

Editorial * * * Comment * * *

Rumor, Rumor...

This time it's the Cornhusker. There was a question raised in Student Council meeting last week about why students pay $3.00 for individual picture shots in the yearbook. The wild statement was even made by one or two members that perhaps "someone" on the staff was going to pocket huge sums this year from the book's profits.

We tried to explain the Cornhusker costs in an earlier editorial this fall. Evidently our explanation had little effect... but we're patient.

In the first place, the Cornhusker is operating at present on the basis of an estimated $290.50 loss. This is because the staff is trying to give students a book for the same price as last year's in spite of the fact that cover, printing and engraving costs have all increased. Also, more books are being printed this year and the cost goes up for each additional book that is printed.

Each year the yearbook business manager estimates a budget which this year is estimated at a loss. The actual cost cannot be presented until the book is completed and all the pictures, printing and engraving expenses are set down.

In regard to individual pictures: Pictures last year were $2.50. The picture studio was paid $1.25. This year the studio price is $1.75. Only one studio submitted a bid on the contract. At the beginning of the year, the Cornhusker staff thought the bid was too high, and so re-opened bids. However, no other studio tried for the contract and it had to be awarded to the one studio bidding.

Therefore, in order to get the same income from pictures, the book also had to up their price—to $3.00.

Why should the book make a profit on the pictures? This question may be answered by pointing out that the yearbook must have this income in order to operate—in order to pay for the book. Approximate cost of each book is $10.30. Price to students is $5.50.

Another interesting fact is that the Cornhusker is not subsidized either by grants from the University or by student fees. Most college yearbooks are under some subsidy system. This fact staff members verified at the American College Press convention in Columbus, Ohio, last week.

What if the book does make a profit? That question is also easily answered. If at the end of the year, the yearbook has made any profit—large or small—the money goes directly to the Publications Board and is put into the Publications fund which is used among other things, to help subsidize the Prairie Schooner, literary magazine of the University, is donated each year to the Ag and City Unions for recreational purposes. The money also provides a reserve fund for future publication losses. In short, the Publications Board uses the money as it sees fit.

The above statements on the publication profits also stand true for the Cornshucks and The Daily Nebraskan. All money goes through the student activities office where all checks and vouchers must be okayed. All money in excess of publications costs and salaries is put into the Publications Board Fund... period.

The Daily Nebraskan

Member
Intercollegiate Press
FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

Subscription rates are $2.00 per semester, $2.50 per semester during, or $3.00 for the college year. $4.00 mailed. Single copy 5c. Published daily during the school year except Mondays and Saturdays, vacations and examination periods, by the University of Nebraska under the supervision of the Board of Publications. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office in Lincoln, Nebraska, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879, and at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized September 10, 1922.

The Daily Nebraskan is published by the students of the University of Nebraska as an expression of student news and opinions only. According to article II of the By-Laws governing student publications and administered by the Board of Publications: "It is the declared policy of the Board that publications under its jurisdiction shall be free from editorial censorship on the part of the Board, or on the part of any member of the faculty of the university; but members of the staff of The Daily Nebraskan are personally responsible for what they say or do or cause to be printed."

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager: Irv Cheen
Assistant Business Managers: Merio Stalder, Bob Axtell, Keith O'Bannon
Circulation Manager: Al Abramson

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor: Jeanne Kerrigan
Managing Editors: Noren Leger, Cub Clem
Photographer: Tom Reynolds
Special Features Editor: Herbert Deenbergh
Sports Editor: Harold Abramson
Night News Editor: Louise McDill

Resignation Asked Of Chicago Editor

... By Theatre Group

A campus civil war has broken out at Chicago's Roosevelt college. Executive members of the college theater, in a six page brief, have called for the immediate resignation of the editor in chief of Torch, the college newspaper.

The controversy flared into the open when "Torch" published a critical open letter to Carlisle Bloxom, faculty director of the theater group, and printed an editorial cartoon depicting members of the theater board accompanied by a swastika.

Charges Discrimination

The student paper charged discrimination in casting, professionalism, foolish choice of plays and actors, and racial discrimination in casting and membership in the theater group.

Student and faculty members of the theater board replied at once with a special brief calling for resignations of the editor and "the men who have flagrantly mis-guided him." They accused the "Torch's" staff of being character assassins. They also leveled the charge that the use of a swastika was "not only a smear and personally insulting to veterans in the theater group but a libel on every member of the theater."

Editor Replies

The "Torch" editor replied that professionals had been used in student productions, Negroes had been denied parts in certain productions ("The Little Foxes"), and that the swastika did not represent fascism but only "anti-democracy."

Since the paper is published without faculty control or supervision, and only the Student Council can force removal of the editor, it is unlikely the affair will go beyond the name calling stage.

IM Bowling Schedule

Oct. 27: Delta Tau Delta vs. Cornhusker Co-Op; Sigma Alpha Mu vs. Theta Xi; Sigma Nu vs. Beta Sigma Psi; Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Alpha Chi; Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Kappa Sigma.

Classified

Prescription No. 2
Dr. Stewart
If no results see prescription No. 3 to
One costume, knitted hat, or shirt worn
One date with wife or girlfriend on Oct.
To release tension of school life
RENT: Tuxedos, $4.50 per evening. Wide size range. Good looking, well-cut. If you prefer to invest in one of your own we have a complete selection. $38.50 up. Ayers Clothing, 1400 O.
ROOM for rent—1 or 2 boys. 2129 Euclid, 3-3593.
FOR SALE—Underwood portable and tan sport jacket. Both excellent condition. Call at 1839 R St., evenings.
LOST—Small rose-gold Buren watch between Social Science and Andrews, Monday morning. Reward, Jacque Voss, 2-5872.
ROOM and bath for 3 boys, near A.E. Campus. Call 8-4932, evenings.
ONE BLOCK from A.E. Campus. Single or double room for students. Phone Norm Richards, 2-2957 or 8-5131.
LOST—Black purse with initials C. D. in Burnett or School of Music. Contains valuable articles. Reward. Phone Colette Donaly, 2-7371.
MORROWS SELF SERVICE LAUNDRY
1024 Que St. Open 9:30 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. Student owned.

As I Was Saying

BY BUD DOWNING

After all the hullabaloo about the big weed-end in Kansas, it is rumored that everyone stayed right here in old Lincoln had fun too!! East Hills was just like a private club Saturday night—there was actually room for everyone to dance at the same time.

Don't know just what the deal is, but the word is going around that Sue Kent thinks she has some sort of a priority on Keith O'Bannon's affections. How about that Keith???

Bobbie DeJarnette is looking forward to a wonderful week-end. Her pinmate, Bill Kenner, will be down from Medical school for the homecoming dance.

Shirley Roach, mentioned here in last week as dating roommates in the TKE house, is now going steady with Sig Ep Dick Way. When!! Just can't keep up with these young sprouts.

My, the DG's are really going to have a big blowout in a couple of weeks. Even with homecoming and all this week-end, they are still finding time to work on their "Ship Party" which comes off a week from Saturday night. Everyone is to come dressed. (That's kinda nice.)

Bill Mueller, Steve Reed and Jerry Moore wish to make it known that they, and only they, are responsible for one Herb Twae. Herb has taken permanent residence in the Alpha Chi living room. His history is quite unique and is known in full only by the three above mentioned.

A few new "steadies" as of this week-end are:

Margie Cherny and Don Spomer
Donna Burley and Bob Yarwood.

Jo Swan and Dewey Davis.
All apologies to the DG's, the dean of women, and whomever else it may concern. In glancing over my notes I find that everyone is to come to the DG party dressed as river rats. (That's nice, too.)

Friday, Oct. 29th
COLLEGE NIGHT
NIGHT RALLY DANCE
at
KINGS
The Gay Mite Spot
MORTON WELLS

INFORMAL
Wear your rally clothes if you wish
COUPLES ONLY
Adm. $1.50 Per Couple
Tax Included

Campus News In Brief

Presidents of the following organizations please report to Lou Iler, Nancy Porter or Joan Reynolds at the Cornhusker office any day this week between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m.

- AE YMCA
- City YMCA
- Alpha Epsilon Rho
- Cosmopolitan Club
- Delta Phi Delta
- Lutheran Student Association
- Masquers
- Presbyterian Student House
- Sigma Eta Chi
- Delta Sigma Rho

The Cosmopolitan Club will hold its weekly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 27, in Room 316, Union. A special Hallowe'en program has been planned. All members and friends are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Don't forget to buy your Homecoming dance tickets which are on sale by all Corn Cobs and Tassels.

All N Club members meet at the north side of the East Stadium at 1:45 o'clock Saturday to form the "spirit line."

There will be a meeting of all Scabbard and Blade members and pledges Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Everyone be present in the lounge of the Cadet Officers' Association.

The Ski Booth will be open in the Union this afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock for all those interested in making the skiing trip

XMAS CARDS
IT'S TIME TO ORDER
Personalized Christmas Cards
Goldenrod Stationery Store
215 No. 14 Open Thurs. to 9

to Aspen, Colorado, during Christmas vacation.

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity will hold its regular bi-weekly noonday luncheon today, Oct. 27, at the Chamber of Commerce. A short business meeting will be followed by pledging of new members this evening at 7 o'clock in the Union.

There will be a Cornhusker Countryman meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Ag Union. Pictures will be taken.

Kappa Phi pledges should meet at the Methodist Student House tonight at 7 o'clock. Please wear name tags and bring snapshot.

Theta Sigma Phi will meet at 5 p. m. Wednesday in Ellen Smith hall.

The Union Hobby committee urges all students to "make this Christmas a crafty Christmas." Meet at the Union and have fun making gifts and useful novelties. Watch for opening.

Cobs and Tassels who are to work on balloons will meet in the craft shop, Union, between 8:15 and 11 this morning.

Raymond Benson, credit manager for the Lincoln division of Continental Oil Company, was the guest speaker at the bi-weekly dinner of Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce fraternity. Mr. Benson spoke on the history of the oil industry and the use of psychology in the credit department.

Kosmet Klub will hold a smoker for all workers and actives Thursday, Oct. 28, at 7:30 p. m. in Room 320 of the Union.

All Organizations
All campus organizations are reminded to turn in their constitutions to the Student Council to have them approved. Constitutions should be turned in this week, according to Bill Schenck, chairman of the committee. All organizations must have their constitutions checked this year.

Union to Open New Craft Shop

The Student Union's newest addition, the handicraft shop, will officially open Nov. 9. Bob Metrakos, Union hobby and house committee sponsor, revealed Tuesday.

An open house in the Hobby Shop will be held on the opening day. On display will be samples of the various crafts that will be offered.

Instruction will be given two nights a week. Detailed information as to the hours the shop will be open and when classes will be held can be found next week at the booth in the Union lobby.

Bob suggested, "Here's a chance to make your own Christmas gifts, leather billfolds, or your own Christmas cards."

Crafts will include metal work, leather work, linoleum block printing, wood burning, and textile painting.

There will be no charge for equipment used, while materials will be issued at cost.

Two-Mile Squad Loses to Kansas

Nebraska's crippled two-milers were given a taste of cross-country running at Lawrence Saturday. The result was disastrous for Coach Weir's men, but due to the fact that Kansas's fall trackmen are among the Midwest's finest, they are far from discouraged.

Coach Ed Weir was not disappointed with the showing, as the Huskers weren't expecting to run the route over hill and dale. Bob Karnes, who led the Kansas, ran the distance on a track against Kansas State last Wednesday in the time of 4:43. This is faster than his time in winning the Big Seven meet last spring.

A boost to the distance men is the probability that Bill Mountford, who missed Saturday's meet with KU because of illness, will be ready for the Missouri dual Saturday morning.

Markevitch to Play Here
Dimitry Markevitch, world-renowned musician and cellist, will appear with the University Symphony orchestra at 8 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 21, in the Union ballroom. Markevitch's appearance marks the continuation of presentation of top-flight artists at the Union. There is no charge and tickets may be secured either at the Union office or at the School of Music after Nov. 4.