Our mail bag had a couple of interesting letters which we'd like to pass on to you.

Mr. A. J. Lewandowski writes, "I appreciate very much the team work that the students showed at last Saturday's ball game. Crowding together I think will permit many of these aisle seats to be moved into the stadium proper. All your good work is greatly appreciated by me and the department of intercollegiate athletes."

"Lew" also passed on to us a letter written by an anonymous character who calls himself "Mr. X." We'd like to give you a few excerpts from mysterious "Mr. X's" note. Take it for what it's worth.

"Mr. X" claims that student activity books are selling for as high as $50 and that the price for activity tickets for the Notre Dame game is currently $25. "Mr. X," who is a student himself, also claims that it is the students who have caused the shortage of seats in the stadium. He says the students bought the tickets and resold them to friends and members of their family. The man or woman calling himself X assured Mr. Lewandowski that he had never written an anonymous letter before but that he could no longer control himself. Mr. X wants to eat his words and join the ranks of anonymous letter writers.

We think there are some students who would like to help him eat his words also. Our guess is that "Mr. X" has been reading too many comic books. Next time, old man, try to keep calm, cool and collected. Remember "It's bigger than both of us."

Our next letter is from Mr. George Patsy Clark, athletic director and football coach. Says M. Clark: "We go to Minnesota this week. I still am confident that there will be enough room for both teams on that gridiron. We appreciated your fine support in our opening game. The players told me they were offside a time or two because they could not hear the signal over the noise made by the crowd. And that's exactly the way we want it. If a wildly cheering bunch of rooters won't more than offset a couple of offside penalties, then my football psychology is and always has been wrong."

Coach Bernie Bierman to stop pacing up and down in front of the Minnesota bench.

Neither team threatened seriously in the final half. Minnesota scored an anti-climatic touchdown in the final minutes of the game when Malloski faked a run and passed to Soltau to make the score read 39-13.

The game was supposed to have been a very long afternoon for the Huskers but Coach Patsy Clark's charges showed they can be tough. The Nebraskans played good football except for their pass defense which will probably be improved in this week's practices.

Tennis Singles Tourney Opens Sunday, Oct. 3

The all university tennis singles championship tournament is scheduled to get under way Sunday morning, Oct. 3, at 8:30 in three sections of Lincoln.

118 men are entered in the title tourney, and all are requested to visit the intramural bulletin board in the new sports arena building to see who they play, and the exact hour and place.

All first and second round matches will be played Sunday exactly on schedule, and all men failing to appear will be eliminated without delay.

Matches will be played at South street courts at 35th and South; Mury courts at 22nd and J streets; and the City courts at 27th and A streets. All players must furnish a can of three new tennis balls. The winner of each match retains the new and unused balls, with the loser of each match keeping the used balls. Thus, new tennis balls will be available for every tournament match.

A large number of excellent players are entered and a wide open race is expected for both team and individual honors.

Table Tennis Play Opens

The annual table tennis league starts play in the Coliseum basement Monday, October 4, at 5 p. m. with team matches scheduled daily at 5 p. m. and 5:30 p. m.

Teams have entered from both the fraternity and independent divisions and spirited competition is assured. Five-man teams will represent each club or organization in all matches.

Monday's schedule, October 4: 5 p. m. Alpha Tau Omega vs. Alpha Gamma Rho. 5:30 p. m. Delta Sigma Pi vs. Phi Gamma Delta.

Tuesday's schedule, October 5: 5 p. m. Sigma Chi vs. Beta Sigma Psi. 5:30 p. m. Newman Club vs. Muscle Men.

Gophers Drop U.N.

Continued From Page 1— and he faded back once more to hit Jim Bierman on the 20. It was Faunce all the way when he carried around end to the 18. The Gopher hotshot then dropped back on the next play to complete a pass to Mallaski who crossed the Hosker goal line untouched.

Faunce couldn't be stopped Saturday afternoon. The fleet Gopher back had all the time he wanted when it came to passing. Jim Bierman caught another Faunce pass and was brought down on the Nebraska seven by Bill Mueller. It was Faunce again on the next two plays as he carried for five yards and then faked a pass to score standing up.

The name Faunce was written all over the gridiron as he set up the next touchdown with a pass to Bill Field. Somehow a player named Dale Warner got into the Minnesota lineup and he scored on an intercepted pass from Gerry Ferguson to make the score board read Minnesota 25, Nebraska 13.

It was the same old story however when Ev Faunce returned from the bench with glad tidings to his teammates from Coach Bierman. This time it was Bill Hind who caught a Faunce pass to score giving the scoreboard a 32-13 halftime score and allowing
