

Dean of English University Will Address Convo at Ag

Students will have an opportunity to hear one of the world's top agricultural authorities Wednesday, March 9 at 10:20 a. m. in the Ag Union.

He is Harold "Jim" Sanders, dean of the faculty of agriculture, horticulture and dairying at Reading University, England. All classes on Ag campus will be dismissed for this all-University convocation.

Dean Sanders operates the University's 400-acre farm with its 60 cows and pedigreed herd of hogs, and also the University experimental poultry farm. He is currently on a two-month tour of the United States studying agricultural methods in this country.

IN 1944, Dean Sanders became professor of agriculture at Reading University. He is now a member of the Berkshire agriculture executive committee and chairman of the scheme to train war veterans for the land.

Author of two books, "An Outline of British Crop Husbandry," and "Farms in Britain," he has frequently addressed large radio audiences in Britain on agricultural subjects. Sanders claims that 90 percent of the 300,000 farmers in Britain are very well informed, and are good farmers.

Professor Sanders belongs to a family who have farmed land near Wellingborough, England, for a thousand years. He is married and has two children. One daughter is in the WRENS, British equivalent to the WAVES.

Harold Sanders

Black Names Cast for Next Theatre Show

Leads in the comedy, "But Not Goodbye," next University Theatre production, have been cast.

Director Robert Black announced that Mary Sigler will play Amy; Edwin Weisenreder, Sam Griggs; and Clare Denton, Benjamin Griggs.

The Edward Seaton play has "a light-hearted disrespect for the conventional approach toward ghosts in the hereafter," said Black. "Several farcical situations combined with a rather wholesome attitude toward death are interwoven through the theme of the plot."

Remainder of the cast is as follows: Jennifer, Ann Proper; Jimmie, Jim Fafeta; Howard, Ced Hartman; Tom Carter, Mike Shanahan; Dr. Wilson, Bill Klamm; Uncle Ralph, Dean Wells; and Reverend Pritchard, Eddie McCullough.

Fine Arts Trio Will Present Spring Recital

The Fine Arts Trio, of which Prof. Emanuel Wisnow is a member, will play a program of classical and modern chamber music at 8 p.m. on March 17 in Love library auditorium.

The trio's appearance for the annual spring concert is jointly sponsored by the Union activities committee and the Friends of Chamber music, a newly formed society of music lovers. It will offer musical fare a little different from the solo instrument of symphony type.

Other members of the trio are Rosemary Howell, cellist, and Gladys May, pianist. The trio is part of a series which has played at Joslyn Memorial in Omaha during the current season.

Since only a small number of tickets will be available, they will be given out on a "first come, first served" basis at the Union, beginning March 7.

Chancellor Names Personnel Group

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson has announced the establishment of a University Personnel Advisory committee to act in an advisory capacity on policies, regulations and interpretations affecting non-academic employees of the University.

Members of the committee are Dr. C. M. Elliott, associate professor of economics and insurance, chairman; R. M. Bourne, instructor of economics; Elton Lux, extension agriculturist and administrative assistant to the director of the University extension service; Frank Lundy, director of University libraries; Norman Thorpe, assistant director of the University extension division; John K. Selleck, business manager, and James Carr, jr., fiscal and personnel officer of the University hospital. Dorothy Robbins, director of personnel, is a member ex-officio.

Coeds May Apply For Scholarship

Saturday, March 12 is the last day for women students to make application for the 100-dollar scholarship offered by the Lincoln branch of the American Association of University Women.

Application is open to women who will be sophomores, junior or seniors next year. When applicants get their blanks from the office of the dean of women they should make appointments for personal interviews to be held at Ellen Smith hall Friday afternoon, March 18.

Members of the scholarship committee are Miss Mary Guthrie of the Ag college faculty, Miss Belle Farman, Lincoln high school, Dean Marjorie Johnston, Mrs. Roland F. Mueller and Mrs. William Paul Barnds, chairman to whom applications are to be mailed at 2325 So. 24th street.

NU Coed Seeks Blossom Crown

Vanita Brown, University freshman, has been chosen Princess Nebraska to compete for the title of Queen of the Cherry Blossom festival. The annual festival is held in Washington, D. C., around April 1, when the famed Japanese cherry trees are in bloom.

Miss Brown, who is a Nebraska Beauty Queen, was chosen in Omaha Feb. 27 by a committee of three judges from Omaha. Representing Lincoln, she competed against candidates from a number of Nebraska communities. The local contest was sponsored by the Nebraska Ballroom association.

In Washington, princesses from 48 states will take part in the Cherry Blossom festival. The Queen of the festival will be chosen by the spinning of a wheel on which will be the name of each state.

Pasteur, Tapestry Subject of Films

The Pasteur Institute and famous tapestries are the subjects of two French films which will be shown Monday at 5 p. m. in the Love library auditorium.

The movies are entitled "L'Institut Pasteur" and "Tapisseries d'Aubusson." Each film will last 20 minutes.

There will be no charge for admission. These movies are sponsored by the department of modern languages and the bureau of audio-visual aids.

Presbyterian Student House Presents Activity Program

Ed. note: This is the first in a series of articles on campus religious organizations to be run in the Daily Nebraskan.

Looking for Bible study? Sunday speakers? Intramural athletics? Music study periods? Impromptu picnics?

University Presbyterian students find these and other activities centered around "Presby" house in one week.

"Our biggest project, though, is just people who come over during the day to study and meet their friends," says Rex Knowles, Presbyterian student pastor.

"ONE OF the most unique programs at 'Presby' house is the 'pastor's' dinner held every Monday night. Under this plan Rev. Mr. Knowles invites a Presbyterian pastor from a different Nebraska community each week to come to dinner at Presby house. He also invites students at the University from the pastor's community.

"In this way outstate pastors get to know their University student house and the students become better acquainted with our activities," Knowles explains.

Informality is stressed in all "Presby" activities. Says Knowles, "We don't have a set program of social events, but we do have a standing 'party' after every University athletic event. Sunday evenings, we have a supper at the house, prepared by different students each week. The supper is followed by a speaker and then a discussion period.

ANOTHER standing event is the Thursday evening, 7 to 9 p. m. music study. Each week a different student plans a program of classical music and explains the record before it is played.

"What it amounts to is a study of music and school work at the same time," Rev. Mr. Knowles says.

One of the most popular programs is the Bible study which is held on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 6:30 to 8 a. m. Students who come at 6:30 prepare their breakfast in the "Presby" kitchen and at 7 a. m. the Bible study begins.

"We have about 25 different students each morning," Rev. Mr. Knowles says. "The emphasis is slightly different each morning, with discussion and searching for a 'personal religion' on Wednesday, and on Monday the regular Bible study."

Alpha Kappa Psi Pledges Sixteen

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, held its first pledging of the semester recently.

After the ceremony, a short address was given by James Pettinger, administrative assistant to Gov. Peterson. He spoke on "State Government as Seen From an Administrator's Desk." Pettinger stressed the necessity for Nebraskans to take more interest in the operation of their government.

Those pledged were Curtis Vennell, Robert Blobaum, Joseph Blumel, Thomas Gorham, Lloyd Knapp, William Kruger, Paul

UNION CALENDAR

Friday: Junior Senior Prom, 8:30, Coliseum.

Saturday: Living Pictures Rehearsal, 1-5, Ballroom. (Open to students.)

Sunday: Coffee Hour, 5-6, Lounge. No movie this week.

Tuesday: Siesta Film, 4:00, Lounge. Coke dance, 4:30, Ballroom. Craft Shop, 7:00, Basement.

Wednesday: Square Dancing, 7:30, Ballroom.

Lieneman, Wesley Lueth, Leon Novak, Donald Ostermiller, John Pfann, Max Redelfs, Milton Shuey, Kenneth Templin, Elmer Wenz and Glenn Wiar.

AT MILLER'S

Sun and Sea Favorites

by

- Jantzen
- Catalina
- Rose Marie Reid

Seal-sleek and designed for swimming are the bright little suits in our new collection. They're nylon, classic satin stripe, sharkskin and satin puckerette . . . many, many styles to choose from.

$10 to 17⁹⁵

SPORTSWEAR . . . SECOND FLOOR

MILLER & PAINE

Dairymen To Get Aid In Oleo Fight

Protection for dairy interests in the present oleo-butter scrap in Washington was promised by general manager of the American Dairy association, at Ag college Friday.

Richards was speaking at the closing session of the annual dairy industry conference held at Ag March 2-4.

The 5,000,000 dairy farmers in the nation and the dairy industry, he said, are in "complete agreement" that taxes should be lifted on oleomargarine. But, he declared, the public should be protected against possibilities of fraud by safeguarding the natural color of butter.

U. of N.M. Acts On Discrimination

"No new fraternity with a discriminatory clause in its constitution will be allowed on the University of New Mexico campus."

This statement was made by Howard V. Mathany, dean of men at New Mexico, after an undisclosed national fraternity recently asked permission to colonize. The fraternity was turned down on these grounds.

New Location
HAROLD'S
BARBER SHOP

223 No. 14th St. Phone 2-7732

Formerly of the National Bank of Commerce
Barber Shop

Special!

WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARIES

FORMERLY 5⁰⁰ NOW ONLY 2⁹⁸

REGENTS BOOKSTORE