Music Sorority Opens Concert Series Tonight

Soloists and ensemble numbers will be featured when members of Sigma Alpha Iota present a concert tonight at 7:30 in Temple Theatre as part of an annual series of spring concerts by the three professional music sororities. There is no admission charge.

Pianist Bonnie Compton and soprano Donnie Wageman will be the soloists. Both were elected by the senior class of music majors to appear with the University Symphony Orchestra last Tuesday with three other soloists.

A small vocal ensemble will present choral settings of passages from Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland." Later in the program, the ensemble will join the 40-voice chorus in three numbers directed by Annette Jacobs. The selections include "My Days Have Been So Wonderful Free," by Hopkinson, "Song of Shadows" by Cookson, and "Sea Moods" by Tyson.

A string quartet, a flute trio, and a piano-duo composed of Arlene Kostal and Gwen Taylor will complete the program.

Sammy Kaye to Play At Coliseum April 16

Students will get a chance to "Swing and Sway" to the music of Sammy Kaye when the nationally famous band leader brings his orchestra to the Coliseum Friday evening, April 16.

The dance will last from 8 p. m. until midnight. Tickets are selling for $1.75 per person, or $2 at the door.

Kaye's orchestra will be the second big time band at the university in a little over a month, following Vaughn Monroe's appearance at the Coliseum in the middle of March at the "N" Club dance.

To Feature Contest

A featured part of the program will be Kaye's regular "So You Want to Lead a Band" contest, broadcast over the American Broadcasting Co. network every Monday from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Now a permanent feature of his appearances, it was begun years ago when a man asked Kaye if he could lead the band for a while.

The band leader said it would be all right if he could dance with the man's girl, so a deal was made. Noticing the enthusiasm the entire crowd showed toward the stunt, Kaye decided to make it a regular part of his show.

Four Are Chosen

Four people, two men and two women, are chosen from the crowd to lead the band for a few bars, and they are judged by applause from the audience.

Kaye's distinctive "Swing and Sway" style is noted for trilling sax tones, virtuoso trombone work plus a hint of staccato brass. The "Swing and Sway" tag is a result of Kaye's quick-thinking and ingenuity.

Quick Thinking Helps

One night in Cincinnati, an announcer was signing off and said: "You have been listening to the music of Sammy Kaye—the music that swings..." Here he broke off, unable to think of a suitable ending. Kaye finished up for him without a moment's hesitation.

"...and the music that sways." Kaye is one of America's top recording maestros. Some of his top discs include "Always," "Apple Blossom Wedding," "The Gypsy," "The Echo Said No," "Chickery Chick," "The Old Lamplighter," and "This or That."

Stassen, Dewey to Follow Senator Taft as Speakers

Dewey Talks In Coliseum At 8 Tonight

Thomas E. Dewey will speak in the university Coliseum tonight at 8. He will be the last of three leading Republican aspirants presently campaigning in Nebraska for the GOP presidential nomination. The speech will be open to the public.

Tonight's appearance will be his last in a two-day tour of the state. Dewey will leave this territory and turn his attention east after his speech.

Interest Runs High

Lee Rankin, local attorney, is head of the Dewey campaign group which is sponsoring the appearance.

Nebraska's primary elections this month are being watched with keen interest by the entire nation. All of the prominent Republican presidential hopefuls are entered in the primary which is expected to give an indication of their relative strength.

Third Candidate

Dewey, the third candidate to speak at the University within three days, is expected to talk on political issues.

It was estimated that over 3,000 students heard Taft speak in the Student Union Tuesday. Stassen is expected to draw even a larger crowd with an outdoor P. A. system in use. The seating capacity of the Coliseum will allow Dewey's audience to top the trio of speakers.

Stassen Will Air US-Red Relations

Republican presidential candidate Harold E. Stassen, winner of the Wisconsin primary election Tuesday, will state his views on matters of foreign policy, with special emphasis on the tense international relations existing between this country and Russia, when he speaks on the university campus Thursday at 2:45 p. m. in the Union ballroom.

The subject of the former Minnesota governor's address was learned through the university chapter of the Stassen-for-President club, which is sponsoring Stassen's appearance.

Open to Public

In addition to being a regular student convocation, the talk also will be open to the public.

The speech will be broadcast from the Ballroom to the Main Lounge downstairs and out to the east lawn.

An open question period will follow Mr. Stassen's speech, and anyone present will have an opportunity to ask pointed questions of the presidential hopeful. These periods have proved to be the highlight of Mr. Stassen's recent appearances in other sections of the state.

Presented by Ellis

Mr. Stassen will be introduced by Mr. David E. Ellis, president of the campus Stassen club, who expressed gratification that Mr. Stassen found it possible to return to the state in order that he might appear personally before the college voters of Lincoln.

Also present will be the national president of the Students-for-Stassen organization, Roger Johnsen, Milwaukee, Wis., of St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn.

Ag College Plans 36th Feeder's Day

The 36th annual Feeder's Day will be held at the College of Agriculture April 16 in the Activities building.

The program is under the direction of Prof. William Loeffel, chairman of the animal husbandry department, and his associates. Miss Margaret Feede and Miss Florence Atwood are in charge of the women's program which will be held in the Animal Husbandry hall.

Wright to Speak

Feeder's Day is traditionally one of the bright spots in farm and home spring plans. This year, the latest information on livestock experimental and research work will be discussed. A nationally known agricultural leader, Clarence Wright, of Shenandoah, Iowa, will be one of the chief speakers on the men's program.

Other speakers include Dr. W. L. Boyd of the University of Minnesota, Pres. Fred H. Leinbach of the South Dakota State College, L. E. Hanson, William J. Loeffel, M. A. Alexander, and M. L. Baker, all of the College of Agriculture at the university.

'New Look'

The women's program will include a discussion of the "New Look," by Miss Carolyn Ruby, assistant professor of home economics.

Miss Alpha Latzke, home econ-

Graduates Will Hear Gustavson

Chancellor Gustavson will discuss what UNESCO means to University of Nebraska students at the Graduate Club banquet at 6:15, Thursday, April 13, in Union parlors XYZ.

Tickets are available at $1.10 each from Graduate Club department representatives or the Union office. Reservations must be made before 10 a. m. Saturday, according to Linda Ahrens, who is in charge of the banquet. All graduate students are invited whether or not they are members of the club. They may also bring guests.

Music will be provided by the Sinfoneers, Morris Hayes, Bob Anderson, Lee Kjelson and Bob Parks.

omist for Armour and Company, Chicago, will give a meat demonstration Friday afternoon. Other speakers on the women's program are Mrs. R. G. Gustavson, and Mr. Verne Pangborn, director of the Nebraska hospital program.

Parking Situation Improves at Ag

Parking on the Ag campus has shown some improvement during the past three days, according to Dean Burr. In a report from the university police, only one offender has repeated an offense; however, a considerable number of violations did occur.

Both Dean Burr and the university police wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation of both students and faculty in trying to solve an admittedly difficult parking problem.

Frost Presents Technical Paper On Vacuum Tube

Harold Frost presented his technical paper on "The Triode as a Vacuum Tube Amplifier" to the student branch of AIEE Tuesday. He will also present the paper at the AIEE regional convention in Denver next week.

The society unanimously approved the Engineering Executive board's proposed amendments. Two of the amendments would add a publicity chairman to the executive board and raise operating funds for the executive board by assessments to be collected with the membership fee of individual engineering societies. The third would make Blueprint subscriptions mandatory for all College of Engineering students.

The officers for the first semester next year were elected. They are chairman, Donald Temme; vice chairman, Merle Armstrong; secretary, George Olive; and treasurer, Vern Traudt. The new chairman will accompany the group going to the Denver Regional.

Council Votes No Senior Week; Vet Pay Cause

The Student Council voted Wednesday to postpone senior week until next year following a recommendation by the faculty senate.

In compliance with the council's request for a senior week, the faculty senate had set the exam schedule ahead thus shortening the school year. Senior Class President Glen Blinde explained that this measure resulted in an interference with the Veteran's Administration pay schedule set up for the entire school year and would cut pay nine dollars per veteran.

Following senate action in setting exam week ahead to Monday, May 24, the Council was granted a request for two free days to be set aside for study immediately preceding exams. In conjunction with the faculty's new request, the council proposes that exam week begin Wednesday, May 26 as previously scheduled and that Monday and Tuesday, May 24-25 be allowed for study.

The faculty senate advised that next year's senior week be planned early so that it may be included in the year's schedule.

Chancellor Gustavson will address seniors regarding senior week arrangements and possible elimination of baccalaureate exercises at an all senior convocation Monday, April 12, at 7 p. m. in Love Library auditorium.

Women Writers Elect Officers

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism group, met Wednesday and elected its new officers.

Succeeding former president Phee Mortlock is Barbara Rowland. Other officers are: vice-president, Marian Crook; secretary-treasurer, Nadine Anderson. Miss Rowland was recently elected 1948 Prom Queen, and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.
