Nazis Visit Prague It was on this day in 1939, that a Nazi SS division visited Praha (Prague) for the purpose of a tragic reprisal, resulting from the Dear Editor: observance of the 21st anniversary of the founding of Czechoslovakia on Oct. 28. In an effort to surpass the celebration, German police killed Ball tickets. Jan Opletal, 24-year-old student of Charles university in Praha. on Nov. 15, 2,000 students gathered around the coffin of the dead student to escort the bier to the cemetery, but the Nazis would not allow an escort. They drove the students away with fixed bayonets and machine guns and dispersed them every time they attempted to reassemble.

SS troops scoured the town on the following night, routing the students out of the dormitories. After overcoming a hopeless resistance by students clad only in night clothes, they arrested 2,000 of the patriots.

Nine of this number were ac-cused by the Nazis as "ringlead-nees submitted by students. Anyers," in instigating an uprising and being "pro-Benes" agitators, and were executed by a firing squad. All Czech universities and colleges were ordered closed. Met in London

Aggies Plan Big 'Haydown' Night

Social spotlight on Ag campus this week-end will be focussed on the "Ag Haydown" Saturday. Fun is scheduled to take place in the Ag Union.

The event is planned to be fourfold: a hayrack ride, scheduled for 7:30 p.m.,; square dancing in the ballroom at 8:30 p.m.; together with colored movies of last year's Farmers Fair rodeo in the lounge room. Social dancing will be held in the recreation room throughout the evening.
