

Fighting Irish Display Power In Downing Nebraska, 44 to 13

Cast Announced For O'Neill Play

Eddie McCollough will play the role of Robert in the next University Theatre production, Eugene O'Neill's "Beyond the Horizon," to be shown Nov. 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Other main parts in the drama include Andrew, to be portrayed by Jack Norman, and Ruth, Jane MacQuaig.

Remainder of the cast includes: Janice Crilly as Mr. Atkins, Don Nicholls as James Mayo, Elaine Lamphear as Mrs. Mayo, Clare Denton or Jack Anthony as Capt. Dick Scott or Ben, and Dewey Ganzel as Dr. Faucett. Elizabeth Fullaway and Ann Proper are the assistants to the director.

Revolving Stage Used.
Again the "little marvel," the revolving stage, will be used and accordingly time for scene changes will be cut one-third.

"Beyond the Horizon" is described as an intensely realistic modern tragedy with poetic beauty. A Pulitzer Prize play of 1920, it portrays a grim story of New England.

The play tells the story of two brothers, diametrically opposed in character. The first, Robert, is poetic, restless, curious about what lies beyond the horizon; Andrew, the other brother, is matter-of-fact, practically, unimaginative, and perfectly content with his lot as a farmer.

Fate Intervenes.
In usual O'Neill fashion, fate intervenes. As Robert is about to realize his lifelong ambition to travel on a sailing vessel, he discovers and reveals his romantic love for his brother's sweetheart, Ruth.

The inevitable outcome is one of frustration and tragedy for the three principals involves, providing a stirring climax.

Mortar Boards Re-Establish Loan Service

Girls in need of funds in a hurry may again apply to the Mortar Board short term loan service. This loan service, discontinued in 1944, has been reorganized and again is in operation.

The purpose of the service is to offer a fund to which a coed may turn when an unexpected expense occurs. Small loans will be made to any girl whose application is approved by Dean Marjorie Johnston and a special Mortar Board committee. Short term agreements are made and the loan is handled on the same basis as other loans except there is no interest charged on the money.

Mortar Board established the loan service many years ago and it has been added to yearly by each Mortar Board group. Any university girl wishing to use the loan service should contact Dean Johnston and state the amount needed.

Fischer Scores Twice To Spark UN Offense

Nebraska university suffered its worst defeat of a 12-year series with Notre Dame Saturday afternoon as the "Fighting Irish" rolled up a 44-13 score in Memorial Stadium.

It was Nebraska's worst defeat at the hands of Notre Dame since 1924 when the Irish won, 34-6.

The Huskers put up a tough front against the eleven from South Bend, but it just wasn't strong enough to hold the precision play of Coach Frank Leahy's mighty backfield aces. The Notre Dame team was tough and just couldn't be stopped.

Fischer Sparks Huskers.

Cletus Fischer, game captain and sparkplug of the team, dominated the Husker offense. The fleet St. Edward back was everywhere and put on a good performance against the Irish. The Husker team played much better against the Irish than they did a week before at Colorado. It was just a case of a polished, heavier team against a younger, lighter squad. Nebraska does not have to feel ashamed because they were beaten by one of the nation's top teams.

Nebraska won the toss and elected to defend the north goal with their backs to a 20-mile wind. Notre Dame took Bobby Costello's opening kickoff and didn't stop until it had scored a touchdown. Terry Brennan caught the ball in the end zone and signaled that Notre Dame would take the ball on the 20. Emil Sitko picked up one yard through the center of the line and Brennan scampered around end to the 30-yard line and a first down. A 15-yard penalty on Nebraska brought the pigskin to the 45.

Symphony To Host Guest Stars Oct. 19

Rudolph Serkin, the internationally famous pianist, and Adolph Busch, violinist and composer, will be heard here in recital on Tuesday, Oct. 19, at the Stuart Theatre. This will be the first of a series of six concerts presented by the Lincoln Symphony Concert association.

Other famous artists who will appear are Tossy Spivakovsky, violinist; Claudio Arrau, pianist; Leo Kopp, guest conducting the Lincoln Symphony orchestra; Rose Bampton, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association; and Mario Lanza, American tenor.

Tickets Still Available.

Special student tickets priced at $5 are still available at the Union and the Music School.

All of the six artists to appear are of the first musical rank. Serkin and Busch are members of an internationally famous sonata team, and Busch has also won fame as a composer.

Spivakovsky has come to be ranked with the great masters of the bow today. Arrau, the pianist, has had 400 piano recitals alone and more than 100 appearances with major orchestras in the country.

Rose Bampton, the leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association, has received acclaim in Europe, England, South Africa, South America, Canada and the United States. Lanza, the American tenor, has signed contracts with RCA Victor and Columbia Records as well as with MGM for a picture sometime this year.

Student Migration Tickets Still Available on 35-Yard Line

Tickets are available on the 35 yard line at the K. U. game for students buying migration tickets. A. J. Lewandowski is out of general seats, and anyone wishing migration tickets will have to buy them this week, or they will be turned in for general sale, according to Harvey Davis, chairman of the migration committee.

A contest between organized houses is being sponsored by the committee. The house having the largest percentage of members buying migration tickets will have their sweetheart song played at the half of the homecoming game with UCLA, according to Dorothy Borgens, committee member. The full school orchestra will play the song.

"The migration planners consider this a real 'contest to show school spirit,'" said Davis, "for it will surely present to the public the organized houses most behind the team. Those who accompany the team to Lawrence will give evidence of that real victory spirit."

Tickets Includes Extras.

The 13-dollar migration ticket includes round-trip fare to Lawrence, Kas., on a chartered Union Pacific train, and a seat at the Kansas-Nebraska game. Rex Hoffmeister, committee member, pointed out that it also includes the snack coach on the train, bridge games, songs, cheers, and special entertainment during the travel time.

"Migrations are loads of fun," said Pat Black, another committee member, "and are an important part of memorable college days. The trip this year should be within reach of the average student's budget and promises to offer even more fun than previous ones."

The migration train leaves Lincoln at 6 a. m. Saturday morning, Oct. 23, and arrives in Lawrence at 11:30 a. m. All Husker ralliers will parade from the depot to the headquarters hotel. Students having other transportation are asked to meet the train and join in the parade. The game begins at 2 p. m. The return trip will begin at 9 p. m. Saturday and end in Lincoln at 2:30 Sunday morning. Cabs will be on hand at the depot. Women students on the migration train need not get special permission from the dean of women.

Tickets Sold in Union.

Tickets for the migration are on sale in the Union lobby from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. The Student Council and the Innocents society are jointly sponsoring the trip. "This game," said Davis, "is the Kansas homecoming game and promises to offer a lot of fun for all migrating students."

Foundation Asks Houses For Rosters

What's the matter? You know her name, but not her address or telephone number. In order to stave off the plague of frustration complexes springing from dilemmas of this sort, the Student Foundation has concocted the panacea for perplexed people.

Each year the Foundation publishes the Student and Faculty Directory which contains the names, addresses, telephone numbers, college and year in school of all students. It also includes the particulars of each faculty member at UN.

It is essential that the various organized houses on the campus co-operate with the Foundation in order to publish this year's Directory as soon as possible. Notice is hereby given that any house which desires to be represented in this section of the 1948-1949 book must submit a roster containing the following information: (a) name of organization; (b) address of house or headquarters; (c) telephone number; (d) president; (e) house mother or sponsor; and (f) alphabetized roster of all members and pledges of the organization.

This information should be typed on 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper and mailed or brought to the Student Foundation, Student Union, att. Roswell Howard. This information must be in not later than 5 p. m. on Wednesday, Oct. 20. It is emphasized that previous representation in the Directory is not required. New organizations are urged to submit rosters. Your prompt co-operation will be appreciated.
