

Honorary Colonel Finalists Disclosed

The Student Council has disclosed the names of the six girls who received the highest number of votes in yesterday's election for Honorary Colonel finalists. They are: Betty Aasen, Lois Gillett, Phyllis Harris, Beryl Lotspeich, Sherry Swanson and Jackie Wightman.

Cadets to Entertain Finalists

The six finalists will be the guests of the Cadet Officers association at a reception given in their honor Wednesday, Oct. 27, in Parlors ABC of the Union. The Cadet Officers association will then select the 1948 Honorary Colonel, who will reign at the annual Military Ball. The identity of the Honorary Colonel will remain a secret until her presentation at the dance.

Betty Aasen, Arts and Sciences senior, is a cheerleader and member of Orchestras, dance organization. She is a holdover member in the Student Council and belongs to Phi Delta Phi, art honorary.

Gillett Holds Tassels Presidency
Lois Gillett is in Teachers Col-

'No Exit' Heads List Of 3 Plays

An evening of well-rounded theater will keynote the University Experimental Theater's next group of one-act plays. Scripts chosen for the Thursday, Nov. 4 production include the modern George F. Kaufman satire, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," the heavy drama, "No Exit," by Jean Paul Sartre, and "The Twelve-pound Look," a James M. Barrie comedy.

Margaret Dutton Directs Play

The title of the Kaufman farce, directed by Margaret Dutton, is self-explanatory. Theater-goers will recall the cinematic version a few years ago. Casting resulted in the following choices: Sanford Levy, Al Borchman, Don Veta and Michael Shanahan.

"No Exit," in the words of its director, Abe Katz, is "A play which dramatizes in vital physical terms the currently popular pseudo-philosophy of existentialism through the pen of its foremost exponent, Sartre. By revitalizing the Greek conception of drama, the author has given a new energy to the theater in forceful common parlance terms."

Players Chosen for 'No Exit'

Cast for "No Exit" includes Gay Marr as Garcin, D. Ann Richardson as Estelle, Gladys Jackson as Inez, and Jack MacDonald as the valet.

The third play, Barrie's comedy, "The Twelve-pound Look," through a light treatment, relates how a woman's desire for independence combats her husband's intense desire for material wealth and success. Also directed by Margaret Dutton, the cast is as follows: Sharon Fritzier as Lady Sims, Dean Welles as Sir Harry, Tom Stimfig as Tombs, the butler, and Marilyn Morgan as Kate.

Kaplan to Speak On Geo-Physics

Dr. Joseph Kaplan of the Institute of Geo-Physics at UCLA will speak at two meetings on the campus Oct. 25 and 26. Dr. Kaplan and his wife will be guests of the University chapter of Sigma Xi.

"The Upper Atmosphere of the Earth" will be the topic of his talk Oct. 25. This meeting, open to the public, will be in the Avery lab auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Faculty members, scientists, social scientists and students are urged to attend a special meeting on Oct. 26 in room 108, Burnett hall, at 4 p. m. Dr. Kaplan, reputed to be an outstanding lecturer, will talk on the subject, "A Physicist Speaks to the Social Scientist."

... Six Named in Election Results

lege. She is a member of Mortar Board, president of Tassels, 1947 Homecoming Queen and former Coed Counselor board member.

Phyllis Harris, also a member of Mortar Board and 1946 Homecoming Queen, is a Teachers College senior. She is vice president of the AWS board and former Tassel.

Beryl Lotspeich, Arts and Sciences senior, does YW and Panhellenic work. She is a former Tassel and band member.

Swanson Selected Beauty Queen
Sherry Swanson, Teachers College senior, was selected as beauty queen last year. She has been active in Student Foundation and YW.

Jackie Wightman is a senior in Arts and Sciences. She is president of Coed Counselors, debate squad member and former Tassel.

Vol. 49—No. 26 Lincoln 8, Nebraska, Wednesday, Oct. 20, 1948

Law Students Propose Honor System to Replace Proctoring

BY CHARLES MOHR

A proposal to replace the proctor system of final examinations with the honor system is under consideration by students and faculty of the College of Law.

The idea of adopting the honor system stems from student dissatisfaction with the present method used in conducting final examinations. A soon as student feelings became known, special class meetings were called.

Features Explained

Prof. Edmund O. Belsheim,

Law College faculty member, who has taught at schools using the honor system, explained its special features at the meetings. Following the class meetings the nine elected representatives of the Law Association met and voted unanimously in favor of presenting a petition favoring the new system to the student body.

More than ninety per cent of the students registered their approval of the plan by signing the petition. The Law Association representatives are now engaged in drafting a plan for the regulation and enforcement of the system. When completed the plan will be presented to the faculty of the college. A decision will then be reached on the matter at a special faculty meeting.

Students Comment

Some student comments on the proposal: "If we are treated like adults we will act like adults." "I doubt if we will have any trouble with cheaters."

If it is adopted it will be the Law College's first use of the honor system. The proctor system of giving exams is now in use.

Freshman Women to Join Activities at AWS Mart

Freshmen women will have a chance to sign for the activities in which they are interested at the AWS Activity Mart, Monday, Oct. 25 from 4:45 to 6 p. m. in the

Jane McArthur

Union ballroom. The event, which is the official beginning of the activity season for freshmen women, is under the direction of Jane McArthur.

All campus organizations in which women work will have a booth in the ballroom and the women will be able to take their choice of the activities represented. Students with questions may visit the AWS information booth, a special feature of this year's mart.

The AWS had previously sponsored a meeting in the women's dormitory at which the presidents of all organizations spoke to explain the purposes of their groups and to recruit as many workers as possible.

Organizations planning to have a booth at the mart should pay $1 to Sally Holmes, AWS treasurer, 1545 S, before Friday of this week.

Homecoming Floats

Today is the last day for Homecoming float entries. Entries can be made by calling Elroy Gloystein, 2-3293, or by sending them to him. There is no entry fee.

PhiAlpha Delta Holds Conclave

The annual five-state convention of Phi Alpha Delta, national law fraternity, will convene here Friday under the auspices of the local Reese chapter. Attending delegates will represent 14 active and alumni chapters in the seventh district.

Additional guests include the supreme justice of the fraternity, Judge Douglas Edmonds, of the California Supreme Court, and the Honorable Charles L. Carr, lawyer, educator and author from Kansas City. The national officers and 12 district justices are also expected to attend.

The Reese chapter will present a model initiation in the state Supreme Court chambers Saturday afternoon. Scheduled for initiation at this time are Robert Hesse, Rudy Bock, Robert Moran, Gordon Danielson and Joseph McAneny.

Delegates are expected from the active chapters at the universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Drake and Washburn. The Kansas City Law school will also be represented at the two day meet.

Migration Ticket Sales End Today

Today will be the last chance to get student migration tickets to the Kansas-Nebraska football game next Saturday, Dean W. C. Harper announced yesterday. It had originally been planned to sell tickets Thursday also.

Students can get their tickets at a special booth in the Union between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. The $13 charged includes a seat on a chartered Union Pacific train and a ticket to the game.

Harvey Davis, who is in charge of the migration, announced that he still has good seats on the 35-yard line. The train will leave the Union Pacific depot at 6 a. m., Saturday, Oct. 23. The return trip will begin at 9 p. m. Students will reach Lincoln at 2:30 Sunday morning.

Students may pick up game tickets at 9 Thursday morning. The deadline for migration ticket sales was set back a day because of the large demand for tickets to the game.

Lawrence was the scene of the 1946 migration. Last year's trip was to Columbia, Mo.

Lambert to Visit Field Substations

Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of Ag College, will leave for western Nebraska this week to inspect agricultural experimental substations there.

Marvel L. Baker, associate director of the Nebraska agricultural experiment station, and public relations director George S. Round will accompany Dean Lambert.

Dr. Lambert's first stop on this tour will be at the North Platte experimental substation Wednesday afternoon. From there his schedule calls for stops at the Scottsbluff Field Station near Mitchell, the Box Butte county experimental farm near Alliance and an inspection tour of the Valentine substation.

The Dean will also pay a visit to the old army Remount Station at Crawford which has recently been turned over to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for experimental purposes.

Nine Days Remain in ROTC Costume Designers' Contest

Nine more days remain in the contest to design a costume for the 1948 Honorary Colonel.

The contest opened Oct. 5 under the sponsorship of the Cadet Officers association and will close Friday, Oct. 29. It is open to all students except members of the ROTC corps and their wives.

The ROTC has suggested that a military theme be used in designing the costume although it need not be a uniform. Examples include skirt and blouse, evening gown or jacket and skirt. Appropriate headwear may be included and the use of school colors has been suggested. Miller & Paine will make the winning costume.

A Gruen wrist watch from the Gardner Jewelry store will be awarded the winner of the contest. A one couple ticket to the Military Ball will also be included in the prize.

Rules for the contest include: 1. All college students, both men and women, are eligible for the contest except members of the advanced ROTC corps and their wives.

2. All contestants must fill in the entry blank and include it with the design. There is no limit to the number of designs that may be submitted to each contestant. Each design must be accompanied by an entry blank, which should be placed in a plain envelope, sealed and marked ENTRY. This envelope shall be placed securely on the back of the design. Names of entrants shall not appear anywhere on the front or back of the design. It is desirable that each person create separate designs. More than one person may work on a design, but there is only one prize.

3. All entries must be in Room 108 of the Military Science Building on the main campus next to the Coliseum by 4 p. m., Friday, Oct. 29. These entries may be mailed to the same place if so desired.

4. All sketches submitted must be drawn on white illustration board or heavy paper, 14 by 20 inches in size. Sketches may be drawn in color, but must show front and back views.

5. The contestant may submit a sample or samples of fabrics to be used in making the costume along with typewritten instructions outlining construction details of the costume. These must be placed in an envelope marked INSTRUCTIONS and attached to the back of the design. The Military department reserves the right to utilize in the execution of the finished costume a fabric or fabrics and construction details
See Contest, Page 4, Col. 2

ISA Gains 500 New Members

ISA's membership drive, aimed at organizing every unaffiliated student on the campus, chalked up 500 new members during the first day of the campaign. The drive, which started yesterday, will run for two weeks.

Under the direction of Carl Froendt, membership committee chairman, a booth is now open in the Union. Students may join the ISA by paying a 50c membership fee and filling out a membership application.

Ben Wall, publicity chairman, urged every independent student to join the ISA during the current membership campaign.

While explaining the membership campaign, Wall also released other ISA news. He announced that three new officers had been appointed to fill vacancies created by resignations. The new officers are Ester Shea, secretary; Joan Leaming, treasurer; and Betty Carol, social chairman.

Wall also announced an ISA hour dance to be held this Friday at the Union from 5-6 p. m. Students will be admitted by ISA membership cards.

Nebraska-Notre Dame Movies Head Week's Union Activities

Amidst the many Union activities this week is a special scoop! Movies of the Nebraska-Notre Dame game will be featured Wednesday, Oct. 20. The movies are being shown to give students a close-up view of the game played last Saturday.

On Thursday, Dale Ball will conduct bridge class in room 315 from 4 to 6 p. m. Students are invited to attend the class, held every week.

Dancing is also on the Union schedule this week. Friday night from 9 to 12 p. m., Riley Smith and his orchestra will be on hand for the Unionizer. Tickets will be on sale at the door for 60 cents. On Saturday night, the main attraction will be a free

Juke Box fling, beginning at 9 p. m.

Rounding out a full week of activity will be Sunday's coffee hour and the organ interlude. A free variety show featuring "Moss Rose" will be shown in the lounge Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Beginning next Tuesday, Donna McCandless will give free dancing lessons in the Union ballroom. The first class will be a joint affair attended by both men and women and starting at 7:30. Following lessons will be for men and women separately, rounded out by a joint dance between the two classes. This is your chance to smooth out the old steps and learn new ones for the coming Military and Mortar Board Balls!