

Husker Nine Climbs to 2nd In Loop Race

Nebraska's Cornhuskers jumped into third place in the Big Seven baseball race this week after handing the cellar-dwelling Kansas Jayhawks two defeats Tuesday and Wednesday. The Huskers hold a 6-3 record.

Missouri and Colorado are in the loop lead with percentages of .750. However, the Tigers have won six and lost two, while Colorado has won three in only four contests. Missouri will play two home games against Kansas Friday and Saturday.

Colorado will travel to Ames for two contests with the Cyclones and will meet Nebraska in Lincoln Monday and Tuesday.

UN Droys Kansas Twice.
The Huskers handed KU a 10-1 shellacking Tuesday and dropped the Jayhawks, 5-2, Wednesday. Big Jim Sandstedt limited Kansas to four hits in the opening game of the series, and Elroy "Lefty" Gloystein turned in a two-hit chore Wednesday in defeating the Lawrence nine.

Kansas State is in fourth place with a 5-3 record; Oklahoma's Sooners follow with 4-6; Iowa State is sixth with a 2-5 record; and Kansas is in the cellar with only one victory in eight starts.

Nebraska will see heavy duty in the next five days. The Cornhuskers entertain Oklahoma Friday and Saturday and Colorado Monday and Tuesday.

Ossino To Start
Angelo Ossino will receive the hurling assignment Friday in the first game against the Sooners, and Sandstedt will start in the second game Saturday.

The Huskers split with the Sooners in two earlier meetings this season. Both contests are scheduled for 3 o'clock.

Big-Seven conference standings:

Nebraska Track Team Seeks First Outdoor Win Saturday

Nebraska's track team will entertain the University of Colorado Saturday afternoon in the only home dual meet of the season.

The meet will start at 1:30 to avoid conflict with the Oklahoma-Nebraska baseball game.

Coach Weir's Huskers are after their first victory of the outdoor season. They lost to Kansas and Missouri earlier. A wave of injuries has crippled the Nebraskans in the two previous meets.

Buff Sprint Star

Don Campbell, Colorado's sophomore sprinter, will be one of the top men in the century and 220. Campbell has been clocked in .09.5 last year but has been hampered by injuries most of the season. Nebraska's Dick Hutton, Al Thompson and Harry Meginnis are expected to press the Buff star.

Colorado boasts three other individual stars. Warren Bateman should give the Huskers' Don Cooper plenty of competition in the pole vault. Bateman soared 13'6" to tie for first place in the Kansas Relays.

Jack McEwen is Colorado's hope in the broad jump. He leaped 24 feet in a practice try this season. Jack Todd hurled the javelin 194'5" in the KU carnival.

Upset Features Wednesday's Softball Games

Ten games were played Wednesday afternoon as the 1948 intramural softball tournament nears the half-way mark. The tournament has been running very smoothly as few games are being forfeited and more fields are in use.

Sigma Nu pulled the big upset of the day as they took a hard fought 3 to 2 decision over Alpha Tau Omega, to knock the ATOs from the undefeated list.

In other games, the SAEs beat the Delta Sigs, 18 to 5; Brown Palace dropped the Kappa Sigs, 6 to 4; Phi Delta Theta topped Farm House, 9 to 3; Delta Upsilon beat Delta Chi, 1 to 0; Cornhusker Co-op dropped Delta Tau Delta, 6 to 1; the Sig Eps beat the Phi Psis, 10 to 3; the Pill Rollers swamped Dorm A-2, 16 to 2; Phi Gamma Delta topped the ZBTs, 14 to 4; and the Sig Chis edged out Theta Xi, 2 to 0.

Teams Dropped.

The Intramural wishes to announce that all teams that forfeit will be dropped from the tournament.

Second round matches are now being played in the gold tournament, and they must be played off by Sunday, May 9. Results must be posted on the bulletin board by Monday noon.
