Poets' Entries Due At 5 Wednesday

All poets and would-be poets must turn in their entries for the Ivy Day poem contest to the Student Union office by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday.

Poems must concern the traditions connected with Ivy Day. Three manuscripts of each poem must be submitted, and none of these shall have the author's name on it.

Instead, the name shall be placed in a sealed envelope and turned in with the manuscripts. Judges will be Dr. Lowry Wimberley, Dr. Ray William Frantz, and Miss Bernice Slote of the English department.

Medicine; the Delta Omicron Scholarships, Music; the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Scholarship, Music; the Theodore Presser Scholarships, Music; the ROTC Band Honorary Key Awards, Music; the American Foundation of Pharmaceutical Education Awards, Pharmacy; the John E. Almy Scholarships, Physics; and the Long Debate Award, Speech.

In addition to these, other awards will be made by individual groups, persons, and campus organizations.

Professional fraternities will also announce lists of new members at the convocation.

Foundation Will Publish Calendar of University

The Student Foundation is planning a University of Nebraska Engagement calendar for 1949, to be released next fall. This calendar is the first of its kind to be offered at the University, according to Gene Mitchell, Student Foundation president. Students may order now to get their copies.

Each of the 27 pages of the calendar will have a photograph of some phase of campus life opposite it. Such varied subjects as buildings, campus scenes, and athletes will be included in these photos.

The calendar will be published by the Philadelphia printing concern that publishes calendars for major eastern colleges.

Used for Scholarships

Funds obtained from the sale of the calendars will be used for scholarships, pending a vote of the Student Foundation board, Miss Mitchell stated. Graduate scholarships need funds the most, according to Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, so they are most likely to benefit from the sales. The Chancellor has already placed an order for six copies himself.

The editorial staff of the calendar includes Jerry Johnston, Eileen Hepperley, Jane McArthur, and Gene Mitchell.

To Be Aided

They will be aided by George Round, Director of University Public Relations; Fritz Daley, alumnus secretary; and Miss Mary Mielenz, faculty sponsor of the Student Foundation. The calendar will be released next September.

Tour of Omaha Campus Slated For Pre Meds

The College of Medicine and the school of nursing of the University of Nebraska are again having open house, Saturday, May 1, for all pre-medical, pre-nursing, and pre-technology students of sophomore, junior and senior standing.

A program featuring the highlights of hospital, medical college and school of nursing training will begin at 9 a. m. Small groups will be shown the laboratories, hospital wards, recreational facilities and other phases of medical and nursing training.

Luncheon will be served at the University hospital at a nominal cost.

Pre-med Adviser Eugene F. Powell has requested that all men and women students who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity sign their names to the list on the bulletin board at his office, 306 Bessey Hall. All names should be on this list before noon, May 24.

Transportation to Omaha and return must be provided by those planning to attend.

White Will Head Campus NAACP

At the organizational meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, held last Wednesday evening, John White was elected chairman of the group. Phyllis Maurer was chosen secretary and Nina Kaswimer treasurer.

Kathy Hollingsworth was elected to head the publicity committee and Paul Rogers is in charge of membership. It is hoped that the group will develop into a campus branch of the national NAACP. There will be a meeting tonight in the campus YMCA lounge at 7 p.m. for all interested students.

4 Delegates to Attend College Union Meet

Four members of the Nebraska Student Union board will attend the Silver Anniversary convention of the association of college unions in Roanoke, Va., April 29 to May 1.

Ed Trumble, dance committee chairman, has been selected to lead the panel discussion on the Union dances, one of the five group discussion topics. Five student members from over the country who are outstanding in their union work have been chosen for this honor. Ed is also a member of Corn Cobs, Interfraternity Council, Newman Club, and Sigma Nu.

Other Nebraska representatives are Duane Lake, Union director, Donna Alfrey, board member, and Prof. Carl M. Arndt, faculty financial advisor.

Panel Participant.

Donna Alfrey will take part in the panel discussion and social programs other than dances.

Professor Arndt will serve in an advisory capacity in sessions for members who are planning to erect unions in the near future, with special emphasis on financing new unions.

Lake to Report.

Lake, a member of the National Advisory board of Student Unions, is participating on the official program and hospitality committee. He was also give report on the national games committee, of which he has been a member since his association with the Pugsley Union at South Dakota State College, Brookings, S. D.

Representatives from over two hundred colleges in the United States and Canada will attend the conference, where they will have the opportunity of consulting specialists on managements, food facilities, crafts, outings and tours, dances, social programs, art and music, and administration and student government of the unions.

Robert Anderson

Mary Louise Boehm

PERFORM AT CARNEGIE HALL TODAY—Basso Robert Anderson, fine arts senior, and Pianist Mary Louise Boehm, university instructor in piano, make their New York debuts today on the stage of famous Carnegie Hall as state winners in the nation-wide contest sponsored by the Associated Concert Bureau in an effort to locate the finest young American talent.

Appearing with them will be Geraldine Kelley, violinist, who was the third state finalist to win the coveted honor. Miss Boehm will play Mozart's "Sonata in D major," Ravel's "Toccata" and a number by Schumann. Anderson will sing an aria from Verdi's opera "Don Carlos," Schubert's "Der Wanderer," and Richard Hageman's "Do Not Go My Love."

Miss Boehm has been guest soloist with university orchestras here and at Northwestern and with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under Hans Lange. She has made four recital appearances in two years in Chicago. Audition winner last year with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra, Anderson took a leading role in "Carmen" last February and was featured with a double quartet that broadcast from Spokane during his service with the navy. Each is eligible for cash awards along with other Carnegie Hall winners.

Czech Students Commended By University Comenius Club

The University Comenius Club has formally adopted a set of resolutions commending the students of universities in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and particularly those of Charles university, for their "courageous" action during the recent crisis there.

The members also expressed their desire to take some definite active measures to aid the students whose belief in freedom "led them to demonstrate against the Communists."

The resolutions especially commended the Czech students for:

1. Their courage in demanding to see President Benes on the day following the Communist coup.

2. The mass demonstrations on behalf of their belief in democratic principles, which their country had until this time upheld.

3. Their defiance of the Communist dictum by singing the Czech National Anthem in the streets of Prague.

The group went on to tell the Czech people to keep up the fight against the Reds and to be assured of continued support of other nations.

The club gets its name from Amos Komensky, a great Czech hero, teacher and educator. The club's membership is made up of students of Czech descent.
