluff

Martin Alexander, associate professor of animal husbandry, will represent the university at two meetings this week and next.

On March 9, Alexander will travel to Kansas City, Mo., where he will speak at the annual meeting of the Midwest Wool Marketing Cooperative. This organization handles the wool marketing from Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas.

The University of Nebraska is one of the charter members of the organization. Mr. W. Marshal Ross from Gibbon, Neb., is the president.

On March 4, Alexander will assist in closing experimental work at Scottsbluff, Neb. The university experimental sub-station has been conducting an experiment with more than 600 head of lambs to determine the relative feeding value of various feeds tested.

Lacing comes at 7c and 9c a yard.

All the projects are continual through the weeks of special instruction, so don't worry about having to finish them in a week. Come down anytime, and match your skill with the masters of the art.

Vespers Scheduled Today In Uni Episcopal Church

University Vespers will meet today at 5 p.m. in the University Episcopal Church, 13 and R. man of publicity.

O. H. Warner, professor of education, will speak to the group on "Religion in Education", which is the first of the series of speeches to be given. Speeches are being planned with speakers from the engineering, fine arts, and bizad colleges.

Two things every college man should know!

1. This is a wolf. Species: Lupus Humanus. Numbers increasing on every college campus. Sleek appearance aids deception of prey. Hunts at night. Mainly co-eds. Don't laugh... you're probably one yourself.

2. This is a "Manhattan" shirt. Wolf or not, you'll go in hot pursuit... it's a beauty! A "Manhattan" fits better... looks better... and can't shrink more than 1%. See this style and many others at your local dealer's now.
