

Reds Lead Whites 27-18 In Freshman Track Meet

Action in the inter-squad Freshman track meet began Tuesday night in the indoor track under the East stadium.

The Red team is leading midway in the meet with a 27-18 margin over the White team. Five events were held Tuesday and the remainder will be run tonight.

The Frosh posted good marks in all the events and Coach Ed Weir was quite pleased with the results. Many of the boys have not had sufficient practice due to the late basketball season.

Alexander of the Red team ran a terrific race in the 60 yard dash. He just nosed out teammate Bill Baker and Eldon Seyler in the fast time of :06.4. This time is especially good since they had just finished a preliminary race prior to the running of the finals.

In the 880 yard run another fine time was turned in by the Whites' Jacobs. He put on a fighting finish to break the tape just ahead of Moore of the Red team. Jacobs broke into the lead at the start and then lost it to Moore on the second lap. Moore held the lead up to the last 220 when Jacobs put on a tremendous burst of speed in the sprint. Robinson ran a good third. The winning time was 2:01.7.

Bedker of the Reds nosed out the Whites' Cole in a thrilling 60 yard high hurdles race with the time of :08.0. Engle of the Whites turned in a strong third place effort. This is Beder's best time of the season and is one of the few times he has beaten Cole this year.

The results of this meet are also being sent to Iowa State to be compiled in competition with the Cyclone Frosh in a postal meet. Shorter hurdle races and sprints will also be run for the postal meet with Iowa State.

Faculty Upholds Contest Decision

The "All-American Freshman" contest refusal was appealed.

Wednesday, Paul Weltchek and Louise McDill presented the Student Council's case to the Faculty Committee on Student Organizations and Social Functions in regard to the six given on the Twentieth Century-Fox freshman contest.

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN had presented a protest of this action at the last Council meeting. Weltchek made the motion that the Council appeal the action.

According to Weltchek's report to the Council Wednesday concerning the appeal, made the committee still held that the contest would be detrimental to the university and its dignity. The decision was not changed.

Cage Tourney Hinges on Big Seven Finish

Nebraska basketballers may compete in a playoff to decide the District 5 representative in the N.C.A.A. tournament March 18 and 19.

The Big Seven representative will meet Oklahoma A. & M. Wednesday night at 8 p. m. in the Kansas City Municipal auditorium. The team to meet the Aggies will depend upon the outcome of the Oklahoma-Colorado game at Norman Saturday night.

Should Colorado upset the Sooners, Nebraska, would meet the Aggies Wednesday night as Big Seven champs. If the Huskers and Sooners finish in a tie for the title, the two teams will meet Monday at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY officials have assured Husker followers choice seats at the game or games in which Nebraska plays. Tickets A special section will be reserved on the west side for NU rooters. Tickets will be on sale at the Coliseum at $1 and $2.

Nebraska clinched their share of the crown at Missouri Monday night. The team played heads up ball against the Tigers. Coach Good expressed the opinion that a calibre of ball similar to that played at Missouri at the Coliseum. Particularly pleasing was the play of Bob Cerv and Anton Lawry.

CERV, PLAYING even though he was not feeling up to par, scored 13 points and Lawry hit for 12. Bob refused to be taken out of the ball game, showing the spirit and courage prevalent on the Husker squad which came back, after disappointing early season, to win the conference championship.

Following the Missouri win, the team was polled to decide whether they would rather meet Oklahoma in the playoffs or let the loop representative be decided by vote. The players voted unanimously to play the Sooners, confident that they can dump the Oklahomans.

All N Club officers are requested to meet Monday noon in room X-Y-Z of the Union for Cornhusker pictures. There will also be an N Club luncheon at the same time for all members.

Comedian Bob Moss, scrappy little DU fighter, scores with a left jab on Ray Roth. Moss went on to cop the decision over Roth, defending champion of last year.

Betas, Kappa Sigs Cop IM Matches

Beta Theta Pi took a step towards the League III championship in badminton Tuesday night with a 9-0 slam over the Delta Chi's. The Beta's took seven of the games handily, but had to fight off two determined Delta Chi's in the others which saw very close scores.

The Kappa Sigs also started off with a winning stride with a 7-2 victory over Sigma Alpha Mu. The Kappa Sigs led in all nine games at one time, but failed to save two from the smashes of the Sammies.

In Independent play, the team of Nelson-Smith took a 2-1 decision over the team of Crook-Reinsch.

ASME Students To Read Papers

A meeting of the ASME will be held Wednesday, March 16, in 206 Richards lab at 7:15 p. m.

Student papers will be read by the following: "Development of the Diesel Injection," Richard VanKerrebrouk; "The Small Car with the Big Ride," Daniel T Newman, and "The Dynaflo Transmission," Matt Russell.

Fundamentals Still Stressed In Workouts

Fundamentals, Fundamentals, Fundamentals. That was the order of the day for the Husker gridgers served up by Coach Bill Glassford, as the footballers went through their third day of spring training.

Speed and quickness are the main points stressed by Coach Glassford and his assistants. The workouts are setup with this objective in mind.

Wednesday's workout started with a period of hard calisthenics and then the different positions separated into their units for drill. The blocking sled came in for plenty of use as all men were sent through blocking and charging drills.

Although the wind was cold, a brisk passing drill was gone through. Kenny Fisher handled the throwing chores for one group, throwing some nice bullet passes despite cold hands while Del Weigand tossed for the other section.

Spring practice will continue throughout the bad weather, Coach Glassford stated. The field is soggy from the last snow, but is expected to be dry in a few days, barring further bad conditions.

All men not on the list for spring ball are asked to see Coach Glassford in his office and arrange for working out.

She: "There are a lot of couples who don't pet in parked cars." He: "Yes, the woods are full of them."

"I got up this morning determined to show my wife who's boss in our house." "What happened?" "I made my own breakfast."
