Cobs, Tassels Set Stage For Homecoming Events

Industrious Cobs and Tassels have been working all week planning Homecoming activities, especially the Homecoming dance which will be staged Saturday, Oct. 30, at this Coliseum from 8 to 12 p. m. Elliott Lawrence, his piano and his orchestra will play a return engagement at this annual dance.

Pompoms with red and white streamers will be given to every student sitting in the card section for the Homecoming game. Members of Tassels are making the pompoms this week to add to the festive spirit of the UCLA contest.

Cay Worcester, one of the Tassels working on the pompoms, advised students: "You saw how good it looked when the cheering section of KU waved their pompoms together. So when the yell king says 'Wave those pompoms,' wave them!"

"Slam the UCLANS" is appearing on car bumpers, too, these days. Nearly one hundred of the signs are riding on student cars this Homecoming week.

Thirteen radio shows are making announcements of Homecoming activities on the campus and in Lincoln. Among these, Program Service broadcasts a Homecoming show each day at 12:30 p. m.

During half time of the Homecoming game, prior to the presentation of the 1948 Pep Queen who reigns over this year's activities, 20 Cobs, 20 Tassels, the Innocents and Mortar Boards will form an NU on the field. Lois Gillette, the 1948 Pep Queen, will then be presented.

Publicity stunts of the Homecoming committees are attracting attention on the campus and in the city. Window displays in Lincoln stores, the reminder ad in the "Rag," the indicator signs over the entrance to the Union and the event signs in the Crib, are among the eye-catchers. The roving megaphone pep talks rank as ear-appeal. "Burma Shave" type signs are also scattered throughout the campus in groups of four line "pomes."

The Homecoming dance decorations being designed around an autumn theme by members of the decoration committee. The manner of the Pep Queen's presentation at the dance will remain secret until then. Committee members vow it will be "something surprisingly different."

Young GOPsters Rally Riders For '48 'Paul Revere' Jaunt

Students wishing to attend the "Paul Revere Ride" Friday may sign up at a booth in the Union from 9 to 5 p. m. today if they have not been contacted by a house representative.

The ride, sponsored by the Young Republicans, will begin at 4 p. m. Friday, organizing at 15th and N streets, where cars will be furnished. Everyone attending is asked to be there at that time, so that pictures can be taken and instructions given.

Participants in the ride will canvass the city urging the citizens to vote and to vote Republican. After the two-hour ride, students are invited to attend an informal party at the Cotner Terrace. There will be entertainment, a dance band, party games, free food and free drinks at the party. Only those ticket-sellers are now catching students in the bear trap in the Union lobby. They can get out only by purchasing their $3 ticket to the dance. The trap was planned to carry out the idea of trapping the Bruins of UCLA this week-end.

After the Homecoming game Saturday, Lee Knight and his Double Daters will again present their KFOR program from the Union ballroom. All who attend Homecoming festivities are invited to dance to Knight's music or "just listen."

Members of the Innocents Society will take their seats at the game in a body this Saturday. Just before the game begins, the 1948-49 Innocents will walk to their seats behind the Corn Cobs and Tassels.

who go on the ride will be given tickets to go to the party.

Bob Wenke, committee chairman, said, "Independent students Club, said, "Independent students are especially encouraged to participate, for we want a representative group from the University. Married students are invited to bring their wives, and student couples may attend together. So far the response has been very good and it appears that there will be a huge turnout."

John Binning, president of the Young Republicans, commented, "Not only will everyone have a good time, but they will be performing a public service by encouraging people to vote. This should help to build good will toward the student body from the general public. All in all, it should be well worth the time spent."

Ohioan to Fill Voc Ed Vacancy

Dr. Claude E. Rhoad will succeed Dr. Harry E. Bradford as head of the University vocational educational department, Dean W. V. Lambert of Ag college announced Wednesday.

Dr. Bradford, head of the department since 1919, retires February 1, 1949. Dr. Rhoad will assume his duties on the faculty in November and becomes chairman of the department in February.

Dr. Rhoad has been on the vocational education faculty of Ohio State university since 1937.

Design Contest To End Friday

The contest to design a costume for the 1948 Honorary Colonel will close Friday, Oct. 29, at 4 p. m.

The costume worn by the Honorary Colonel in previous years is now on display in Miller and Paine's window on the corner of 13th and O streets. Included in the display is the wrist watch which will be given to the winner of the contest and pictures of the 1946 and 1947 Honorary Colonels, Ann Doudna Davies and June Gast, respectively. Pictures of the six 1948 Honorary Colonel finalists to be presented at the Military Ball Friday, Dec. 3, are also on display.

Information concerning the rules of the contest and entry blanks can still be obtained at Room 108, Military Science building, or from any advanced ROTC officer. Sketches and accompanying entry blanks must be turned in at this room in the Military Science building by 4 p. m. Friday. The winner of the costume design contest will be announced Nov. 9.

Bill Schenk announced in Wednesday's Student Council meeting that Oklahoma university's students have voted to accept the racial discrimination program of the Big Seven conference.

The program, initiated by President Harold Mozer and the Student Council last year, was devised to prohibit any racial discrimination against athletes in the conference. Missouri and Oklahoma were the only two schools discriminating against Negroes.

Student leaders of all conference schools were called together to discuss the question. Oklahoma had not consented until recently. All schools have now agreed that any qualified athlete may compete in Big Seven athletic contests.

The Council will continue its program by asking Dean E. S. Fullbrook, athletic board chairman, to present the plan in the next meeting of the Missouri Valley Athletic association.

Lewandowski Present Problem

A. J. Lewandowski brought before the Council the question of seating at Nebraska basketball games. Lewandowski said that he anticipated seating problems due to the increasing interest in basketball here. He expressed his desire to make sure that student receive first choice in the selection of seats.

The Council voted to recommend the following plan to Lewandowski:

First, the south balcony, consisting of 1266 seats, will be open to public sale.

Second, sections M, N and O, approximately 600 seats, will be reserved for the faculty until 15 minutes before game time. At this time these seats will be made available to students.

UNESCO Plan OK'd

Representatives of the YWCA and YMCA presented to the Council a plan, initiated by the two associations, to hold a model UNESCO conference on the campus. The conference is planned as an all-university experiment with all organized houses participating.

If the plan is accepted, General Assembly meetings of the conference will be held Feb. 16, 17 and 18. Each organized house will be represented as one member nation with representatives on the General Assembly.

The Council voted to back the plan, which will be an educational experiment for the students on the campus. Chancellor Gustavson will be contacted by the YM and YW groups to discuss further plans of the program.

Spring Activities Discussed

Roswell Howard, Council representative, announced that the possibility of combining Farmers' Fair, Ivy Day and Engineers' Week next spring is being investigated. Contact will be made with various organizations on the campus to reach an agreement on the plan.

Ray Biemond, business manager of the Cornhusker, appeared before the Council to help clear up questions concerning the financial status of the Cornhusker.

The Council also voted to request of Dean Thompson that classes be dismissed Saturday morning so students may participate in the homecoming activities. The point was brought out that dismissal of classes has been allowed in the past.

Float Parade To Headline Big Saturday

The Homecoming Float Parade will start Saturday festivities off with a bang as members of 32 organizations will display floats beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The parade will form at the Coliseum on the north side of the quadrangle going east. All floats must report there by 10 a. m. From the Coliseum the parade will proceed down 14th street to R, on R to 15th and down 15th to O street. The parade cuts off at 11th and O and proceeds to R street where it turns up to 12th. The floats will go down 12th street, and the parade will finish where it started, at the Coliseum.

Judges for the parade are Maj. Robert Brust, from the Military department; Prof. Curtis Elliott, from the Business Administration college, and Coach Tony Sharpe, from the Athletic department.

The winner in both the men's and women's division will be announced at the homecoming dance Saturday night.

Directory Needs House, Club Lists

The following house and organization presidents must turn in a complete roster of your members and pledges if you wish representation in this year's Student Foundation Directory.

Please give the following information: the name of your group, address, telephone number, house president, house mother and alphabetical list of all members, last name first. The information must be given to Ginny Koch or Nancy Porter, 1545 "S" Street, on or before Friday, Oct. 29.

Ask Y Members To Sign for Meet

YM and YW members who wish to attend the district conference in Hastings November 5 and 6 must sign up by Friday noon in the YM or YW offices.

This is the annual fall conference of the YMCA and YWCA and any member may sign up.

Automobile transportation will be furnished delegates at cost, and lodging will be provided by the people of Hastings.

Halloween Party Scheduled To Follow Friday Night Rally

If you happen to hear agonized shrieks echoing through the halls of the Union, or see ethereal beings floating into the Crib after the rally Friday night, don't be frightened—it will be only a few Halloween goblins celebrating prematurely.

If you want to get in on the fun, follow them up to the Union ballroom where the dance committee will provide what, in the words of sponsor By Hooper, "Looks like one of the biggest and most entertaining parties in the Union this fall!"

Don't let the spooks in the tunnel of horrors scare you away, for once you've braved this you're entitled to dance to the music of Eddie Garner and his orchestra, and to have your fortune told by the "noted" Swami Ylodi Zuza. Halloween decorations, candlelight and tables set up around the floor will help add to the atmosphere, and cider, cokes and popcorn will be served.

Marcia Pratt, chairman of the Halloween dance urges that all who plan to attend dress in old clothes. Tickets for the dance, which will be held directly after the rally, from 9 to 12 p. m., may be obtained at the door for 60 cents.
