From the Front Page

BY BRUCE KENNEDY

Senate Republicans challenged the president's power to stop strikes by court orders as democrats and republicans clashed over labor differences Thursday. Senator Taft (rep., O.) stated that such action should be made into a clear law. And such a law, he said, is provided by the Taft-Hartley bill, of which he is co-author. According to President Truman's political campaign, the president Congress is pledged to repeal this bill.

The Lincoln Journal Taft.

Stalin's offer to meet President Truman behind the Iron Curtain to "talk peace" was rejected by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Speaking at a news conference late Wednesday afternoon Acheson charged Stalin with playing international politics with world peace hopes. Acheson believed that since the United Nations is pledged to furthering peace, and because both Russia and the United States are members, there is little need for "traveling half-way around the world" to make a pledge of peace.

Other news from Russia includes the Soviet statement to join the world pact of wheat exporters and importers. Russia will supply about one-fifth of all the wheat exported by other countries in the pact, Canada, Australia and the United States. The amount now exported is around 500 million bushels.

Congress appropriated another $600,000 for the storm region, making the total money voted by Congress to almost one million. President Truman has already made $300,000 available from his emergency fund. The bill was passed by the senate immediately after receiving it from the house.

Jerecki Installed ASAE President

Gene Jerecki is the new president of ASAE since new officers were installed on Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Other officers in the engineering society are: vice-president, Howard Lamb; secretary, Zane Fairchild; and treasurer, Alan McKelvie. Dean Roy M. Green of the Engineering college installed the newly-chosen officials.

Two Chances . . .

This month with both the UNESCO conference and the AUF drive students have a double chance to prove their potentialities as active American citizens, ready to work of peace and the welfare of humanity.

High flung phrases? Perhaps. The skeptics laugh—"What real good will either project accomplish?" Our answer must be as idealistic as the aims of both projects: UNESCO—that peace can be obtained through education, international cooperation and understanding; AUF—that man will realize his duty to assist those who, unlike himself, lack the fortunes to provide a semblance of "the good life."

AUF, this year, means World Service Fund, Community Chest, United Negro College Fund and National Infantile Paralysis campaign. In order to serve these groups AUF, the All University Fund, is asking students to give $2.00, or more, per person.

Americans have become callous to the phrase, "people in Europe are starving"; they have forgotten that this phrase is true. A five minute conversation with any foreign student or a quick reading of reports on universities from central Europe to eastern Asia, will give a pretty clear picture of existing conditions. The picture is, at best, shamefully grim.

By achieving the purposes of UN, UNESCO and numerous other groups working for peace, Wendell Willkie's "one world" will be made a reality instead of a mere phrase. Countries now torn by the conflict between East and West can be brought to accept democracy as the better way only under the leadership of men who know the truth.

Such leadership must come from students. To provide these students with adequate living conditions and proper materials for college training the World Student Service Fund calls on YOU.

It is the responsibility of American students to recognize the vital need of helping students all over the world by giving liberally to the World Student Service Fund through the AUF drive.

Four Delegates To Attend 4-H National Camp

Names of four outstanding state 4-H'ers who will be delegates to the National 4-H camp in Washington, D. C., in June have been announced by the state 4-H committee. They are Norm Jorgensen, Clayton Yeutter, Pat Hanlon and Joan Skucius.

Jorgensen has won a total of 86 blue ribbons through 4-H work and his 1948 steer won top honors at Ak-Sar-Ben.

Yeutter is an animal husbandry major at Ag college. In 1946 he was state health champ and in 1948 won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Pat Hanlon is a student at Ag college. She won the Carey Raymond Gray scholarship for Home Economics achievement.

Joan Skucius is also enrolled at Ag college. In 4-H work she specialized in raising sheep and in 1947 showed a first place sheep at the State Fair.

Cribbing Tricks Told by Shucks

Exposed! The art of cribbing! Though too late for student use this semester, the Corn Shucks third edition of the year hit the stands yesterday with the complete "know-how" on passing final exams.

The campus humor magazine is on sale in the Union lobby from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day this week. Past issues can also be picked up at the Shucks office at the same time.

The magazine sells for 20 cents a copy, or $1 for six issues per year.

All Corn Shucks advertising staff members will meet Wednesday at 5 in the enlarged office. All students interested in this side of the magazine are urged to attend.

The major menaces on the highway are drunken driving, uncontrolled thumbing and indiscriminate spooning. To put it briefly, hick, hike and hug!

YWCA to Offer Three New Commissions at Rendezvous

Jan Nutzman, YW president, has announced that three completely new commission groups will be offered at the second semester rendezvous Friday between 3 and 5 p. m. in Ellen Smith hall.

A commission on beliefs on trial will spend the semester discussing "what we believe and why," according to its leader, Ruth Speer. Members will try to dispense with "inherited" religion and find their own.

JANET KEPNER will lead a group on summer projects. The commission will learn about and discuss such things as Youth Hosteling, summer volunteer work and work-study seminars in Europe.

U. S.-Russian relations will be the topic of the Coed Russian discussion commission. Sue Allen and Rudy Nelson will lead this group of YM and YW members.

Due to the popularity of the knitting-discussion groups, the more proficient knitters may knit in any discussion group and only those who need help in learning to knit should sign up for the knitting-discussion group.

OTHER CHANGES in the programs of the commission groups include leadership of the high school YW groups, Y-teens, by members of the youth leadership commission led by Alice Jo Smith.

Leaders of all commissions will be present at the rendezvous to explain their respective groups. Included in the program will be a talk by Miss Nutzman and a skit between 3:30 and 4:30. Refreshments will be served all afternoon.

Monson Heads Home Ec Club

Five new officers of the Home Ec club will be installed at a meeting Thursday, February 3 at 5 p. m. They are: Gwen Monson, president; Marilyn Boettger, vice-president; Vivian Frasier, secretary; Mary Chace, treasurer; and Janet Ross, historian.

Miss Monson, who has held the office of Home Ec club secretary in the past year, was a delegate to the district Home Ec club conference held at Manhattan, Ks., this fall. She is a member of Tassels, Ag Exec. Board, and 4-H club.

Newly elected vice-president of the club, Marilyn Boettger served as Home Ec club treasurer last year, and attended the National Home Ec club convention at Minneapolis, Minn., last summer. Miss Boettger is social chairman of Ag YWCA, and secretary of the University 4-H club.

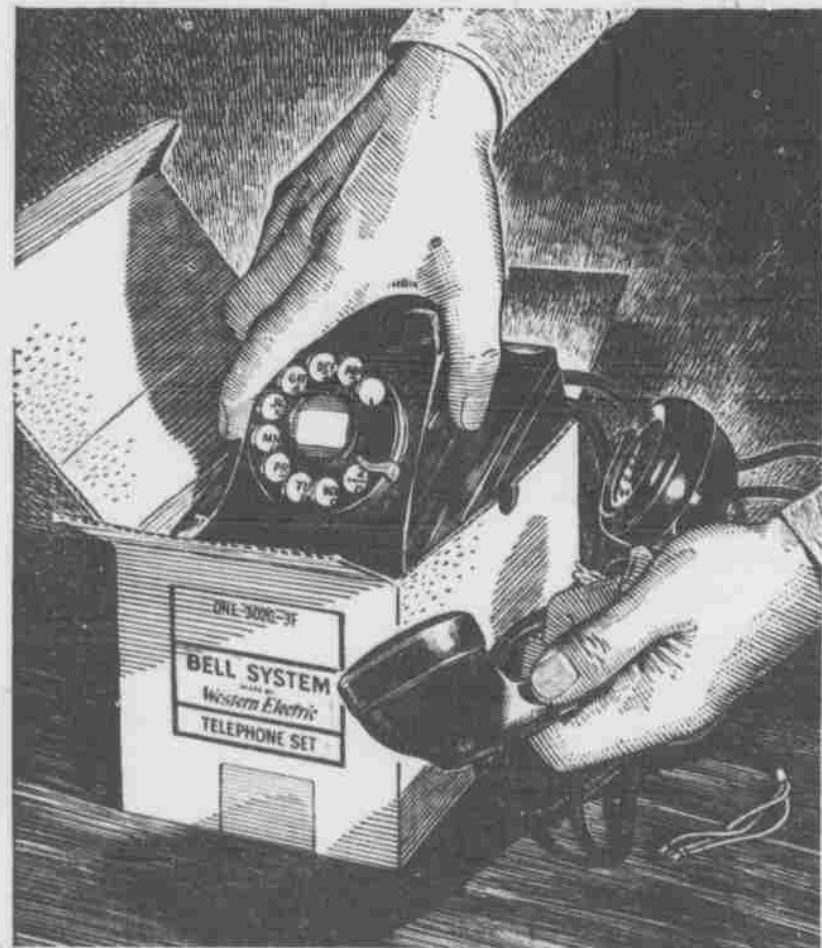

Vivian Frasier, secretary for the coming year, is vice-president of Phi U, and a member of Ag YW. Filling the office of treasurer, Mary Chace is a Tassel, and member of Ag YW. Janet Ross, new historian, is a member of Home Ec club and YWCA.

What makes it worth having?

BY ITSELF, a Bell telephone is useless. What makes it so valuable to you is that it brings the world within easy speaking distance when connected to the Bell System network.

This network has billions of parts. All had to be designed and manufactured to work together for good telephone service.

To assure a dependable source of good equipment that will work together with all other parts of the nation-wide telephone network, Western Electric long ago was made the manufacturing unit of the Bell System.

As members of the Bell System, Western Electric people can work most closely with Bell research people who design equipment and Bell Telephone company people who operate it. Result: You get the most dependable, most valuable telephone service on earth.
