Looking at Nebraska's 1949 football schedule we see that it differs greatly from those in past years. The squad opens up with a very early September start and close the season with one of the earliest finishes in Nebraska's history against Colorado on November 19.

It's really strange to see only three games listed in November and to find that the last two opponents are Iowa State and Colorado. Of course its even stranger to find the Huskers pitted against South Dakota in the opening game.

Nine Game Schedule

Speaking from the standpoint of a football fan the 1949 schedule will really be a letdown after this season's fancy program. Three of this year's top opponents will be missing from the grid slate. Notre Dame, UCLA and Oregon State will no longer be seen on the Memorial Stadium gridiron. The three teams are being replaced by two teams, South Dakota and Penn State. Minnesota is the only team from outside the Big Seven conference being retained on the Scarlet schedule. This shrinks the slate from 10 to nine games and just about brings things back to normal as far as Husker football is concerned.

1949's schedule should end all argument concerning seating in the stadium. Matter of fact there will probably be plenty of room in the stadium. We know that football is being de-emphasized on campus but how far can it go.

Braves To Win Again

After our prediction on the World Series opener turned out right with Boston's Tommy Holmes singling in the winning run we'll stick with the boys from Beantown in today's game. Billy Southworth will probably start capable Warren Spahn, a left hander, on the mound and that is good enough for us.

Frosh Coach Divides Squad

Freshman Coach L. F. "Pop" Klein has announced the division of his enormous turnout into four squads, each headed by two coaches. This is designed to give the boys as much help as possible.

The squads are composed of three teams with the third squad containing a few additional men. One squad is headed by Klein and Kane; another by Miller and Johnson; a third by Parsons and Metheny; and the fourth by Hanscomb and Koejer. These divisions were not made as to ability, but were merely devised as an aid to scrimmaging and working with the frosh gridders.

The squad is continuing its daily workouts, preparing for their game with Iowa State frosh, October 30.

Husker Track Candidates Make Qualifying Trials

Bunten Wins Gift Toss Title

Andy Bunten, Sigma Nu, copped the All-University intramural free throw championship Wednesday evening by downing the Independent champ, Charles Broughton, 36-31 in match play.

Earlier, Bunten had defeated Subby Ruma of Beta Theta Pi for the fraternity title, 46-36. The Betas and Sigma Nu tied for team laurels with six points apiece. The playoff for the intramural trophy will be held this afternoon at 5:00 p. m. when four men from each house will compete with the best aggregate score taking the prize.

The champion swept to the finals in impressive fashion. After hitting a perfect 40 for 40 in the preliminary round, Bunten downed Bill Wenk, DU, 33-32; Joe Tobiska, Sig Ep, 33-30; Dick Michalek, DU, 38-35, and Tom Donohoe, Sig Chi, 46-38 in a semi-final match.

Ruma advanced with wins over John Brower, Sig Ep, 28-26; Warren Fairchild, Kappa Sigma, 32-30; Bob Baum, Phi Psi, 30-24, and Jack Carroll, ATO, 43-39 in the other semi-final.

Carroll took third place honors by dumping Donohoe, 42-38.

Tryouts for Aquaettes will be held in the Coliseum pool, October 7 and 14 at 7 p. m. All girls interested should have health permits from Student Health according to Beverly Shuman, president.

Braving a bitter north wind, Husker two-mile candidates went through their paces Wednesday afternoon in the qualifying trial for the Colorado dual meet Saturday. Five men are to make the trip.

The trial was paced by the veteran Harold Kopf; followed by Bill Mountford, highly touted sophomore; Don Theil, another vet; Don Morrison, who is making a comeback this year after two operations; and another newcomer, Jess Sell. These men are tentatively scheduled to make the jaunt to Boulder. However, another runner, Barnell, will try Thursday to better the time of the fifth place man.

Freshman track was given a boost when Lee Moore, a Grand Island boy, finished third in the trial. Perry, a quartermiler from Red Oak, Ia., also finished the grind. These two, along with Esref Aydin, the "Flying Turk" carry freshman hopes at the present, but more are expected to turn out. Aydin is ineligible for varsity competition this semester. The frosh have two dual postal meets this fall plus a conference postal in November.

Nebraska two mile schedule for this fall:

- Oct. 9 Colorado at Boulder.
- Oct. 23 Kansas University at Lawrence.
- Oct. 30 Missouri University at Lincoln.
- Nov. 6 Kansas State at Lincoln.
- Nov. 13 Big 7 Conference meet.
