2800 Miles NU Films to Travel State This Year

Gov. Val Peterson has proclaimed the week of Oct. 25-30 Audio-Visual Education week, James W. Taylor, director of the university bureau of audio-visual instruction, announced today.

"Schools, churches and business institutions have recognized the importance of audio-visual instructional materials and methods of teaching," the governor said. "As a member of the armed forces during the recent war, I had many opportunities to observe the effectiveness of audio-visual material as an aid in instructing and briefing military personnel. Now these devices are being effectively used in peaceful, constructive endeavors."

Over 2,800 miles of film from the university rental library will be shown in the state during the current school year. This represents a 50 percent increase in the use of film and in film equipment over 1946.

"The rapid increase in the use of motion pictures and other visual aids demonstrates clearly that audio-visual education has become a permanent part of the teaching program in public schools, in adult education, and in community groups," Taylor remarked.

YM Stages Stag Wednesday Night

A stag party social Wednesday night will highlight activities of the university YMCA this week. The party will begin at 7:30 in the YMCA lounge in the Temple building.

Ping pong, chess, checkers, bridge and pinochle will provide the entertainment for the evening. It is hoped that a sport film on the 1947 World Series can be shown. Refreshments will be served.

Preceding this stag party, there will be a cabinet meeting at 6:30. All members who wish to come are welcome.

Dancing Lessons To Begin Tonight

The Union will again sponsor dancing lessons under the instruction of Donna McCandless.

The first of six lessons in the fundamentals of the fox-trot will begin Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Union ballroom. The lessons are for beginners, says Miss McCandless, and will be aimed at producing dancers at least in time for the Military Ball.

Saturday will be busy day for Cornhusker students. Besides the float parade Saturday morning, recuperating from Friday night rally, the football game Saturday afternoon, the Homecoming dance Saturday night and meeting visiting alumni all day Saturday they will have to attend Saturday classes, according to T. J. Thompson, dean of Student Affairs.

Homecoming Clash Tops Big Weekend

Pep Groups Slate Rallies, Dance, Float Procession

Cornhusker spirit will reach new heights this week as Nebraska prepares to battle UCLA in the annual homecoming clash in Memorial stadium Saturday afternoon.

Pep groups have planned a full week-end to fire students and visiting alumni for this biggest of all big week-ends of the school year.

Festivities will start Thursday night when rallying students will begin their task of bruising the Bruin by hanging an effigy at the Union at 7:15.

Students to Rally Friday

Rallies will take up Friday night where they left off Thursday night with a huge rally that will be led by cheerleaders, corn cobs, tassels, and the university band. Details for the Friday night rally will be printed in the Daily Nebraskan later this week.

Friday night is also the night for organized houses to show off their homecoming displays. Winners of the display competition will be announced at the homecoming dance Saturday night.

Saturday Full Day

Saturday will be a full day for students starting out with the float parade Saturday morning at 10:30. The parade route through downtown Lincoln will be announced this week along with the names of the three faculty judges who will determine the men's and women's winners.

After the parade students and visiting alumni will have just time enough to eat and to go to the game, which will begin at 2 p.m.

Saturday night Nebraska's homecoming will wind up with the annual homecoming dance in the Coliseum.

Dance Features Lawrence

The dance Saturday night will spell the grand finale to the big week of festivities. The dance, sponsored by Tassels and Corn Cobs, will feature the music of Elliott Lawrence, who was voted the band most likely to succeed in a national campus poll conducted recently.

Spearheading the series of events at the dance will be the presentation of the '48 Homecoming Queen. Last year's queen was Lois Gillette.

With thousands of alumni visitors in Lincoln, a capacity crowd is expected at the dance.

Alums at Union

The Alumni association is featuring a coffee hour after the game in the Union where alumni will gather before the evening festivities start.

Students will attend classes, according to Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson.

Elliott Lawrence appeared here in 1946 at the Homecoming Dance and will reappear by popular request.

Lawrence has been awarded more honors than any name band-leader in the United States. The most recent honor that befell the young bandleader was the "Billboard" rating which placed him fifth among all bands in the nation.

Featured with the band are Jack Hunter and Rosalind Patton. Both are singers and were placed high on this year's polls in "Down Beat" and "Metronome" magazines.

Tickets to the dance are selling at $3 per couple.

Tuesday is the absolute limit for residence halls and organized houses to turn in their Homecoming house decoration registration fees to Irwin Chesen in the Daily Nebraskan business office.

Any organization which has a new constitution or has changed their old constitution must contact Bill Schenck at 3-6844 before Wednesday.

Schenck is the chairman of the Student Council constitution committee.

Freshman membership drives for the YW's, both city campus and Ag College, started with Activities Mart Monday.

Memberships for the city campus will be taken in the YW offices in Ellen Smith and by representatives in the dorms.

Highlighting this drive will be the Freshman rendezvous Thursday from 3 to 5 p. m.

Marilyn Kuhlman, Ag membership chairman, has announced that a booth will be located in the Home Economics building where memberships will be sold during the Ag drive, Tuesday through Thursday. Freshmen and all upperclassmen who have failed to join previously are urged to join at this time.

Freshman members of the YW are entered in freshman commission groups. Ag members may attend, in addition, Tuesday evening meetings and Thursday morning worship services.
