

Minnesota Hits Huskers 61-52

By HAROLD ABRAMSON
Sports Editor

Big Jim McIntyre's 30 points was the difference that spelled defeat for Nebraska's cagers as Minnesota pulled a 61-52 victory over the Huskers in the Coliseum last night.

McIntyre, chosen an All-American last year, had a big evening even though he was guarded closely by the Husker's Bus Whitehead and Bob Pierce. The 6-9½ standout basket 13 field goals and dunked 4 for 9 in the free throw department. Whitehead and Pierce watched McIntyre like hawks up to the waning minutes of the game when he called out.

38 Fouls

The hotly contested game saw 38 fouls called by officials, Sam Madden and Hal Eustis.

Myer Skoog, little sophomore forward, was the other point getter for the Gophers, scoring 17 points.

Joe Malacek, who was not supposed to be a big point getter, proved some of the experts wrong, scoring 18 points for Nebraska. Malacek was all over the Coliseum court during rebounds and potting one handers from the side. Claude Retherford who led the Husker offense against Northwest Missouri tallied 11 points.

Start Slow

Both teams got off to a slow start and it wasn't until two minutes had elapsed in the first quarter before Wally Salovich drew first blood with a field goal for Minnesota.

McIntyre was fouled by Whitehead and the big boy swished a gift toss through the nets.

Retherford finally scored for Nebraska with a neat shot from the side. Joe Malacek took his own rebound off the backboard to give Nebraska a 4-3 lead.

Retherford Dunks

Retherford scored one of the trickiest shots of the game, tossing the ball over his shoulder from the side of the basket.

Malacek followed with another two pointer and a tip in of Whitehead's pivot shot. Claude Retherford followed him up taking a perfect pass from Henry Cech to angle one in from the side. Harold Olson fouled Retherford who dunked the three throw to give the Huskers a 13-11 lead—their second and other advantage during the game.

McIntyre steadily increased the score for his teammates as he waited patiently under the Nebraska basket for his helpers to pass the ball to him.

By halftime the Gophers held a still slim 31-27 edge.

Gophers Pull Away

Coming back after the intermission the Gophers pulled away to a 52-39 lead with 10 minutes left to play.

Jim McIntyre was not given any rest except in the last minute of play, and seemed tireless. At one time Big Jim scored five points in a row without blinking the so-called eyelash. He seemed to merely drop the ball through the nets.

The Huskers managed to cut the 13 point lead to nine points as the gun went off, ending the game.

Nebraska scored only 22 out of 70 field goals while Minnesota dunked 25 out of 76. It was the

Six Talent Show Finalists To Appear at Union Dance

Six finalists for the Union Talent Show were announced today by chairman of the event, Al Tully. They are: Henry Pederson—accordionist; Sue Kent—blues singer; John McEvoy—dramatic readings; Jane Simpson and Mary Jane Lamb—double tap dance; Eric Herman—cowboy ballads; Mary Gaines and Neal Atkinson, double piano.

Although it was original planned that only five persons should participate for the final talent prize, the quality of the top six acts prompted the judging committee to extend the number. These winners will make a preliminary appearance at the Union activities committee members banquet tonight at 7 p. m., when the Student Union board entertains all city and ag committee members at a chili supper and dance in the ballroom.

Final judging of the student talent will be made at the Juke Box Fling, 10 p. m., Saturday, Dec. 11. The ballroom is to be set up with tables and other special features of the "dri-nite" club dances, with the acts appearing between dances. Judges will be Union director, Duane E. Lake, a member of the dramatics faculty, and two members of the Talent Bureau sponsoring committee. The three top talent winners will be awarded cash prizes at this free dance and show.

Tonight's Student Activities dinner will serve as a proving grounds for the participants, as well as the annual get-together of Union workers. The event has been planned by the Union Board in order to acquaint members of the committees with each other, and with all the activities being coordinated by students chairmen. Committees will report on plans for the year, and work completed thus far. Chairman of the supper-dance is Bob Easter, sponsor of the general entertainment committee, and chairman of the Activities committee.

Orchesis Plans Dance Concert

Orchesis, modern dance club, will present its annual Christmas dance concert Dec. 14, at 7:30 p. m. in Grant Memorial hall. Unique and colorful interpretations of a variety of traditional Christmas carols will be danced, according to Amy Jo Bergh, president.

Men's dancing group, Orchesis, and Pre-Orchesis will make up the cast of 54 for the event. The first two groups are directed by Aileen Lockhart, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Meshier. Pre-Orchesis is directed by Miss Nell Holliday.

Choruses to Sing Handel's 'Messiah'

Foltz Leads 600 Voices In Christmas Oratorio

The Messiah Handel's intriguing Christmas oratorio, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 12, at 3 p. m. at the Coliseum.

According to Prof. David Foltz who directs the oratorio, 600 vocalists and 100 instrumentalists comprise the cast, which represents nearly every county in the state.

Featured in the presentation are four soloists who represent four Nebraska colleges and universities.

Miss Ganz Directs Music at Hastings

Doris Ruth Ganz, soprano, was a director of vocal music at Mary Hardin Baylor college in Belton, Texas, and also at Hastings college. She gained experience in solo work when she appeared with the Dallas Opera company in the summer of 1944. At present, she works as voice instructor at Nebraska Wesleyan. She is also soloist in Lincoln's First Presbyterian church.

Marion Copp, contralto, has appeared with the Mendelssohn choir, the Toronto symphony, and the Vancouver symphony during her varied and extensive concert career. A native of Canada, she has given several recitals throughout the country, and due to increasing popularity, she appeared in this country. Before coming head of the voice department at Doane, she made a thorough study of concert music abroad.

Cate Instructs Voice

Millard Cate, tenor, is at present a voice instructor at Hastings college. He has studied with Hayes Fuhr at Hastings and headed the music department at Gothenburg in this country. Before becoming army, he continued teaching at Hastings college in 1945. Specializing in solo work, he made appearances in oratorios and festivals at Hastings and North Platte.

Registration Cards Issued To Seniors

Over 2,300 seniors, graduates and special students received their registration cards Monday, according to Dr. Hoover, assistant registrar.

Juniors will be issued cards beginning Tuesday. Each student must show his identification card before he will be issued a ticket. For further identification as to junior or senior standing, Dr. Hoover advises that students bring their credit books, yellow evaluation slip and/or his current registration form. Tickets are being issued at Temporary building B beginning at 8 a. m.

Registration for freshmen and sophomores will be on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Numbers have been divided into three equal groups, so as to give students an equal chance all three days. The procedure for freshmen and sophomores is:

Dec. 8: Those whose names begin with A, B, C, D, E, F, G and H.

Dec. 9: Those whose names begin with I, J, K, L, M, N, O and P.

Dec. 10: Those whose names begin with Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y and Z.

Baking Expert to Demonstrate Holiday Breadmaking Dec. 9

Miss Clarice Bloom will present a baking demonstration for Home Economics students Dec. 9 in the Food and Nutrition building, room 320, at 3 p. m.

Miss Bloom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is now the west central representative of the Wheat Flour Institute at Chicago. The demonstration will feature the making of different kinds of breads with enriched flours. It is especially directed to those students majoring in Foods and Nutrition.

"Now that flour has been enriched with the B-vitamins and the food mineral iron, breads have become our most economical source of these important food substances," said Miss Bloom.

Miss Bloom will first show how to make a basic sweet yeast dough. From this basic dough she will make a poinsettia coffee cake and a Christmas tree coffee cake. "Although these festive coffee cakes may look complicated to a beginning breadmaker, they are really easy to do," she commented.

Two other breads with a holiday air which Miss Bloom will make are cranberry breakfast bread and apple sauce loaf. Then she will make cheese roll-ups, a flaky cheese biscuit. "Hot breads are good and fun to make, something that every girl ought to experience," said Miss Bloom.

KOLN Broadcast to Originate From MB Ball Friday Night

BY JEAN FENSTER

Known as the world's greatest drummer, the King of Cymbals, and Doctor of Tympani, Gene Krupa and his orchestra will furnish the best in dance music at the Mortar Board ball Friday night.

A half-hour of the ace drummer's music will be broadcast by KOLN, Lincoln. Krupa will feature Bill Black, Dolores Hawkins and the Jazz Trio with Charlie Kennedy, the alto sax, and Teddy Napoleon at the piano. The orchestra has played at such outstanding places as the Palladium in Hollywood and the 400 Club in New York.

Photos to Be Taken

A photographer will be available at the ball to take pictures of couples. A booth will be set up at one end of the Coliseum.

Highlighting the dance will be presentation of the eight Eligible Bachelors in an unusual presentation ceremony. The bachelors

Priced at $3

Ball tickets, priced at $3 per couple, are on sale in the Union lobby. They are also being sold by members of Mortar Board and Tassels. Spectator tickets are 50c. Students attending the ball should keep the stub given them by the ticket taker to distinguish them from spectators. Only dancers are to wear formal, according to Lois Gillett, ticket chairman. Tickets will be taken until the end of the dance, admitting no one free, according to Miss Gillett.

GENE KRUPA will beat his famous drums over KOLN Friday night as a portion of his program for the Mortar Board ball. Krupa is acclaimed the world's greatest drummer and will appear at the ball in part of a coast-to-coast tour.
