

Innocents Reveal Decoration Rules

Rules for the traditional Homecoming house decorations contest were announced today by the Innocents Society, men's senior honorary.

Oct. 18 Set as Deadline.

The Innocents, annual sponsors of the contest, have set Oct. 18 as the deadline for accepting entries from all men's and women's houses to participate in the decoration competition.

Winners of the house decorations contest will receive the Homecoming cup awards which will be presented at the Homecoming dance Saturday night, Oct. 30.

Houses to Comply with Rules.

Houses are expected to comply with the following rules. Failure to do so will disqualify the house from competition, according to John Osler, chairman of the decorations contest committee.

1. No display will exceed the maximum cost allowance of $50.00 for each house display.
2. All decorations must be completed by 6 p.m., Oct. 29. Itemized expense accounts must be turned in to the Innocents by 5 p.m., Oct. 28.
3. All entries must be submitted to Irwin Chesen, Daily Nebraskan, office, 1-2 p.m. Monday through Friday, before Oct. 19.
4. There will be a $5 entry fee for each display. To encourage smaller houses to participate, a fee of only $2.50 will be charged houses with 20 members or less.

Judges for the contest will be three faculty members or decorations experts and two members of the Innocents Society, according to Osler. Names of all judges will be announced at a later date and the decision of the judges will be final.

The decisions will be based on originality, attractiveness and general relationship to the theme of Homecoming, according to Osler, who pointed out that expensive displays are not necessarily the best displays.

Contest Open to Rooming Houses.

Osler emphasized that the contest is not restricted to organized houses and any rooming or boarding house of university students which desires to participate in the contest have a 100% representation of houses to add to the festive atmosphere of Homecoming.

Winners of last year's award in the women's division was Alpha Phi sorority, taking the cup from Rosa Bouton hall, previous year's winner.

Sigma Chi, 1946 winners in the men's division, passed the cup on last year to Phi Gamma Delta.

Barb Tea

Calling all unaffiliated women! Calling all unaffiliated women!! No, "Gangbusters" isn't calling, but the Junior Panhellenic Council is, for this evening from 7 to 8 the Council is presenting a "coke hour" for all unaffiliated women (including married women, too).

The informal coke hour will be held at the Kappa Delta House which is usually located at 405 University Terrace. Presenting the coke hour, the Junior Panhellenic Council is made up of all presidents of the sorority pledge classes.

Historically speaking, this will be the second annual "coke hour." By means of such affairs, the council hopes to create more friendship within the ranks of the Greeks and unaffiliates.

Honor Given Gustavson By Sweden

The Order of the North Star, third highest honor of the Swedish government, has been conferred upon Chancellor R. G. Gustavson.

The honor was given Dr. Gustavson at a ceremony in Stockholm at which he became a Knight Grand Cross, the highest degree in the order. The North Star award was conferred by order of King Gustav of Sweden in recognition of Gustavson's "services in the interest of science and the learned arts."

Dr. Gustavson, in addition to his work as a teacher and college administrator, received the honor for: Research in the field of glands of internal secretion for which he is known in the U. S. and abroad; for his work with the Manhattan (atomic bomb) project during the war; his work as a member of the board of governors of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne laboratory near Chicago; as a member of the national commission of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural organization; and as U. S. delegate to UNESCO's meeting in Mexico.

Attention Independents

Your pictures for the 1949 Cornhusker should be scheduled now. Make your appointments in the Cornhusker office, basement of the Student Union, any afternoon from 2 to 5.

'Carload of Fun'

Would-be "migrationers" are warned that tickets for the Nebraska-K. U. game are going fast. The first tickets sold are for the best seats available, and the sooner students purchase them in the Union lobby, the better their chances to see the Huskers battle from a good vantage.

The $13 tickets provide a round-trip ticket to Lawrence as well as a seat at the game.

Parking Rules, Penalties Released by Committee

Rules and penalties for the university parking program were released today by the faculty-administration-student parking committee. Upon these rules and the cooperation of the "citizens of the university community" depends the success of the campus parking plan.

Student rules: Students who repeatedly violate warnings or fail to report to campus police within a week after receiving a violation ticket will be summoned to the office of the Dean of Student Affairs. Students may then be placed on probation, referred to the municipal traffic court for payment of fine and court costs if found guilty, suspended, or recommended to the Board of Regents for expulsion. This action is based on the Board of Regents resolution passed last August and amended Sept. 23, establishing the traffic rules.

Non-Student Rules Listed.

Non-student rules: Any non-student who fails to report within a week after receiving a ticket will be warned by campus police that unless he reports, his case will be referred to the Lincoln City police which may result in the issuing of a warrant for the violator's arrest. In addition, the sergeant of the campus police may request the City Prosecutor to file complaints in the Lincoln municipal court against all non-students who continue to violate the regulations.

The parking committee released the following revised list of regulations:

(1) Improper parking (including double parking, parking in loading zones, on red lines, astraddle white stall markers, without parking permit in the visitors' area and backing into diagonal parking space); speeding, going through stop signs, and careless driving.

Committee Clarifies Points

The parking committee also clarified two points:

(1) The parking regulations and permits apply only to the official university parking lots and the city campus area bounded by R street, 10th and 14th streets and Avery avenue.

(2) While the campus parking area is policed by the university, Lincoln city police still have the power of arrest anywhere within the corporate limits of Lincoln, which includes the city campus.

Major General To View ROTC

Maj. Gen. John P. Lucas, deputy commander of the Fifth army area, will inspect the ROTC unit here this afternoon, Col. Howard J. John announced today.

Included in the general's itinerary are a visit with institutional authorities in the chancellor's office, a tour of the Armory and the motor truck laboratory and an inspection of those classes in session at the time.

Major General Lucas graduated from West Point in 1911 and received his M.Sc. from Colorado A. & M.

He served in Europe as a corps commander in World War II, and acted as chief of the army advisory group to China before his present assignment.

26 Nebraskans Attend Rural Youth Meeting

Twenty-six Nebraska young people left Lincoln early Monday to attend the 4-day national conference of Rural Youth, Oct. 14-17, at Weston, W. Va. The camp will be operated similar to Rural Youth state camps, stressing recreational leadership and community service.

The group was accompanied by Guy R. Davis, state Rural Youth leader. University students who are making the trip are: Duane Sellin, Battle Creek; Charles McLean, Lexington, and Doris Eberhart, Bassett.

Other members of the Nebraska delegation included: Marge Thomas, Dorothy McClean and Wieford Hatch, Lexington; Kenne Anderson, Dalton; Verlin Livingston, Robert Buhrdorf, Russell Olson, Ethel Klentz, Shirley Caywood, Calvin Klentz, Max Mathewson and Calvin Larson, all of Sidney; Margaret Nahrstedt, Madison; Norman Rex, Battle Creek; Charles Kaliff and Rex Geiger, both of York; Delores McDonald and Betty McPherson, both of Scottsbluff; Verle Hulbert, Eugene Pope, Eddie Roads and Merlyn Saatahoff, all of Tecumseh, and Don Henthorn, Grant.

'World Students Need Help' States WSSF Secretary

"Chinese students have no fun and no luxuries compared with students in the United States," declared Dr. Liu Liang-mo, traveling secretary of the World Student Service Fund.

Dr. Liu came from the national office in New York and will travel to other midwestern universities to tell of the need of Chinese students for food, clothing, housing and books.

Chinese girls regard lipstick as a great luxury, according to Dr. Liu. "When students don't have enough money to buy books or three meals a day, they don't think of buying anything like lipstick."

Currency Has Little Value
Speaking of money, he said that Chinese currency is of so little value that pockets are not big enough to carry it. The people carry it in baskets and sacks. One U. S. dollar is worth 12,000,000 Chinese dollars.

The main emphasis of student relief in China is on work projects by which the students help themselves. Students make peanut butter and soybean milk to be served to the entire student body in Chinese universities. These students are very undernourished and 15 percent have tuberculosis.

Books are very expensive, so the World Student Service Fund buys a few copies of the books and then students mimeograph copies. One-third of the courses are studied in English, which is a required foreign language.

Students Question American Policies

Answering questions on the political thinking of Chinese students, Dr. Liu said that the students ask American visitors "Why is America helping Chang Kai-shek?" and "Why is America rebuilding a militarized Japan?" The Chinese students appreciate U. S. help, but would rather it didn't have any political strings attached. Most of these students also believe that Japan might as well have won the war because the U. S. is demanding that China export raw materials to Japan, just as Japan herself did.

Dr. Liu, who has been in the United States for four years, is from Shanghai, China. He worked for the student division of the YM in China for ten years.

There are about 100,000 students in colleges in China. This number is so small because of the high cost of getting an education.
