Robert Taft of Ohio, and Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Two of the speeches, those by Taft and Stassen, will be regular student convocations, sponsored by their respective local campaign groups. Dewey's speech, to be given in the Coliseum, will be open to the public.

Stassen Speaks Thursday.

Stassen's appearance is being sponsored by the university chapter of the Stassen for President club, and was announced by Senator Fred A. Seaton, campaign manager for the Minnesotan in Nebraska.

His speech is set for Thursday, afternoon, April 8, at 2:45 in the Union Ballroom. Stassen will also speak at Nebraska Wesleyan and Union college Thursday. Appearances are also scheduled in Columbus, Fremont and Norfolk.

Taft Here Tuesday.

Taft's wife will also be in the April 6, at 2 p. m. in the Union Ballroom. He will also speak before assembled Rotarians, Kiwanians and Lions at the Cornhusker hotel at noon that day. He has planned speeches at Hastings, Crete, Beatrice and Nebraska City also.

Taft's wife will also be in the state campaigning for her husband on her own.

Dewey in Coliseum.

Dewey will be here for two days and will speak at the Coliseum at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 8. As this is his only appearance in this territory before he returns to the east his speech will be open to the public.

Lee Rankin, local attorney, is head of the Dewey campaign group which is sponsoring the appearance. There is a possibility that his speech will be broadcast from the Coliseum.

National Significance.

It is expected that each of the speakers will talk on political issues, but as yet no definite subjects have been announced by the sponsoring groups.

Heading Stassen's campaign group in Lincoln is John Quinn, public relations counselor. A local lawyer, John Comstock, is head of Taft's local campaign club.

'Ivan' Film Opens Tonite at Temple

... Sponsored by Y Groups

BY GENE BERG.

"Ivan the Terrible," the Russian movie termed "magnificent" by Life magazine, will be shown tonight at 8 p. m. in the Temple Theater under the sponsorship of the university YM-YWCA groups. A second showing of the widely acclaimed film, produced in 1947, will be held in Love Library auditorium again tomorrow night at 8.

Influential Film.

The late Sergei Eisenstein's talked-about motion picture is another in the recent series of Y-sponsored films. Admission is fifty cents, and both students and the general public are invited to attend either of the two showings.

PM newspaper has said that the influence of "Ivan the Terrible" will be felt in all future generations of film-making. The movie tells the seven chief episodes in the life of Ivan, Russia's first czar. In achieving its purpose, PM points out, the film ran into great censorship difficulties and official examination in Soviet Russia, but was finally released.

Ivan 'Economic Pioneer.'

In a review of the movie, the New York Times defined Ivan, the movie character, as "the people's tsar," who liberated his subjects from unprogressive bourgeois prejudices about individual rights and who pioneered for economic democracy with his famous remark: 'As a horse under a rider without a curb, so is a tsardom without Terror'.

Tickets for the showings of "Ivan" can be purchased from individual YM or YW members, at the "Y" offices and Ellen Smith Hall, or at the door.

Students Pledge Service As International Police

Fifteen University students volunteered to serve in an international police force if instituted to guarantee peace.

The group made the promise in a letter to President Truman which expressed their belief that the United Nations is an inadequate organ for peace.

The move, apparently backed by the United World Federalists chapter at the University, was admitted as primarily a bid for publicity. A spokesman for the fifteen presumed the offer would be ignored.

Signers listed were: Don Baker, Eugene Berman, Mervyn Cadwallader, Fred Hodek, John Kurz, Clarence Lear, Richard Miles, Robert Mohlman, Don Morrow, David Pickerill, Kenneth Purcell, Mick Putney, Paul Rodgers, Jr., Kermit Rohde, and George Schmid.

Criminal Law Expert Named To UN Faculty

Appointment of Frederick J. Ludwig to the faculty of the University of Nebraska law college was announced Wednesday by Dean F. K. Beutel.

Ludwig is a criminal law expert with the board of criminal appeals of the New York City district attorney's office. He has held this post for the past three years. Previously he served for two years in various branches of the New York police force in both enforcement and prison administration work.

To Start in Fall.

He will teach criminal law, criminal administration, family law, and an advanced seminar in legal problems of criminal administration and penology at the university starting with the fall term.

Dean Beutel said Ludwig will help develop the criminal law program at the university and "co-operate with the Board of Control and other police and penal institutions in the state in solving research problems of criminal administration in Nebraska."

First at Columbia.

"We are very fortunate to get a young man of the broad scientific and theoretical training of Mr. Ludwig, combined with his practical experience, and insures us of the finest possible development of criminal law at Nebraska," Dean Beutel said.

Ludwig received his bachelor and master's degrees at the College of the City of New York. He was first in his law class at Columbia university in 1945.

Cosmo Dance to Feature Mills' Band and Floor Show

STUDENTS SELL TICKETS in Union Hallway for Cosmo Carnival Dance to be held Saturday night in Union Ballroom. Style of dance is to be patterned after spring celebrations carried on in countries as France, Trinidad, and Puerto Rico and other foreign nations.

The Cosmo-Carnival Dance, sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club, will be held in the Union Saturday night, April 3, from 8:00 p. m. until midnight. Music will be furnished by Bobbie Mills and his band from Chicago.

All students have been invited to the dance, with dates or stag. Both foreign costumes and American clothes will be appropriate. Tickets are 90 cents plus tax per person and are on sale in the Union. They may also be purchased at the door the night of the dance.

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, director of admissions, will present oriental jewelry to couples on whom a moving spotlight falls four times during the evening.

Juan Illueca and his Latin American combo will open the intermission program at 10:00 p. m. A Russian peasant dance will feature Steve Hershman, who was formerly a citizen of Russia. French Apache tactics will feature Jack Levi from Egypt and Mary Chappell, Lincoln. A slave dance will be performed by Florence Nurenberg, Lincoln, accompanied by Iradj Fard, Iran, on his santur. The entertainment will also include a hula dance by Marjorie Morris and Beatrice Suiso, Hawaii; a gypsy dance with vocal by Ginnie Pierce, Grand Island; and a Hopi Indian war dance. The program will be concluded with dances which are typically American, such as a barn dance and jitterbugging.

Master of Ceremonies for the Cosmo-Carnival will be Ben Ali from Trinidad. The dance is under the direction of Eloise Schott and Mary Chappell.

Final Week Cut To Begin May 24

Final week was rescheduled by the University Senate to begin Monday, May 24, following the recommendation of its Senior Week committee.

The senate action was outlined in a letter to the Student Council from Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, secretary of the University Senate.

"Having the examination period begin on a Monday would allow Saturday and Sunday as days free for study and special preparation in anticipation of examinations, Dr. Roenlof stated in his letter.

The exam schedule was advanced, according to the letter, to provide two of the needed three days for a Senior Week program. The other day will be obtained by shortening the exam period one day. Exams will then last eight days, concluding, according to the letter, "about June 1."
