Rag Sports Experts Tell All

The Daily Nebraskan sports staff goes into its third week of looking into the crystal ball and foretelling the grid futures of the nation's top football teams.

This week the sports staff arose as one man to back the stubborn, hard-fighting Cornhusker team which travels to Minnesota Saturday. The staff is backing the Huskers to the hilt and heartily believes the Huskers will upset Bernie Bierman's Gophers tomorrow.

Last week was pretty disastrous for some of the experts. This week's stumbling blocks are even harder but our board of experts thinks this is a banner week.

As a whole, the staff missed 18 of 60 selections, a little worse than the first week's mark of 10 out of 48. Harold Abramson moved into first place missing only on the Villanova-Army game. Fritz Simpson dropped to second, missing three, while Cub Clem, Bob Phelps and Jack Donovan four. Lee Harris moved into third place by missing but two for the second straight week.

Frosh vs. B Team

The freshmen football squad gradually is being organized into teams. Coach "Pop" Klein and his assistants have been kept busy forming these elevens so they include everyone on the squad. Twelve to 14 teams are practicing every night.

IM Grid Teams Take Victories

Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu touch grid squads advanced in intramural league play by downing Alpha Gamma Rho and Farm House 26-0 and 6-2. The Phi Gams defeated Brown Palace 12-0 and Kappa Sigma upset Delta Upsilon 6-0 Thursday afternoon.

The Betas scored four quick touchdowns in the first half to ride roughshod over the Ag crew.

Cland Emmet snatched two touchdown passes to pace the fast moving Beta team which seemed to score at will over their opponents. Bob Means and Bob Kasmark accounted for the two other Beta touchdowns.

Second half play found the Beta offense slowed down as second and third teams took over the offensive play.

The Sigma Nu's scored an early first quarter touchdown to beat down a stubborn Farm House team 6-2.

Bob Hinde sparked for the winners as he pushed over the winning touchdown and generally sparked his team offense.

The Phi Gam's Fritz Hegwood and Butch Schroeder paced the team's performance in the touchdown department.

Barring the path of Nebraska's ball carriers Saturday at Memorial Stadium in Minneapolis will be Vern Gagne, Minnesota right end, who was a member of the United States Olympic wrestling team.

some gals are dateless on moonlit nights!

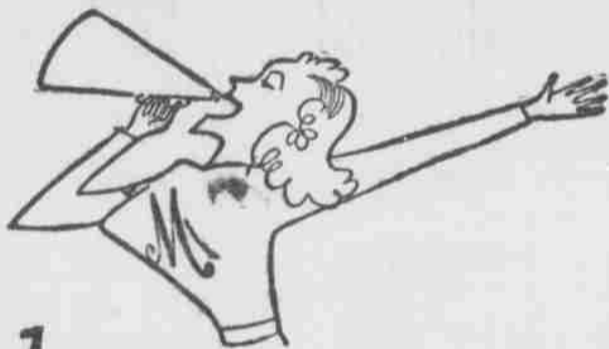

But let us leave the Gamma and go over to the "Iota" house, short for "Not one Iota" a fraternity. Here the phone is being used for football practice. It rings! It rings again—and again—It's being answered!...What do you know, wrong number! But wait, it rings again, but this time there's "not one Iota."

By 1952, veterans and their families will number an estimated 62,300,000—or 43 percent of the nation's population.
