What Next!!

What next! The Daily Nebraskan is now handling elections. At least that is the opinion of an anonymous letter writer. The writer felt that The Daily Nebraskan did not give fair publicity to all candidates in the election of junior and senior class presidents.

We would like to print this letter because it would be much easier to explain and answer if readers could see it. However, as has been stated in these editorial columns, it is the policy of The Daily Nebraskan to print only letters that are signed! Period.

However, the letter cannot be ignored because we want to straighten out our policy and activities with not only the writer but any that may share his opinion. First, The Daily Nebraskan does not handle elections. That is the job of the Student Council.

Secondly, if the writer will refer to The Daily Nebraskan of Tuesday, Nov. 16, he will see that all the candidates are listed along with their activities with no preference or prejudice for any single candidate. The reporter who wrote the story has testified to the fact that he made every possible effort to locate and talk personally with every candidate. If he could not reach an individual personally, he talked with their associates or referred to last year's Cornhusker and in one case to a statement printed in The Daily Nebraskan last spring by one of the candidates who was running for an office in the spring elections.

Another statement made was that the names were in small print. We should like to point out that the names were in the regular 8-point type used throughout the paper.

Perhaps we could have printed the platforms and ideas of each candidate, but does a person need a platform to plant ivy on Ivy day? This, after all, is the only duty of the office.

As I Was Saying

BY VAN WESTOVER
One of the most brilliant performances this campus has seen since Sally Rand quit touring on the circuit was staged on the Sigma Nu front porch several nights ago. The lone and star performer was Jim "Nature Boy" Kaasch. Another stark revelation has been demanded by those passing by on the way to an hour dance and by the Kappas who conveniently live just across the street.

Gaines Sees Light
Have you noticed the new pair of rose-colored glasses that Terry Gaines is sporting? While wearing them, all she can see is Jerry Hall. Without them, she can see that she that she shouldn't have made a date for the Military Ball so far in advance.

It's another College Rally Night on the calendar for tomorrow night. The Sig Nus have dived into their fish bowl and drawn Delta Gammas to take to the Gay Night Spot this week. Consequently, 32 Sig Nu-DG twosomes will be on deck. Such couples include Mimi Loomis and Ed Trumble, Jean Hedstrom and Rex Pettijohn, and Sarah Devoe and Jerry Warren. According to the lottery, these same men will date in the Pi Phi house the following week and at present are looking for 32 dates in Arrow territory.

Question of Week
Just out of curiosity, why is it that no one has a date with a Gamma Phi active for Friday night?

At long last the prayers of "Black Jack" Hanson have been answered. To date, this boy has been fighting a losing battle, but now after 20 fruitless attempts, has a date with Polly Ann Rickly for this week-end. Congratulations are definitely in order!

Monotony Continues
Aside from this, nothing unusual seems to be happening... Len Kehl is still ready (?)... Joan "Gizzards" Guilford is still managing to keep all of the men in her life content... J. P. Cullen is still wowing 'em over at the Pi Phi house... Farm House men are still expecting cigars from Al Lamb.

Letterip

Dear Editor:
After reading the letter in Tuesday's Rag which was signed by several fraternity presidents, it occurred to me how confident and secure their brothers must feel having someone around to do their thinking for them.
I'm referring to the Military Ball—and incidentally, it's too bad that some of the girls will be denied the pleasure of displaying their finery there. However, some of the independent men are probably overjoyed at the prospect of less competition in the dating field.

'Ag Haydown' Grabs Weekend Social Spotlight

Highlighting this weekend's activities on Ag Campus will be the Union sponsored "Ag Haydown" Saturday.
A four-star program, the first event will be a hayrack ride beginning at 7:30 p. m., leaving from the steps of the Ag Union. At 8:30 the Ag Union itself will be the center of activity. Upstairs the livelier of the crowd will swing their partners in a good old-fashioned square dance. Music will be furnished by a combo and a caller from 'way back' will beat out the rhythm for the young 'uns.
In the recreation room juke box music will set the mood for the modern dancers. Movies of last year's Farmer's Fair, rodeo will be shown in the Ag lounge.
Tickets are now on sale in the Ag Union lobby at 40 cents each. The affair, sponsored by the general entertainment committee, may be either date or stag.
Chairman of the sponsoring committee is Ivan Liljegren. Other members are William Gibson, Tom Chilvers, Bill DeWulf, Warren Monson, Maurus Biberger, LaVerne Fisher and Marilyn Nuss.

Bachelor Filings
Filings are still open for eligible bachelor candidates. An all campus election will be held to select eight men to be presented as this year's eligible bachelors at the Mortar Board ball. All organized house filings and all independent filings must be sent to Jo Kellenbarger, 1610 O street by Friday.

House Rules and Hobby committee meeting Thursday night at 7:00 in Craft Shop. Please notify Gene Dyer if you cannot be there.
