

Stakman to Address Charter Day Convo

Three prominent Americans will help Nebraskans celebrate the eightieth anniversary of the chartering of the University this week.

Dr. E. C. Stakman, president of the American association for the Advancement of Science; Eugene Robb, assistant manager of the Hearst newspapers and Archibald MacLeish, author and former assistant secretary of the Department of State will address University groups.

DR. STAKMAN will speak at a public Charter Day convocation at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Coliseum. His topic will be "Science and Its Sphere of Influence."

Dr. Stakman is president of an organization representing over 40,000 American scientists and is head of the Division of Plant Pathology and Agricultural Botany at the University of Minnesota.

Robb's address will be made before the annual Charter Day dinner of the Lincoln club of the University's Alumni association at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Union ballroom. An honor graduate of the University, Robb is Washington editor of Forbes Magazine.

MR. MACLEISH will address a public convocation at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Coliseum. His topic will be, "UNESCO — An Experiment in Peace." A noted diplomat, MacLeish was a member of the U.S. delegation to the U. N. London conference in 1945 which established UNESCO. His convocation begins a three-day UNESCO "model conference" being staged by students as an educational project in observance of the University's 80th anniversary.

Amikitas Elect Winnie Douglas At Annual Ball

Winfred Douglas, Ag college junior from Palmyra, reigned as Amikita Sweetheart at the traditional Amikita Sweetheart ball Friday night.

Attendants were Jane Barker, Jean Howe, Eunice Jensen, Elaine Lauer and Donna Runty.

Music was furnished by Bobby Mills and his orchestra for the dance held in the College Activities building. In the receiving line were Amikita president, Betty Beckner; the sponsors, Miss Mary Gram and Miss Mary Hosier and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Holstein and Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Lambert Urges Missouri Basin Ag Research

Speaking before the Reclamation association Friday morning, Dean W. V. Lambert of Ag college said that development of the Missouri basin is going to require much additional agricultural research.

Citing specific instances, Dean Lambert said more research was especially needed in these fields: erosion control and keeping water on land; soils and how to use fertilizers; farming systems and wider use of pasture and forage; woodlot management; irrigation and drainage; prevention of salt deposits; prevention of overgrazing of grass lands.

Dean Lambert said the University has always played a big part in reclamation activities. He particularly noted the work of Bessey, Condra, Pool, Burnett, Burr and Weaver.

Alpha Chi Wins Penny Carnival Booth Award

"The Keener the Throw, the Better the Show" won top honors for Alpha Chi Omega at the Penny Carnival Saturday afternoon in Grant Memorial gym. The carnival is an annual affair sponsored by Coed Counselors.

Alpha Omicron Pi's "Showboat" was a second place winner. Kappa Kappa Gamma took third with "Spring Parade."

Four honorable mentions were also given. These went to Kappa Alpha Theta, International House, Towne Club and Gamma Phi Beta. Winning booths were selected by a panel of three judges and a comparison with ticket votes.

Carnival goers were seen leaving the "biggest sell-out in Coed Counselor history" with every type of adornment from roses to diapers.

Chorus girls in fur coats and bathing suits filled the gym and a "hot" band blared forth all afternoon.

Coed Counselors sold hot dogs, cokes and ice cream to the crowd. A panel of three faculty judges chose the winning booths. Winners were announced by Jackie Wightman, Coed Counselor president.

Jr. Aksarben Date Revealed By Hamilton

The dates of the annual Junior Aksarben Livestock show and ball sponsored by the Block and Bridle club has been announced by Bob Hamilton, president. The ball will be held March 25 at the Ag college and the show March 26 at the state fairgrounds.

The show is open to any student enrolled at the University, Hamilton said.

Anyone interested in showing in the beef cattle, sheep, hogs or horse division of the show must register at Animal Husbandry hall within the next week. Dairy cattle showmen should register at the Dairy building sometime this week also.

This contest, stated Hamilton, is concerned with the training and grooming of the animal and is not based on its natural characteristics. All students interested are urged to register and start training their animals immediately.

Bobby Mills' band will furnish music for the ball which will be staged in the College Activities building.

Mortar Boards Offer Women Scholarships

Applications may be made now for Mortar Board scholarship awards to be presented at the annual scholarship tea March 16.

All applications must be filed in the office of the dean of women by March 5, according to Joan Farrar, president of Mortar Board.

Only women students who will have sophomore standing or above by next September are eligible for the scholarships which will be awarded to deserving women students on the basis of scholarship, initiative and definiteness of purpose.

The scholarship was first granted in 1937 for the purpose of aiding graduate students. This continued until 1940 when there was a greater need for undergraduate scholarships. The awards are $75 each and will be presented to six students.

Also to be honored at the scholarship tea will be outstanding senior women. All university women with high scholastic averages will be invited to the tea.

Yearbookies Buy 'Daily' for a Day

A yearbook flavor will run through Tuesday's edition of The Daily Nebraskan. Due to the results of the AUF auction, the Cornhusker staff will move into The Daily Nebraskan office for one day. The Daily Nebraskan staff takes no responsibility for what may happen. For all complaints, see Jerry Johnston, Daily Nebraskan "Queen for a Day."

5. The script is to be written for a musical comedy with an all-male cast.

Lambert, Exec Board Discuss Rodeo Plans

Dean W. V. Lambert met with the Ag Exec board Thursday night for a dinner and general meeting at the Food and Nutrition building guest dining room. The general purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the new dean with the purposes and functions of the Exec board, according to President John Osler.

The problem of having a rodeo with this year's Farmers Fair was presented by Jack Baird, Farmers Fair board representative on the exec group. The opinion of the Farmers Fair board was that a rodeo would not be absolutely necessary if some suitable substitute could be found.

Dean Lambert pointed out the problem of setting up a permanent arena for annual rodeos and the objection of departments at Ag college having to care for rodeo animals during rodeo times. No formal action was taken.

The ISA was given the approval of the board to use the activities building for their Bum's ball March 8, providing the date can be cleared in the dean's office.

Bidders Scramble as Arndt Sells Beauties, Bachelors

Going, going, gone to the student body, $241 worth of faculty services for the benefit of AUF.

Dr. Karl Arndt, Biz Ad Prof, auctioned off faculty members, Beauty Queens and Eligible Bachelors Friday afternoon in the Union ballroom.

Marilyn Weber '49 Sweetheart Of Fraternities

The 1949 Interfraternity Sweetheart, revealed at the Interfraternity ball Saturday night, is Marilyn Weber.

The Gamma Phi Beta sophomore was chosen by door vote of ticket buyers at the dance. She was selected from six finalists announced Friday by the Interfraternity Council.

MISS WEBER WAS introduced at the ball by Walt Dorothy, council president. She was presented with a bouquet of roses by Dorothy.

The six finalists were chosen Wednesday evening by the executive council of the Interfraternity Council. They were chosen on a basis of appearance, personality, poise and beauty.

THE FINALISTS WERE, in addition to Miss Weber, Donna Leuber, Alpha Omicron Pi; Mary Sue Holland, Delta Gamma; Olive Gettman, Alpha Chi Omega; Amy Jo Bergh, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Nancy Sayre, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The ball was a semi-formal affair with music by Eddie Haddad. Refreshments were served in the parlors of the Union, where the dance was held.

Decorations for the ball were the emblems of all campus fraternities. They were placed about the ballroom for the lighting effect.

'Meet the Prof' To Interview Dean Bengtson

Dean Bengtson, head of the Junior Division and former head of the Geography department, will be the featured visitor on the "Meet the Professor" program aired every Monday at 4:30 p.m. on KOLN.

Known to many students because of his great interest and work in regard to students and their problems, Dean Bengtson will tell of many changes that have taken place on the campus since he was an undergraduate. Names of great Nebraska educators will also be heard as the Junior Division director speaks of Burnett, Avery, Barbour and Condra, telling of their contributions to the University.

Sigma Tau Holds Dinner Meeting

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary fraternity, held a dinner meeting in the Union Thursday to initiate Fred Klietsch into the organization as an alumni member. Mr. Klietsch, state highway engineer, has distinguished himself as an outstanding member of the profession.

In the business meeting plans were formulated for a dinner dance to be held at Cotner Terrace March 11. Committee assignments for the present semester were also announced. Approximately 75 members were present at the meeting.

AUF

The AUF drive will be continued until Feb. 18 to give solicitors time to contact all the persons on their lists, Peggie Lawrie, director, announced today.

THE FIRST commodity on the block was a luncheon with Miss Mary Meilenz, Teachers college. Arndt added a steak dinner with beer and sold it to Chuck Dugan for $2.

Journalism instructor Neal Cople offered a personally cooked Spanish meal complete with "sensen and ulcers," according to Arndt. Another journalism prof, William Hice, sold his services "completely unspecified" to Pi Beta Phi. Pi Phi also carried off Dr. Curtis Elliot and Instructor Joe Harmon for "one full day of work."

INNOCENTS society, whose services were offered in a group, will make some 1300 beds in the women's dorm. Mortar Board was purchased by Farm House.

The Daily Nebraskan was sold for $35, the highest price paid at the auction, after heated bidding by the editors of Cornhusker and Cornshucks. Cornshucks made the purchase. Cornhusker then offered a free copy of the 1949 yearbook which was sold to Jerry Johnston, editor, for $6.25. Cornshucks followed suit, with the offer of a full-page spread for the highest bidder.

BEAUTY QUEEN finalists Bev Dietl, Nancy Sayre, Laverna Acker, Jody Truhlsen, Pat Berge, Cherie Viele and Jo Noble offered "one reasonable, standard style date" with themselves. The auctioneer stepped off the block to bid and get the date with Miss Truhlsen.

Eligible Bachelors Rex Pettijohn, Ted "with orchids" Gunderson, Bob Ackerman, Ed Donegan, Bill Mueller, Bob Axtell and Jack De Wulf offered dates with "romance, passion."

The last victim of the block was Dr. Arndt who volunteered his services for one day of "easy, pleasant, relaxing work." Chi Omega won with auctioneer.

Flynn Elected Varsity Dairy Club President

W. Eugene Flynn was elected president of the Varsity Dairy club at their election Thursday night, according to William Tripp, publicity chairman.

The election, under the supervision of retiring president Glenn Claybaugh, was held following the combined meeting of the animal science clubs.

Other new officers were Lloyd Fortna, vice-president; Bill Steinkruger, secretary-treasurer and William Tripp, publicity chairman.

The Dairy club also initiated two new men Thursday night. The new members are Charles Broughton and Hans Little. Dr. L. K. Crow is faculty advisor of the club.

New State 4-H Head Honored

E. W. Janike, new state 4-H club leader succeeding the late L. I. Frisbie, was honored Thursday night at a testimonial dinner in Omaha. The dinner, sponsored by the Omaha Livestock exchange of which Janike was formerly secretary, was attended by 250 of his friends and co-workers on the Omaha market.

A. D. Majors of the exchange termed Janike a "great teacher and leader" of boys and girls. He spoke highly of his services to the livestock industry and said Janike would be missed on the Omaha exchange.

Janike has been working at Ag college the past week and after winding up some business in Washington, D. C., this week, will report back on Feb. 21. His family will move to Lincoln when he finds suitable housing.
