

NU Symphony Orchestra Plans Concerts in Omaha

The 70-piece University Symphony orchestra, directed by Emanuel Wishnow, will give three concerts in Omaha on Thursday, playing for several thousand high school students during the day and for the public in the evening.

Its appearance is sponsored by the Omaha Alumni Club of the University. Proceeds will go to purchase eye research equipment for the College of Medicine. The concerts are in connection with the observance of the 80th anniversary of the chartering of the University.

GLINKA'S OVERTURE to "Russlan and Ludmilla" will open a varied program of symphonic music. This brilliantly orchestrated piece was inspired by Pushkin's poem of the same title and serves as a prelude to Glinka's opera.

The "Soirees Musicales" are arrangements by Benjamin Britten, after five short pieces by Rossini. Another group of five numbers forms the "Capriccio Espagnol" of Rimsky-Korsakov. The work has many solos and cadenzas for violin, flute, clarinet, harp, cello and English horn.

Differing considerably from other program numbers is the orchestral intermezzo, "The Walk to the Paradise Garden," by the English impressionist, Debussy. The work is from his opera, "A Village Romeo and Juliet."

DON GILLIS'S "Short Overture to an Unwritten Opera" is an orchestral novelty piece, written in the popular style.

The orchestra has received high praise from musicians who have played engagements with it. "One of the best college orchestras in the United States" was violinist Tossy Spivakovsky's description after he had been soloist with the group last year. Dimitry Markevitch, guest cellist at a concert last fall, said he was "pleasantly surprised to discover a university orchestra here in the heart of America capable of such mature and excellent musicianship."

Dr. W. H. S. Morton, head of the secondary education department of the University, will speak at intermission in the evening concert on "The University of Nebraska Yesterday and Today."

Men's Activity Restrictions Announced by Point Board

Grades Will Be Significant Under Revised Point System

Industrious activity men may have to change their course with the complete revision of the men's point system announced today by Norm Leger, chairman of the Men's Point Board. The new system will go into effect immediately.

Scholastic requirements are the major change from old point systems. Grade scales, along with the number

Phi U Candle Ball Planned At Ag Friday

All students are invited to the annual Phi U Candle Ball Friday night, stated Phyllis Ross, president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, sponsors of the dance.

To be held from 9 to 12 in the Student Activities building ballroom on Ag campus, the Candle Ball will feature the music of Bobby Mills and his orchestra. Coming from Omaha, Mills has appeared at several Ag dances and has been received with enthusiasm by students.

THE CANDLE BALL is the only all-university dance that is sponsored by an honorary. Phi Upsilon Omicron is a national home economics honorary for students in the upper 10 percent of their class, including sophomore, junior and senior classes.

The candle theme will be carried out in all decorations for the dance and will provide a "different" atmosphere, said Miss Ross. Refreshments will be served and an intermission program has been planned.

Tickets are now on sale from all Phi U members for $1.80 a couple. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

SENIOR MEN WITH averages over 90 will have no restriction on activity points. Following is the new system involving weighted scholastic averages:

- 80-90—Seniors, 50 points
- Juniors, 40 points
- Sophomores, 30 points
- Freshmen, 20 points
- 70-80—Seniors, 40 points
- Juniors, 30 points
- Sophomores, 20 points
- Freshmen, 10 points

Under 70—No activity points allowed.

Letters will be sent to organized houses informing them of the new point system and requesting that they send a list of their activity men and their activities to the Point Board within a week. A letter will also be sent to all campus activities asking for a list of men workers and members. These letters should also be returned to the Point Board within a week's time.

Forum Planned In Observance Of Brotherhood

"Minority Group Contributions to Culture" will be the topic of a forum held as the University's observance of Brotherhood week. The discussion will be held Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. in the Love library auditorium.

After the panel discussion, the forum will be opened for discussion from the floor. John White, president of the University chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will act as moderator.

Members of the panel will be: Rabbi Joel Zion of the Temple Emanuel in Denver; Willard Gaeddert, physics instructor; Joseph Ishikawa, curator of the University art galleries, and Gerhard Krebs, visiting professor of political science.

The panel is sponsored by the YMCA, Campus chapter of the NAACP and the University Hillel Foundation. Brotherhood week is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

German Story Dramatized on KOLN Matinee

The first English version of the writing of Viola Drath, a successful German writer, will be produced on Playwright's Matinee at 4:30 this afternoon over KOLN.

"Back the Winner" was published in short story form in a Prague, Czechoslovakia, magazine in 1943. The adaptation for the radio section of the speech department was done by Mrs. Drath, now a graduate student at the University.

Mrs. Drath, a graduate of the Academy of Arts at Leipzig, Germany, has spent most of her life in Berlin. Two of her plays, "Farewell, Isabel" and "No Reliance Upon a Woman," have been performed many times in Germany.

During the war Mrs. Drath worked in the German movie industry and wrote "Come Back to Me" and "Tonelli." "Tonelli" was filmed in Rome and she went to Italy to help in the direction.

No artist was asked to join the Nazi party or compelled to work in factories during the war, she said. Goebbels was chiefly responsible for protecting them.

After the war she became a journalist for the U. S. Military government and later married an American army officer. Her husband was for a time an English instructor at the University and is now a selective service officer.

Thanks, Dr. Hewes
THE DAILY NEBRASKAN wishes to thank Dr. Leslie Hewes of the University department of geography for submitting the Phillip Frandson letter for publication. The letter appeared Friday, Feb. 18, and told of the former student's experience with Russian terror.

Young Democrats Prepare for '49

"Deadline For Action," a 40-minute film showing the need for political activity by the average citizen, will be presented by the University Young Democrats Thursday at 7:15 p. m. in room 316 of the Union, according to President D. E. Morrow.

Students wishing to join the group are asked to attend the meeting.

James Kopetka, YD membership chairman, said that 1949 membership cards will be distributed to present members during the meeting.

New Name Contest Entries Due Midnight Thursday

Midnight Thursday is the deadline for entries in the Student Foundation New Name contest.

The five judges will consider all name suggestions submitted prior to that time at the Foundation office, 308 Union, or in ballot boxes in the Union and Library.

The judges are: Genevieve Mitchell, Foundation president; Miss Mary Mielenz, faculty sponsor; Ellsworth DuTeau, local businessman and one-time alumni secretary; Eugene Berg, board member, and Nancy Porter, Foundation worker.

THEY WILL ATTEMPT to find a name suitable for the campus service organization.

According to Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, registrar and director of admissions, the Student Foundation is to be commended for deciding to change the name that was so often confused with the University Foundation.

George S. Round, director of public relations, commented today that the Foundation "has and is serving a valuable place in University life. It has already paid great dividends to the school, the state and the students."

"It is to be hoped that some student will come up with a suitable name to replace Student Foundation—and that the student organization will continue its important work in the future under the new name," Round concluded.

Applications Due For British Study

Any Nebraska student wishing to attend summer school in a British university must have his application on file in the office of the Institute of International Education by March 1, according to the registrar's office.

The British consulate has told Dr. G. W. Rosenlof that the closing date is March 1, and students desiring to attend summer schools in Great Britain should contact the Institute of International Education immediately. Their address is: 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, New York.
