

Faction Strength Shown

Daily Nebraskan

Vol. 48—No. 120

Lincoln 8, Nebraska,

Friday, April 16, 1948

'Get Your Kicks' Lives Up To Name; Called Success

BY BEV SIEVERS.

You can really "Get Your Kicks" out of an evening spent at the Kosmet Klub musical.

This show has all the requirements of a fresh and entertaining production. The music and lyrics by Kenneth Greenwood left nothing but an adequate sound system to be desired. This situation is to be remedied in coming shows, however. The words which could be heard were exceptionally clever and applicable to the humor of the students of the Nebraska campus.

The plot covers all phases of our life going from the extremes of the type of professors and coaches on the campus to the intense political issue of "to have or have not" a porch on the White House.

Bellingham II injected just the proper amount of smugness to his portrayal of the self-satisfied football player turned professor who found that one, though "past 66," can get his kicks out of life. Especially he found them in the form of ambitious students, particularly one Miss Imogene Burt, played by Norm Walt. Paul Weltchek and Dwight Byers proved unusually versatile in their respective roles of Eustace and Senator Bleary. Their scene in the White House was the high spot of the show.

Herb Jackman molded himself to the role of a pompous and stuffy college dean in fine style. It is to be regretted, however, that his vocal solo was undermined by the faulty sound system. Bob Baum, as Bellingham, spent most of the evening sleeping as his dream unfolded before the audience, but displayed adaptability as an aesthetic professor when given an opportunity.

Larry Goldblatt as the timid chief executive, and Norm Lock as Arnie Phisterson (who had the cleverest song in the production, "Lett-ah Sweat-ah") added true humor to the situation, as did Bill Wiseman in his intermittent role of the insulting head waiter.

'Hub of Harmony' Group To Give Concert Sunday

The Hub of Harmony, a group of 11 male university students, will present a concert at 7:15 p.m. Sunday, April 18, in the University Coliseum.

The group was formed a year ago and is under the direction of Frank Hale with Wayne Hooper

FEATURED IN LAST NIGHT'S KOSMET KLUB SHOW, "Get Your Kicks", was Dwight Byers as Senator Bleary expounding against a presidential plan: "A new porch on the White House? Never! I don't care if Margaret never gets a beau!"

Minnesota Dean Praises Student Health Program

... Dr. H. S. Diehl Speaks at Convo

Dr. H. S. Diehl, dean of the University of Minnesota medical college and public health authority in the U. S., praised the University of Nebraska's new student health center at a student convocation yesterday in the Union.

Dr. Diehl said "the University of Nebraska student health program now compares favorably with those offered by other outstanding institutions in the nation." He said the Nebraska health service would help reduce the seriousness of ills suffered by students, and cut down the spread of contagious disease on the campus, a "fact which should comfort not only parents of students, but all citizens."

He also addressed a round-table program on student health problems Thursday afternoon. Other speakers were Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, Dean Harold Lueth of the Nebraska medical college, and Dr. Samuel Fuenning, director of the university's health service.

as coach. Both Hale and Hooper arranged for the group.

While the "Hub" specializes in spirituals the program will also include classical and semi-classical music. Betty Bradford from Kansas City, Kas., will appear as guest soloist and there will also be special numbers by the Hub Four.

The concert will be open to the public as there have been a thousand patron tickets sold.

Ag Features Feeders Day

The 36th annual Feeders Day is being held today in the College Activities building on Ag campus, beginning at 9:15 a. m.

The program is under the direction of Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, the chairman of the animal husbandry department, and his associates. Feeders Day is traditionally one of the bright spots in the farm and home spring plans, and this year it will bring out the most up-to-date information on livestock experimental and research work. There are, as usual, separate programs for both men and women. Miss Margaret Fedde and Miss Florence Atwood are in charge of the latter.

At 6:30 p. m., the Block and Bridle club is sponsor of a dinner honoring Dr. L. Van Es, for many years chairman of the department of animal pathology and hygiene. The dinner is being held at the Lincoln YMCA. The public is invited. Tickets may be obtained from a Block and Bridle club member before noon, April 16. Tickets are $1.50.

Block and Bridle To Honor Doctor

All university students are invited to the annual Block and Bridle honors banquet tonight at 6:30 p. m. in the Green room at the YMCA building.

Tickets are available for $1.50 a person at the animal husbandry office, the finance office, or the Ag Union.

Honoring Dr. Luenis Van Es, professor of animal pathology

Wallace Contests Pub Board Votes

Of the 45 men candidates running for office in the general elections yesterday, the 30 elected were identical with those men reportedly chosen earlier by the Greek faction representing 17 fraternities. Sixteen women were elected to the Student Council and Ag campus board positions.

Possible faction backing of certain women remained unconfirmed.

Nine positions, taken by faction-supported Greeks, were unopposed, and included senior councilmen-at-large, business administration, dentistry, graduate, pharmacy, law and journalism council representatives; sophomore Coll-Agri-Fun boardmen; and junior Farmers Fair boardmen.

The entire slate of faction candidates was prepared for publication in Wednesday's Daily Nebraskan, but upon a reversal of editorial policy, publication was withheld just before press time.

The men drawing the highest number of votes for Pub Board were ahead of their nearest competitors by two to one, with the junior member leading by three-and-a-half to one.

Following the final count, the Judiciary committee, which passes on all Council elections, ruled the election of senior Pub Board member invalid because of a ballot error on the part of the Council elections committee which omitted the name of Shirlee Wallace, bizad junior, from the ballot, although Miss Wallace had filed correctly.

Ned Raun, chairman, announced that a re-election for that position alone will be held as soon as the new council machinery has been set up.

STUDENT COUNCIL SENIORS AT LARGE

Elected: Nancy Gish, 1,308. Beverly Sievers, 790. Not elected: Kay Kinsey, 750. Cherie Vile, 663. Elected, unopposed: Harvey L. Davis, Richard Lewis Johnson.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Elected: Phyllis Cadwallader, 244. Janet Stratton, 245. Not elected: Grace Nielsen, 216. Betty Bloss, 213. Betty Ann Sawyers, 155. Elected: Richard Srb, 515. Rex Hoffmeister, 401. Paul Weltchek, 336. Not elected: Thomas M. Myers, 251. Not elected: Thomas M. Myers, 251. Eugene Berman, 134.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Unopposed: Robert Axtell. Elected: Hooper. William Mueller.

DENTISTRY

Unopposed: Norman Copey.

ENGINEERING

Elected: Donald Cockran, 136. Fred Chael, 157. Russell Howard, 150. Not elected: John Sedlacek, 85. Loyal Harbert, 79.

FINE ARTS

Elected: Patricia Larsen. Not elected: Kathryn Geist. Elected: Bob Wallace. Not elected: Hobart Hayes.

GRADUATES

Unopposed: Rodney Franklin.

AG COLLEGE

Elected: Louise McDill. Not elected: Connie Crosbie, 108; Elaine Arelson, 47. Elected: Jack DeWulf, 260. Lloyd Worth, 220. Not elected: Joseph Havella, 190.

TEACHERS COLLEGE

Elected: Pat Black, 121. Dorothy Borgens, 76. Not elected: Mary Sue Holland, 75. Elizabeth Schneider, 57. Esther Horst, 70. Polly Ann Rieky, 38. Elaine Carroll, 23. Elected: John Maxwell, Jr., 146. Not elected: David Fickert, 89.

PHARMACY

Unopposed: George Coupe.

LAW

Unopposed: Charles Thoen. JOURNALISM.

Unopposed: Frederick Simpson.

AG EXEC BOARD

Freshmen elected: Alice Boswell, George Pinkerton, Jeanne Wiegel. Not elected: Arnold Niveen, Gwen Monson.

Sophomore elected: Neal Baxter. Not elected: Ralph Hill, Jr., Marilyn Boettger, Shirley Anderson, Jean Fenster.

Juniors elected: Betty Beckner, John Osier. Not elected: Donna Runtz, Vance Pettit.

COLL-AGRI-FUN BOARD

Elected: Connie Crosbie, Mary Frances Johnson. Not elected: Jean Beck. Unopposed: Neal Baxter.

FARMERS FAIR BOARD

Elected: Eunice Jensen, Harriet Mollie, Phyllis Ross. Not elected: Viola Voska.

Unopposed: Jack Baird, Robert Eggert, Don Smith.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Sophomore elected: George Sup, 219. Not elected: Margaret Chamberlin, 111; Benjamin Wall, 80.

Junior elected: James Van Burgh, 336. Not elected: Elaine Paulian, 88; Suzanne Boekes, 72; Esther Horst, 49; Carl Froegdt, 44.

Senior elected: Edward Trumble, 437. Not elected: Norman Walker, 260.

IVY DAY ORATOR

Elected: Ralph Nelson, 536. Not elected: Ben Bukacek, 195.

SINFONIA SWINGS IT—After performing serious choral numbers last night in the Union ballroom ranging from a setting of a Robert Louis Stevenson poem to Fred Waring's arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the Sinfonia glee club sang a stepped-up version of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean." Pictured here in rehearsal for its annual concert, the glee club is directed by Lee Kjelson, senior in fine arts school. Brass and woodwind small ensembles and a violin duet were also heard last night in the fraternity's concert. Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity, is dedicated to "the musicianly man and the manly musician," and to the advancement of American music.