Cooper Movie Reveals Love Library Story

"Your Library," a movie sponsored by the Cooper Foundation and starring University of Nebraska students was released early this fall.

The color film with sound narration was produced in cooperation with the University Libraries. It briefly describes the building of the Love Library and goes into considerable detail concerning the location of different rooms within the building.

It takes a student from the classroom where he receives his library assignments through the library, describing the methods by which he obtains books from the various reading rooms, the use of reference books and periodicals and the procedure for checking books in and out of the library.

The film has been shown to about 1,600 students in the junior division orientation classes this year. "So far as we can determine it has been received with favor," said Richard Farley, assistant director of libraries.

Future plans are to make the film available to any class or other group in the University. The film will be supplemented in each case by a lecture and discussion by one of the library's subject specialists.

Go-Ahead Given By Weather Man

Students planning to attend the Military Ball and any other social event this week end may breathe a bit easier. The weather man has announced that there will be no precipitation of any consequence until at least Saturday night. This means in all probability that there will be no snow this week end.

Last week many parties were given the cold shoulder by old man winter with snow causing trouble with transportation. This week it looks like clear sailing for the opening of the winter formal season.

Pub Board Filings

Students applying for the sophomore vacancy on the Publications Board should file their applications not later than Friday, Dec. 3. Besides being a sophomore, applicants must have a weighted 75 average.

The Student Council will interview applicants at their next meeting and the vacancy will be filled by a Council election. Filings should be turned in at Room 201 Administration.

Chancellor Praises Work Of Council at Dinner Meet

Cooperation was the keynote of a joint meeting of the Student Council with Chancellor R. G. Gustavson and several other members of the university administration and faculty Tuesday night.

"Cooperation is the answer to our problems," said the Chancellor in his remarks to the Council. "It seems to me that our Student Council is attacking the problems that come before it in a fine spirit of democracy and cooperation."

Harper Lauds Activity

Dean of Student Activities W. C. Harper also commented that the Council was to be complimented on stirring up active interest toward possible improvement. "It seems that the Council accomplishes more per dollar expenditure than any other group," he commented jokingly, with regard to his position of approving all expenditures of campus organizations.

Representation of all students and groups on the campus as a function that should be carried out to a fuller extent was the opinion of Dean of Men T. J. Thompson.

Comments on the present activities of the Council were also made by the other guests at the dinner. These included Dean of Faculties Carl Borgman, Comptroller John K. Selleck and Dean of Women Marjorie Johnston.

Committee Reports Given

Reports by various committee heads of work that has been accomplished by the Council this year were given prior to the speeches by the guests. Reports were made by the committees on the racial discrimination program in the MVAA, scholarship improvements, college week migration, non-profit bookstore and the traffic solution.

Bill Schenck presented Patsy Clark's recommendations for the basketball game procedure and it was moved that they be accepted. A motion was also passed that any members who wished to check ident cards at games would be given the authority of the Council. President Dale Ball announced that a letter stating the view of the Student Council on Military Ball prices would be published in Thursday's Daily Nebraskan.

Pike to Sponsor Sunday Dances

The smooth, danceable orchestra of Don Reed has been lured here by Manager R. H. Pauley of the Turnpike for its initial Sunday night dance, to be held the evening of December 5.

Managers of the Pike feel that the lack of Sunday night entertainment in Lincoln warrants the introduction of Sunday evening dancing.

Reed, whose orchestra has had previous engagements at the Pike, has been at the Hotel Roosevelt in New Orleans. He is a former member of Jan Garber's orchestra.

CORRECTION.

The story concerning canceling of veteran's subsistence allowances which appeared in Tuesday's Daily Nebraskan does not apply to the University of Nebraska, the Veterans Administration announced.

Because the University does not have a vacation between semesters veterans in school at Nebraska do not have to cancel their leave pay.

Clark Suggests Seating Plan to Student Council

Six recommendations for 1948-49 basketball games were presented to the Student Council Wednesday by Patsy Clark, athletic director. Clark felt the suggestions would help insure a seat for every student at games during this season.

All recommendations were approved by the Council and will be put into effect at the first game.

Suggestions

Following are the suggestions submitted by Coach Clark;

1. All students attending the basketball games must present their ident cards with their student athletic books. No student will be admitted who does not present his ident card with his student book.
2. Student athletic books are not transferable. Any student loaning, selling or giving his book to someone else forfeits the ticket rights of that and all such violators will have their books confiscated.
3. Any student questioned must prove his or her identity by presentation of ident card to checker.

4. All students must enter the Coliseum thru any of the front doors. Side doors are for faculty and general admission.
5. Students must extend the correct number of coupon to ticket taker. This will speed up students entering the Coliseum.
6. The Student Council requests that all students give their full co-operation.

Previous Plans

At a previous meeting, several suggestions were drawn up by the Council in accord with A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics. These included the plan of allotting only the south balcony, consisting of 1268 seats, for public sale. Also, approximately 600 seats were to be reserved for faculty seating. All other seats were to be reserved for university students until 15 minutes before game time. At this time, seats left in the student section would be opened to the public.
