Party, Party . . .

Minimizing the chances for any further criticism, the Student Council is letting no grass grow under its feet. Seeing the need for a system of political parties on the campus, the Council is taking steps to encourage development of such a system. The Council itself can not form the parties; the parties must be the result of planning and effort on the part of students interested in student government.

Tonight a meeting is being held in the Union for the purpose of "explaining the provisions of the Student Council constitution pertaining to the formation of new political parties on campus."

Students who have complained about the election of Student Council members and who are seeking a system whereby candidates may be nominated and elected as democratically as possible, should take heed of this meeting. It is an opportunity to find out the major and minor points of the Council's constitution. Whoever makes use of this opportunity will be in a good position to start the wheels rolling in the formation of a student political party.

Once the campus returns to a system of political parties—real parties which are organized on an active nine month plan instead of on a six-weeks-before-election basis—there should be some chance for students to get a taste of what political life is like before they are confronted with it as responsible and voting citizens of the U.S.

Meet The Council

The college of Agriculture sends three representatives to the Student Council. Council representatives automatically become members of the Ag Exec Board, student governing body for Ag campus. Jack De Wulf and Lloyd Wirth are two of the three Council members.

Both of these men are members of the committee which is investigating the possible use of University owned buses between Ag and city campuses. The committee will try to discover if there is a need for such a bus system. At present Ag classes begin 20 minutes after city classes to allow time for students to travel between the two campuses.

Dr. Wulf.

Committee members are interviewing faculty and students at Ag to determine the advisability of such a bus line.

Jack De Wulf is a member of Corn Cobs, Alpha Zeta, Block and Bridle, Tri-K, Farmers' Fair Board, Ag Exec Board and Farm House.

Lloyd Wirth belongs to Tri-K, Block and Bridle, Alpha Zeta, Ag Exec Board and Alpha Gamma Rho.

Ag Tree Orders Top Million Mark

Extension Forester Earl G. Maxwell of Ag college is planning to send out "well over" a million trees for farm planting this spring under the Clarke-McNary program.

"The storm and blizzard certainly proved the value of windbreaks and shelterbelts and this year should be a good one for spring planting," said Maxwell.

The Clarke-McNary trees are distributed annually by the Agricultural Extension service in Nebraska. Farmers and ranchers pay a slight charge for shipping and packing the trees.

Appropriation Includes Raise For Employees

In proposing a 20 per cent increase in its operating budget, the University has determined how this additional money will be spent.

Since University salaries and wages have lagged behind the cost of living, one-fourth of the increase will be used for pay raises. Six per cent of the increase is needed for part-time teaching and research employees. Of these funds to be used for salaries, 55 per cent will be used in teaching, 25 per cent in research and 20 per cent in public services.

HIGH PRICES have been given as the principal reason for the 30 per cent share for equipment supplies and operating costs. Of this amount, 35 per cent will go for teaching, 35 per cent for research and 30 per cent for public services.

Seventeen per cent of the increase will make up for veteran tuition losses. Ninety per cent of this money will be used for teaching, and the other 10 per cent will go for research.

TWENTY-TWO per cent of the increase will be used to hire 139 new employees. These employees are mainly replacements. About 50 of these people will be hired to adequately staff two public service agencies, Agricultural extension and the University hospital. Fifteen will be pure research personnel for the Agricultural experiment station, and 30 will be research-teaching people in engineering and the basic sciences.

Baldwin Alters Minor Requisites

Students at Mary Baldwin college (Staunton, Va.) will no longer need an 18 hour minor to accompany their major.

Under a new system an area of concentration will be used instead. The major consists of from 24 to 32 hours in one field, plus supporting courses to make a total of 39 to 45 hours of concentration.

An English major, for example, would require 30 hours. Supporting courses for the field of concentration would include 12 hours chosen from specified courses in such fields as art, astronomy, Bible, education, French, history, journalism, music, philosophy and speech.

BY BRUCE KENNEDY

NATURE again went on the rampage this week-end and again it was a case of too much precipitation. But instead of mountains of snow blocking roads, isolating farms and towns, it was flooding waters that raised havoc.

The Missouri, Blue and the Elkhorn rivers flooded their banks. Dikes could not hold the rising waters and hundreds of families were left homeless.

Towns through-out Iowa and Nebraska were surrounded by water. Many lower towns were completely flooded. Trains and other transportation had to be rerouted because of the rising waters.

PRESIDENT Truman was charged by senate Republicans trying to put them on the political spot. This accusation came after the president advocated a majority limit on debate. Anticipating a southern filibuster on his civil rights program, Truman needed Republican support to pass the debate limit. But now the republicans think the president is forcing them into bad political position.

SENATOR Mundt introduced a bill that would curb Communist activities Monday. He charged the United Nations with hiring Americans that were fired by the state department. The Senator from South Dakota believed that United Nation employees should first be screened by the State department.

Students Get Special Prices For 'Hamlet'

For the price of one dollar, University students have the opportunity to view one of the most highly rated movies of the decade, Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

The British film, produced and directed by Laurence Olivier, is being shown at the Nebraska Theatre, Tuesday, March 8 to Tuesday, March 15. Olivier also plays the title role.

The special student seats, reserved in the best section of the theatre, will apply only to matinee performances.

The tickets will be on sale at the University Theater box-office. They will be good only on weekday matinees. The tickets will not be sold for Saturday and Sunday afternoons. All matinee performances will begin at 2:30 p. m.

Director Dallas Williams of the University Theatre highly praised the film on its all-around brilliance. Stated Dr. Williams, "I can't see how any student can afford to miss 'Hamlet.' The supporting cast is wonderful and Olivier does a marvelous job in his interpretation of the role of Hamlet. The filming technique offers brilliant new effects to the conventional type of photography. It is without a doubt the finest British movie that I have ever seen."
