

Vol. 48-No. 130

Sunday, May 2, 1948

YM Will Sponsor Panel in Library

Guest Speakers to Discuss Russian Relations Tuesday

"How can we establish friendly relations with Russia?"

"Can our foreign policy lead to peace?"

These questions will be discussed at a forum to be held in the Love Library auditorium, Tuesday, May 4th at 8 p. m., according to Gordon Lippitt, executive secretary of the University Y.M.C.A.

The forum will feature guest speakers Lee Chatfield, Milo W. Price, Richard Criley and Reese Wilkinson. Ted Sorenson will be chairman and Charles Goolsby and Dr. Curtis Elliot, professor of economics, will be moderators.

Lee Chatfield is the assistant dean of men. Formerly a lieutenant colonel in the infantry, he was awarded the Purple Heart. He has an M.A. in educational psychology. Milo W. Price is an instructor in the political science department. Richard Criley has a B.A. from the university and a B.A. degree in history from the University of California. He was a captain in the army and a member of General Eisenhower's staff. Criley belongs to the Communist party in Illinois, Reese Wilkinson, a member of the city council, will be the fourth speaker.

Charles Goolsby said, "The forum is not designed to criticize nor spread any particular teaching or political theory, but is aimed at helping students, faculty and interested citizens to arrive at rational conclusions on the present international situation."

Each member will talk for ten minutes and question each other. The meeting will be opened to questions from the audience. All students may attend,

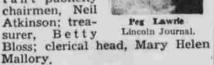

Lawrie To Direct Raising Of All University Fund

Appointment of Peg Lawrie as director of the AUF for tion of Pi Lambda Theta, reportthe coming year was announced by Joan Farrar of the AUF advisory board at the Student Council meeting Wednesday.

Miss Lawrie has been treasurer of the organization for local group. the past year. She is a Mortar Board, a member of Student Foundation board, Coed Counselors, and Pi Lambda Theta. Other officers named were: advisory board members, Bob Easter, Joan Farrar, Jo Kellenbarger, and Norm Leger; head solicitor, Ted Gunderson; publicity chair-man, Bruce Johnson; assistant publicity chairmen, Neil Atkinson; trea-

The board was appointed by

In approving the appointments, the Student Council added a recommendation that the organization draw up a constitution and elect its own officers in the future.

This year's officers were: director, Beth Noerenberg; advisory board, Joan Farrar, Marcia Mock-ett, John Osler, Martin Pesek, and Harriet Quinn; head solicitor, Bob Easter; publicity chairman, Norm Leger; treasurer, Peg Lawrie; clerical head, Jo Kellenbarger.

Contested Election Set For Thursday

The election of senior Pub board member was set for Thurs-day, May 6 by the Student Council at their last meeting, Wednesday. The reballoting of this section of the spring election was necessitated by an error in the Pub board ballot when one name was omitted. Jack Selzer, vice president of the council and chairman of the election committee, stated that it was necessary to hold re-election of this office as soon as the new Student Council could set up the machinery to do so.

The election will be held on city campus in the main hallway of the Union, and on ag campus in the Student Activities building from 9 a, m. to 5 p. m. Only juniors are eligible to vote.

The new judiciary committee of the council, to be headed by Dick Schleusener, was elected Wednesday and includes Betty Assen, Joan Farrar, Bill Schenck, and Barbara Spear.

McElhaney Voted Prexy Of Honorary

Pi Lambda Theta, professional honorary sorority of Teachers college, elected officers for the opening year at a meeting in the

BC of the Union.

Ulstrom, reporter, Jacque-lin Hill, Twenty-one new members were initiated Lincoln Journal. into the organat the spring initiation Initiates Named.

ceremonies April 20, in Parlors

The initiates are: Elsie Berg, Nancy Brown, Helen Anne Chase, Catherine Elliot, Joan Farrar, Nancy Garey, Lois Gillett, Lois Gobar, Norma Hansen, Phyllis Harris, Jacquelyn Hill, Lois Kroehler, Shirley Laflin, Betty Laird, Peggy Lawrie, Patricia Line, Dorma McAuley, Marguerite Nootz, Dona Reagon, Ila Faye Ulstrom, and Glenna Van Horn.

At the banquet following the ceremonies, Marilyn Markusson, delegate to the National Concened on the activities of the national organization and cited opportunities for participation of the

Banquet Closes Engine College Annual Open House Week

The 36th annual Week open house which began April 29 demonstrated the theme "Today's Dream — Tomorrow's Reality" to a crowd of 6,000 per-

Visitors saw latest engineering developments in Nebraska river control systems, radar and sonar equipment, mobile telephone systems turbo-jet engine, agricultural machinery, modern housing and interior decorating. The week was highlighted by a convocation, field day and banquet for all engineering students.
Mr. Francis J. Curtis, vice

the past AUF advisory board and the faculty sponsor, Dr. Elliot. president of Monsanto Chemical company spoke at the engineers company spoke at the engineers che morning convocation Sttuart theater. Mr. Curtis told the group that there is need for training beyond the highly technical and specialized fields of engineering itself, and the engineer, especially if he is interested in positions in management, should be familiar with business and the arts as well.

The Field day was held Friday afternoon at Pioneers park. After a picnic lunch faculty representatives vied in a "bull session" contest. First place honors in the

Filings for Two Publications Close

Filings for positions on the Cornhusker and Corn Shucks will close Friday, May 7. Application blanks may be secured in the of-fice of the School of Journalism and when filled out may be deposited there. These applications were opened Monday, April 26. The board of student publications will meet the morning of Saturday, May 8, to make appointments Filings for positions on The Daily Nebraskan will open on Monday, May 10, and will close on Friday, May 21. The Publications Board will meet on the morning of Saturday, May 22 to make appointments for these positions.

for these new staffs.

The Publications Board will hold its final meeting of the year Saturday, May 29, to let appropriate contracts for all the student publications to cover all of sists Mr. Lentz with the stunts the coming year.

Engineer's competition went to John F. Schrunk of agricultural engineering. Inter-departmental racing competition and a baseball game in which the chemical engineers took the cup concluded the day.

The Engineers gathered at 7:30 p. m. Friday for a banquet concluding the week activities. Toastmaster Lee White presented Dean Green who announced winners of the various awards and scholar-

Recipients of awards and scholarships Were;

Max Balley, O. J. Fee award.
Lauren Morin, freshman scholarship.
Sidney Campbell, American Institute of Architects.
Warren Koenig, Associated Institute of Chemical Engineers award.

John Beers, Associated General Con-See BANQUET, page 4.

Council Names Joe Jankovitch '49 Yell King

Blond cheer leader Joe Jankovitch was named '49 Yell King by the Student Council at their meeting Wednesday.

A sophomore in biz ad, Jankovitch is from Grand Island and has been on the cheering squad for two semesters. He was responsible for this year's new "Let Her Rip" yell. Other cheer leaders nominated for the office were Norm Leger and Bill Mickle. Leger declined the nomination because the position would over point him.

Although any student is eligible for the position of Yell King, it was the decision of the Council to select a varsity cheer leader, as has been the policy in the past. Besides being in charge of the cheering section at athletic events, it is the duty of the Yell King to assist in an advisory capacity in the selection of cheer leaders. He works with the Corn Cobs and Tassels, pep organizations, and with the rally committee. He coordinates rallys with the athletic department. The operation of the card section is under the Yell King's direction, and he also asput on by the band.

Fishwood Reigns At Farmers Fair Jack DeWulf Wins Whisker King Title

BY LOUISE McDILL Ag News Editor

Farmers Fair Royalty-Sue Fishwood, Goddess of Agriculture, and Jack DeWulf, Whisker King, reign over the 1948 Farmers Fair festivities. After being presented at the Cotton Denim Ball Friday, the royalty headed the parade down O street and observed the midway, open house and Rodeo Saturday.

Agriculture, reigned over the beque pits. Farmers Fair festivities Friday night and Saturday. She was an elected Fair Board headed by crowned at the Cotton Denim Rick Wahlstrom, manager, and dance Friday night along with including Don Kellogg and Mar-Jack DeWulf, the 1948 Whisker letta Shoup, open house; Vaughn Marianne Srb, Bernice Young, Ruth Peters, LaRayne Wahlstrom, Vodis Fidel and Wilma Elson. Bob Scheve was master of ceremonies for the unique presentation planned by the Home Ec club.

Saturday's activities were highlighted by the Rodeo in the afternoon at the arena constructed north of the Ag Union. Nearly 3000 people jammed the bleachers and the fence around the arena to see NU's first collegiate ro-

Winners Told

Seven events took place. Events and the men who placed first in them are: steer riding, Kirk Gill-eous speaking contest, sponsored calf roping, Vaughn Johnson; cutting horse, Roger Egan; and wild horse, Walt Eggers. Marian Pratt and Virginia Baskin were May 3-8, acthe winners of the coed calf catching contest. Prizes contri-buted by Lincoln businesmen were awarded to each of the winners.

Jack King, professional rodeo moderator, was in the stand an-nouncing the events. Bob Tebo and Mrs. Jack King were official timekeepers and judges were Ab Burke, Frank Jones and Fred

Before and after the rodeo the crowd paraded through the midway and inspected the depart-mental exhibits. Winning the departmental display contest plaque was the women's vocational education department. Honorable his or her name engraved on it. mention went to the agronomy. Last year's two top organizaclothing and textiles and the design and home furnishings departments.

Displays Judged

Displays were judged on their eye appeal, organization and integration, representation of activities of department and show of scientific advancement. Judges were Rachel Gerlof, E. C. Blood and Bernie Camp.

Farmers Fair closed Saturday evening with a barbeque for 700 students, faculty and alums of Ag college. Barbequed round steak, buns, salad, potato chips, ice cream and cake, and coffee or milk were served by a committee

Sue Fishwood, 1948 Goddess of south of the Union near the bar-

Farmers Fair is sponsored by Johnson, rodeo; Charles Smith The Goddess' attendants, also and Eunice Jensen, midway; Harpresented at the dance were riet Moline, dance; Don Smith and Vi Vosika, barbeque; La-Rayne Steyer, Wahlstrom and Charles Brim, publicity; and Lucille Manning, women's program.
The faculty advisors are E. C.
Conrad, Miss Margaret Liston,
James Dunlap, Howard Wiegers
and Miss Anna Shively.

Schleusener Announces IM Speech Contest

The intramural extemporanespie; bareback riding, Jim Cur- by the university chapter of tis; saddle broncs, Walt Eggers; Delta Sigma Rho National Hon-

May 3-8, according to Dick S c h leusener, president of the group. Entries for the contest are due Monday, May 3.

Top ranking individuals and organizations will be an-Dick Schleusener W111 be an-Lincoln Journal, nounced and given awards. The winnings organization will be awarded a gavel with its name engraved on it. The top individual speaker will win a silver loving cup with

Last year's two top organizations were Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Tau Omega. The winning speakers were Paul Harrington, Don Farber and Catherine Ham.

Those who enter will draw between 4 and 5:30 p.m. Mon-day for topics for the first round. The rooms to which the various speakers are to report will be posted at that time on the sec-ond floor of the Temple on the