

Sam Warren Selected to Sing With Harvard Glee Club, Choir

Sam Warren, former special features editor of The Daily Nebraskan and graduate of the University of Nebraska, has been selected for the Harvard Glee club and for the 30-voice choir of Harvard Memorial church.

He was selected following a series of competitive trials held at Harvard university recently.

A graduate student in English, Warren is one of the approximately 75 from the glee club's total membership of 250, who will sing with the Princeton and Yale Glee clubs in joint concerts on the eve of Harvard's football contests with the respective colleges.

In the spring the entire glee club, joined by the Radcliffe Choral society, will perform Bach's B Minor Mass and Beethoven's Choral Symphony with the Boston Symphony orchestra under Dr.

Serge Koussevitzky. This program will be given at the conclusion of his 25-year tenure with the symphony. A selected list from the Radcliffe and Harvard groups will also give two performances of Handel's Messiah.

At the University of Nebraska, where he was graduated with distinction in June of last year, he was secretary of Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternity, and special features editor and reviewer for the Daily Nebraskan. He studied voice with Arthur E. Westbrook.

Recital Postponed

The faculty recital which was originally scheduled for 4 p. m. Sunday at the First Plymouth church has been postponed indefinitely.

Sadie Hawkins Dance to Spell Schmoos' Fate

Dogpatch, U. S. A., Nov. 7—Threwout civilizashun the question is being askt, "Will she-schmoo capture he-schmoo on Sadie Hawkins Day, thus forcing him to marry up with her, the result of this being lots of schmoos and prosperitee fur the hole world."

Betting in Dogpatch favurs she-schmoo, ten jars of turnip pre-seves to one.

Drusilla Pearson, Dogpatch's predictor of things to cum, sez she-schmoo is a shore winner.

The latest polls in Dogpatch show an easy she-schmoo victory. From these facts and ressent nashunal events it wood seem that
