

200 Students Assigned Bleacher Seats for Iowa State Game

Faculty Shifted to West Stadium in Seat Scramble

BY KEITH FREDERICKSON

Nearly 200 students will view the Iowa State game from the bleachers. Six hundred faculty members have been shifted to the West Stadium.

This is the latest word on the troubled situation regarding student activity tickets. The 200 students, including two large sorority blocks, have received seats which have been sold out for the Iowa State game. Their activity books will be honored in the East Stadium for the Notre Dame game and all games thereafter.

At the present time, 1,431 student orders remain to be filled of the total 8,431 which were sold. In addition to these, student sales will be reopened Thursday in the Coliseum lobby. The athletic business office staff will burn the midnight oil tonight to fill the remaining orders and prepare enough tickets to meet the final rush.

Low Reports.

A. J. Lewandowski, business manager, made the following statement to The Daily Nebraskan, Tuesday:

"Because of the large student sale and demand for faculty seats, it will be necessary to move approximately 600 faculty members to seats in the West Stadium. Furthermore, 200 students will be accommodated in the bleachers for the Iowa State game. Their ticket will be honored in the East Stadium for the Notre Dame game and all games thereafter."

"Student sales for the current year have reached 8,431, and sales will reopen Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Coliseum lobby."

"The athletic department has decided that all students deserving seats will gain admission to the East Stadium with all blocks seated as such. The business office is striving primarily to please in every way the faculty and student body of the university."

No One Happy.

Meanwhile, the student body, with a few exceptions, is anything but pleased. Complaints have flooded the Daily Nebraskan office and the business office concerning tickets not filled and students dissatisfied with their lot.

In the latter category are several hundred students seated in the east balcony. Several large blocks of students were among this group.

Foremost in the minds of most students is the fact that there are decidedly few choice student seats in comparison to the poor seats. The 8,431 seats comprise roughly three-fifths of the capacity of the east Stadium, and they do contain a large number of seats which would not be easy to dispose of in public sale. The public sale seats are the cream of the crop, at least 2,000 of them, and this accounts for the majority of poor seats among student selections.

Explains Shortage.

Lewandowski attributes the shortage of tickets to the influx of faculty orders this year and the unprecedented number of men buying tickets for their wives. Seven thousand tickets had been reserved for student sale, a figure well over the number sold last year.

Over 3000 Rooms Found For Students

Many Families Still Homeless

Approximately 3,000 rooms have been located for university students for the current school year, Ed Smith, new director of housing, announced today.

"The situation for single student's housing has been settled very satisfactorily," Smith commented. "There have been enough rooms for everyone. Students should be grateful to the people of Lincoln for the way they have responded to our pleas for rooms before school started."

Married Students Homeless.

However, the situation for the married students is not so bright. Many of the married students are still looking for places to live. Huskerville, the university housing unit for married students, is full and has a waiting list of 150 to 200 families. About 50 other families who are not eligible for residence at Huskerville are also homeless.

Many of these families are crowded into a single room or with someone they know.

Some married students have sent their families home while still others have given up attending the university.

Rough Situation.

"We really have a problem on our hands," Smith said. "For the married students who do not have a place to live, it is a rough situation."

The Men's Dorm, completed last year, has done much to release the load for single students. Of the 3,000 students who have been housed this year, 267 students were located in the Dorm.

"We hope someday to be able to house all university students on the campus, so we will not have to call on Lincoln townspeople to open their homes. The Men's Dorm is a step in that direction," Smith concluded.

'Shopping Spree' to Highlight YWCA in Formal Rendezvous

Barbara Speer, YWCA president, has announced plans for a rendezvous for all upperclass women Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. in Ellen Smith hall. "The rendezvous," said Miss Speer, "will highlight the two-week YWCA membership drive."

The purpose of the rendezvous is to explain to prospective YW members the functions and departments of the YWCA. All commission group leaders and committee chairmen will be present to explain the duties of their groups, which offer discussions on such topics as world relations, political effectiveness, social service and comparative religion.

The rendezvous, which is informal, will be built around a shopping theme and will feature a skit under the direction of M. J. Melick. Refreshments will be served.

Membership receipts will be exchanged for membership cards. Dues may be paid at the time of the rendezvous. The upperclass membership drive will continue until Sept. 29. A membership drive for freshman women is planned for late October.

Ignore Faulty Headline; Frosh to Dance Saturday

Official word, while not in agreement with one of yesterday's Daily Nebraskan headlines, is that the "Freshmen Hop" will be held Saturday night from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Further word has it that it's not too late to get tickets for the first big dance of the year, especially designed for freshmen students who are bent on getting acquainted with fellow members and some of the upperclassmen.

Wheels Will Hop, Too

Upperclassmen will be at the hop, too, for one of the purposes of the dance is to give the freshmen an opportunity to meet some of the activities people and learn what makes the wheels go 'round.

Tickets sell for only 50 cents. Selling them are members of the Innocents Society, who are co-sponsoring the dance with the Union, and a booth in the Union hallway is now open to reach all students who did not get their tickets during registration.

Come One, Come All

The question of "is the dance open only to freshmen?" rates a "no" for an answer.

To enable freshmen (transfer students, too) to meet students in classes other than their own, the dance is open to upperclassmen. Since the hop will serve as an "activities mart" for both men and women by way of a skit which explains and also plans campus activities and colorful cartooned-posters representing each activity, the Innocents urge all students in activities to be at the Hop.

Music for dancing will be provided by the Smith-Warren band.

Shinn Cites Opportunities . . . New Angles for Globe Trotting Released by World Traveler

. . . Free Trips Available

"There is much more opportunity for young people to travel now than anyone supposes," declared Miss Ruth Shinn, new executive secretary of the University Y.W.C.A.

Miss Shinn, who has traveled extensively in Turkey, Italy, France, and Switzerland, cited examples of college graduates with one year's experience who are working in Europe as teachers, international journalists, engineers, or relief workers.

She believes that if students are interested in their work they can have a wonderful time abroad, but if they are doing it just for a free trip it will probably be dull.

For the past three years Miss Shinn has been teaching English and organizing sports and social recreation at the American Academy for Girls in Istanbul, Turkey.

Turkish Students Work.

"Students there work much harder on their studies than we," Miss Shinn said, adding that the Turkish high school girls were studying college math and required to take biology chemistry, physics, physiology, botany and geology. All of these sciences are studied in English.

Some Americans judge Europe by its food, plumbing and efficiency, Miss Ruth Shinn but Miss Shinn thinks that these tourists miss the real Europe. One thing that she found in Europe that is not always found here is hospitality.

"So many people are more hospitable than they need to be, and I hope that we may be the same to foreigners traveling here," she said.

Slept on Deck

One doesn't have to travel first class to see Europe, according to the new YW secretary. She once traveled from Istanbul to Naples, a five day voyage, sleeping on deck and carrying all her food in a picnic basket.

Another summer she spent Youth Hosteling in England. She bicycled from Guilford to Canterbury, partially over the trail of the pilgrims going to Canterbury cathedral. On this trip chores were shared and overnight stops were made in old English manors. Working with people of 10 coun-

Uni Singers List Completed; 114 To Enter Group

Dr. A. E. Westbrook

University Singers tryouts were completed Tuesday, and a list of those students chosen was posted in the music building, Dr. Arthur Westbrook, director of the School of Fine Arts, revealed Tuesday.

The Singers will immediately begin a series of rehearsals that will continue thruout the year. Meetings of the group will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 a. m.

Since the 150 students who tried out could not all be accommodated, Dr. Westbrook urged that people who still desire to sing report to one of the two chorus groups. The first of these meet at 11 a. m. on Tuesday and Thursday. Another group meets at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday and 5 p. m. on Thursday.

The first performance given by the group will be a Christmas carol program Dec. 5 in the Union. This will be followed by a presentation of the Christmas Messiah and an opera in February.

Dr. Westbrook expressed his enthusiasm over this year's prospects for a complete and well rounded vocal program. Below is the list of University Singers chosen:

Ball Reminds Late Applicants To File for Parking Permits

Campus police will be on duty at the west end of the library mall issuing parking stickers only until Thursday night, Student Council President Dale Ball warned yesterday.

Ball also stated that students who have not yet filed their applications for permits may do so during Student Council office hours. The office is open from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday and is located in Room 305 of the Union.

When a student receives a ticket, he must go to the Comptroller's office in the Administration building and pay the fine. Instructions and the amount of the fine will be indicated on the back of the ticket. If the student feels that he does not deserve a fine and wishes to appeal his case, he may appeal it to the Student Court which will be set up at today's Student Council meeting.

Only four offenses have been published as being liable to fines. The Student Court will not only be concerned with this list of parking violations but with all traffic violations. Ball related that the provisions made in setting up the court would not be final and would change as arising situations will demand.
