

Ag Enrollment Threatens All-time Record

Aerial View of Ag Campus

LOOKING DOWN—Ag students won't view their campus from this angle but they can get a picture of the place from this aerial shot of the university College of Agriculture.

Union Opens Thursday; Face-Lifting Is Evident

Thursday morning the doors will swing open on the newly redecorated ag student union, as the ag social center begins its second year of existence.

Located in the basement of the college activities building, the union provides a well-equipped fountain room, and various forms of relaxation and recreation for ag students.

The suburban branch of the union became a reality in 1946, after considerable effort on the part of certain students and faculty. Since that time it has become a necessary part of campus activity.

Alice Mathauser, union director, promises a full season of dances, movies, and other entertainment especially for ag students. During the summer months, extensive repairs have been made and a few new features added.

Tops on the list of new conveniences is the "Musak" installation.

Greetings

The faculty and students welcome again the beginning of a new school year, and the eagerness and enthusiasm with which everyone goes about his job is noted everywhere. Familiar faces on every corner and getting acquainted with new ones makes the beginning of the year a most pleasant occasion.

On the agricultural campus, many freshman, upper classmen and faculty members are already acquainted through contact in 4-H clubs, Future Farmers, Youth clubs, and other agricultural activities. Opportunities in agriculture and home economics have always been good and at present are better than ever. Going to college is hard work but it is a pleasure. In behalf of the faculty of the college of Agriculture, I bid you welcome and I wish for you a profitable and happy school year.

F. D. Keim
Acting Dean

This handy contrivance provides classical and popular music by records, in addition to being hooked up with the three major networks. It may also be used as a paging device via a microphone located in the office.

Repainting is also in evidence. The entire fountain room—Dell to you upperclassmen—has been repainted and the lounge and recreation room have also received fresh coloring.

Union Hours.

Union hours will be about the same as last year, according to Miss Mathauser. Monday through Thursday, the lounge will be open from 7:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m., and the dell will keep the same hours but will close at 10:00 p. m. Friday it will remain open until midnight. On Saturday, hours will be from 8:00 a. m. until 1:00 p. m. except in the case of special events when the Dell will remain open until midnight. The Dell will open at 4 p. m. on Sunday and remain open until 10:00 p. m.

When movies are held on Sunday, the Union will open at 2:00 p. m., and it will be closed every day between the hours of 6-7:30.

The first regular feature of the Ag Union will commence Sunday, Sept. 19, when the Coffee Hour will be presented at 5 p. m. A regular occasion the past years, the Coffee Hour offers free coffee and cakes, and relaxing music in the Union lounge. Miss Mathauser promises matinee dances as soon as a time can be arranged for them.

V. W. Lambert Replaces Burr As Ag College Dean October 1

V. W. Lambert
... New Head

Prospects for a record breaking enrollment at Ag are booming with the total of new enrollees nearing 300. With registration approximately two-thirds complete, an unofficial check showed that 231 students had been processed.

Dr. C. C. Wiggins, chairman of the committee, reported that the number of students registering for the first time at the Ag college was considerably over that of previous years. "If we should register 300 or more new students," said Dr. Wiggins, "It is quite likely that we will have a record enrollment."

The 1948 registration is conspicuous by the absence of Dean W. W. Burr, who has retired after thirty years as Dean of Ag college. Dean Burr's retirement will not become official until Oct. 1. But he has already left Lincoln on business.

Keim Acting Dean

Acting Dean in his absence is Dr. F. D. Keim, chairman of the department of agronomy. Dr. Keim will assume the duties of the office until the new dean takes over Oct. 1. Prof. M. L. Baker is serving as Director of the Experiment Station.

Dr. V. W. Lambert, former head of the Agricultural Research Administration in Washington will take over as dean and director of the Ag college Oct. 1. A well-known livestock expert, he is a native Nebraskan and received his B.Sc. from the agricultural college in 1921.

Burr To Germany

At the request of the American government, Dean Burr departed for Germany by plane on Sept. 14. He will go to Berlin and thence to Wuerttemberg-Baden in the American zone of Germany.

While in Germany, Dean Burr will make a study of the agricultural colleges there and make recommendations to the military government. He will especially suggest ways that the colleges may aid the German farmers.

The trip will be the first entourage from the country for Dean Burr. He expects to be gone for approximately three months, and will then return to Lincoln.
